DOORS OPEN AT PARLEY

Publicity May Aid Progress

Plenary Session Tomorrow Will Have Seventy-eight Reporters Present

Franco-Italian Strife Will be Aired, With Agreement Prospect Brighter

LONDON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Moving slowly but surely the five-power naval conference tonight appears to be nearing the real business of naval disarmament.

After the next plenary session at St. James' Palace, Thursday, Secretary of State Stimson hopes to be able to call into action against the intricate problems of the conference the American delegation's shock troops of experts and advisers, who have been marking time since the conference began last Tuesday.

Seventy-eight newspaper men of all nations, including twelve American, will file into Queen Anne's drawing-room for the meeting, where the Franco-Italian differences will be thoroughly aired in the open. General summaries and interpretations of the work the conference has done will be furnished as an indication of progress to readers all over the world.

THREE ITEMS

Three items will feature the program brought forward by France, Great Britain and Italy.

By the adoption of the alphabetical order of presentation, which gives precedence to the country probing a subject according to the first letter of its name, France will head the list and will have an opportunity of formally laying before the conference her plan for limiting arms by the global, or total tonnage, system.

Great Britain, which favors another means, then will outline its theory of limitations by categories of ships, and lastly Italy will present her argument for the establishment of fleet ratios among the nations as a necessary preliminary to disarmament.

With Premier Tardieu and Foreign Minister Grandi discussing their differences on the conference floor, there is hope for more progress than during the past week, in the breezes of publicity blowing through St. James may have a salutary effect on the Franco-Italian wrangling, which was beginning to look serious.

STEERING GROUP

But if it continues, a convenient little committee that will be established Thursday can take it over and put it outside the palace to cool while the conference itself gets on with cruisers, battleships or whatever else is pushed forward on the agenda.

This committee is a steering com-

Will Rogers Remarks:

LONDON, Jan. 28.—[To The Editor of The Times:] These are happy times in England. The whole country is celebrating the victory of King George over Big Bill Thompson and Chicago. It's especially gratifying over here, for at one time things looked very bad for the King as Big Bill had told him to keep his snoot out of Chicago affairs, which was a terrific blow to His Majesty, as he had always taken such a personal interest and pride in Chicago. It was really one of his most cherished municipalities and to find that they are still loyal to him, even though out of funds, pleases his Royal Highness beyond measure.

Well, the conference met today and appointed a commission to meet tomorrow and appoint a delegation who will eventually appoint a subcommittee to draw up ways and means of finding out what to start with first.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

ICE BAFFLES BYRD SHIPS

Pilot Tells of Heavy Pack

Prospect of Second Winter at Antarctic Base Grows More Real to Party

Vessels Wait for Break-up of Barrier But Fears on Fuel Supply Rise

Prospect of Admiral Byrd's expedition being compelled to remain through another winter in the Antarctic is becoming more real as time passes without a break-up of the ice which prevents ships approaching the Byrd base. The following dispatch by wireless from the Byrd camp describes conditions which are making prisoners of Admiral Byrd and his men.

BY RUSSELL OWEN

(Copyright, 1930, by The Los Angeles Times, New York Times Company and St. Louis Post Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.)

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Admiral Byrd has just received a report from Bendik Johansen, ice pilot for the two expedition ships, the City of New York and the Eleanor Bolling, showing how serious a barrier is the present pack ice.

Johansen was formerly a Norwegian sealer and has had much experience in the heavy pack ice off the east coast of Greenland and in the White Sea. He has conferred with the whaling captains who have been in the pack as well as those who have been outside of it this year and it is evident from his report that the situation is one which has never before faced an expedition so late in the season.

ICE PACK HEAVY

"The ice pack is very heavy from 68 south to 70 south (latitude) and extends west toward the western shore of the Balleny Islands," says Johansen in his message to Admiral Byrd. "From 68 to 69 is heavy old dangerous ice with hard ice floots. South of 69 there is only year-old ice to reckon with, also heavily packed, but less dangerous."

So that shows a stretch of 120 miles of pack ice still remaining heavily packed at the point which long experience has shown to be the best point to cross it, longitude 178 to 180 east.

WAIT FOR BREAK

This must break up to some extent before a ship of low horsepower such as the New York can force her way through and Johansen, used as he is to going through heavy packs and knowing the value of time so late in the season, advises Admiral Byrd that in his opinion not even the New York should start through at present.

She will wait, therefore, some time outside the pack until it opens and then attempts to work a way south. There is still, of course, a chance that it will break up and, as we have a blizzard here today with a high wind—the first bad one since last spring—we are hoping it is hitting the pack. However, the whalers agree with Admiral Byrd that if the New York entered the pack now she might be stuck and not be released for several months.

FUEL MAY RUN LOW

The delay causes another difficulty for if the ships lie there ten days or two weeks they will use up their fuel reserves for emergencies necessary on a round trip of 4400 miles through these seas. The Bolling will, therefore, leave coal as a reserve for the New York on one of the whalers, which were able to give Admiral Byrd only a small quantity, and go back to New Zealand in the hope that when she again reaches the pack she may find it open. Coal always has been a problem in getting in and out of the Antarctic and lying to for days outside the pack as well as spending some time in it would be too great a handicap, for steam must be maintained.

"I know Capt. Brown of the Bolling would come through at once if he could," said Byrd today. "He has always shown a splendid spirit and fine seamanship and to go back to New Zealand now will be a great disappointment to him and his crew. He is a hard man to stop."

Only Northern Part of State Gets Any Rain

RICH MAN'S BODY IDENTIFIED

Pasadenan Who Disappeared New Year's Eve Found Buried in Stranger's Grave in Mexico

YUMA (Ariz.) Jan. 28. (AP)—The body of a man found in an irrigation canal three days ago at Curovas, Mex., and buried by Mexican officials, was exhumed tonight and identified as that of W. Paul Loveland, wealthy Pasadena (Cal.) contractor.

Sheriff Hunter of Yuma county said identification was made by means of dental work, and two pairs of spectacles Loveland is known to have had with him when he disappeared from a tourist camp near here shortly after Christmas.

Curovas is twenty-four miles south of Algodones, Mex., which is on the international line.

Authorities late tonight were considering a theory that Loveland may have fallen into Laguna Dam, which backs water into Mexico for some distance. It was pointed out that should he have fallen into the water his body could have been carried into Mexico and have been diverted into the irrigation canal in which it was found.

Because of the condition of the body it was impossible to ascertain whether Loveland had been a victim of foul play.

LEFT PASADENA TO GO ON FISHING TRIP

W. Paul Loveland, who was well known in Pasadena and Los Angeles as architect and a sportsman, left his home at 778 South Grand avenue, Pasadena, on New Year's Eve, presumably for a fishing trip. He did not tell his wife specifically where he was going, but she believed he intended going to one of his usual fishing haunts.

It had been his custom for the last ten years to take fishing trips on holidays, Mrs. Loveland asserted. When he had not returned three days later she started on a lone hunt and eventually traced his car to an automobile camp at Yuma.

SIX QUAKES IN SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN

Shocks Distinctly Felt in and Near Bakersfield; Four in Early Morning

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Four distinct earth shocks, and in at least one place five, were felt in and near Bakersfield shortly after 12:30 a.m. today. Another shock was felt a few minutes before 6 o'clock last night, it was reported.

A distinctive feature of the midnight quakes was the fact that while in all areas surrounding the city they shook doors and windows and caused a dull roar resembling a blast at a considerable distance, not one of the shocks could be felt by individuals. East, south and west of Bakersfield and in the city, the shocks extended over a period of about three minutes, beginning at 12:23:30 a.m.

At the old clubhouse at Stockdale windows and doors vibrated, window curtains flopped outward from open windows as the blast-like percussion sounded, and lights suspended from the ceiling swung in small arcs, but buildings seemed unmoved. Similar experiences were reported from a point ten miles south of here and as far east as Magunden.

DIVER'S PLIGHT DESPERATE

Montreal Watches Preparation to Rescue Worker Forty Hours Under Water at Dam Site

MONTREAL, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Word was being anxiously awaited here this evening on the progress of extraordinary relief measures being taken to rescue a diver, Peter Trans, who has been on the bottom of the Outardes River, at Outardes Falls, since 10:30 Monday morning.

Trans, a Dane, whose home is in Montreal, slipped as he was going down the ladder to inspect the foundation of the cofferdam which is now being built at Outardes Falls by the Ontario Paper Company.

The unfortunate diver got entangled in his gear and was unable to release himself. Those on the spot being unable to extricate Trans, an appeal for immediate help was sent to the company's office at Montreal.

RESCUE STARTS

The urgency of the case was recognized at once here and steps were immediately taken to dispatch aid by airplane. Within an hour an airplane had left the Cartierville airdrome on the outskirts of Montreal. An hour and three-quarters later the plane was at Quebec, where it picked up two divers arranged for by telephone. In another fifteen minutes the plane was off again for Outardes Falls, 175 miles distant. Very heavy snow and poor visibility was encountered about halfway on the route, and the plane swung over to the south side of the river.

At 5 o'clock it was forced to land at Rimouski, thirty-three miles from Outardes Falls on the other side of the St. Lawrence Gulf. Latest information here is that the plane still is at Rimouski, presumably prevented by weather conditions from getting over to Outardes Falls.

UNABLE TO HELP

Meanwhile at Outardes Falls the staff was not idle. Advices were received here that a volunteer, putting on a spare diving suit, had gone down in an endeavor to rescue Trans. He reported that Trans was in an upright position and appeared to be jammed up against the corner of the cofferdam and the rocks, but he was unable to release him. Another attempt was made later in the day.

It was found that the water had risen considerably and the current was swifter. Trans is receiving air, according to information here.

CRIB BUILT

On instructions from Montreal a crib work has been sunk around the imprisoned diver and this has been rapidly sheathed. This latter operation was to have been finished late

Eight Denounce Box Bill

Only One Witness in Mexico Quota Hearing Favors Restriction

Railroad, Farm and Orchard Men Declare Labor Curb Means Heavy Loss

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Nine witnesses, eight against restrictive immigration measures aimed at Mexico, and one, the Porto Rican delegate to Congress, favoring the Johnson-Box-Bacon bills, appeared today before the House Immigration Committee now holding hearings on the bills to put Western Hemisphere countries on an immigration quota basis.

All witnesses against the bill agreed that Mexican labor is a necessary and irreplaceable adjunct to American agriculture and enterprise in the Southwest. The witnesses spoke for cattlemen, farmers, railroad men, irrigation districts and other interests, and hailed from California, New Mexico and Texas, as well as representing the sugar-beet industry of Colorado and California.

RAIL MAN TESTIFIES

First and one of the strongest witnesses to appear against the measures restricting immigration from our sister countries was E. E. McInnis of Chicago, general counsel for the Santa Fe Railroad. He told the committee that the railroad must have Mexican labor to work on section and extra gangs through the long mileage of desert country where the American cannot or will not work. In addition, he said that the railroad depends in considerable part for its traffic on agriculture in the Southwest.

"Representing the western railroads," Mr. McInnis said, "I am speaking from the standpoint of a broad self-interest with particular emphasis upon the farming situation as it is related to the traffic business of the railroads. The railroads move the crops which the farmers raise. And in the West and Southwest the products of the farms are dependent upon Mexican labor. To deprive the farmer of this labor threatens his prosperity. In fact, in the presence of nation-wide depressed condition of agriculture, now the subject of government inquiry, it is proposed to cut off this supply of labor in the West and Southwest and let the agriculturalists struggle along as best they can.

"The position of the railroads in this hearing is not unselfish, but it not an improper one. It is our part to help those who help us. The farmers and the railroads in the West and Southwest need Mexican labor. White men cannot and will not work on the railroad section gangs in the arid and semiarid regions of the territory referred to. They are unsuited to stand the excessive summer heat and to perform the 'stoop' labor for which Mexican workers are employed.

BARRING WHITES DISPROVED

"If Mexican unskilled labor were excluded from the United States the railroads and farmers of the southern and western parts of the country would be unable to replace it. Even if all the Mexican workers who have found employment in other sections of the country were brought back to the West and Southwest they would be just a drop in the bucket when compared with the needs of the farmers in those regions."

Following his statement Mr. McInnis was subjected to a cross-fire of questions from committee members which ranged from those designed to trip him up on previous statements to those insinuating that the railroad was barring American labor completely on its eastern lines into Chicago. The witness disproved the charges.

At this point Chairman Johnson, author of one of the bills, injected a statement, in which he said that steel mill operators had been equally

Berenguer Gets Premiership

Spanish Dictator Resigns After Six Years of Iron Rule

Successor, Bitterest Enemy, Was Disgraced in Morocco War

MADRID, Jan. 29. (Wednesday) (AP)—Demonstrations against the monarchy and church occurred during the night but the police were able to break them up without serious results.

About 500 persons, most of them said to be students, assembled near the royal palace and engaged in a tussle with the guards in which two students are said to have been wounded by the troops. They displayed banners reading "Long live the republic."

Driven away from the palace neighborhood, they re-formed their ranks and marched through the principal downtown streets continuing to shout against the monarchy. In Puerta del Sol and in front of the Ministry of the Interior they again assembled but were dispersed by police without casualties.

MADRID, Jan. 29. (AP)—Premier Primo de Rivera, dictator since 1923, resigned tonight and Gen. Damaso Berenguer, long his arch-enemy, was charged by King Alfonso to form a new Ministry.

The downfall of the brilliant military officer and politician, who had controlled Spain with an iron hand for more than six years, had appeared imminent all day but it was not until after a Cabinet session in the evening that the Premier drove to the royal palace and presented the resignations of himself and Cabinet.

Gen. Berenguer, in an interview after his appointment by the King, said he intends to appoint civilian ministers to all portfolios excepting those of War and Marine.

TO CALL ELECTION

He announced his intention of re-establishing the Constitution of 1876, under which the country was governed before the dictatorship. He will convoke a general election for Deputies and Senators and re-establish the Cortes or Parliament.

Since, until he can submit his program for approval to a Parliament properly elected, the new Premier must work under special authority granted by the King, the dictatorship cannot be said as a matter of fact to have yet been dissolved. However, the announced program of Berenguer calls for quicker and more direct return to a constitutional regime than that which had been advocated by Primo de Rivera.

MOROCCAN RIVALS

Lieut.-Gen. Don Miguel Primo de Rivera y Orbaneja, Marquis de Estella, to give him his full name and title, distinguished himself in the campaigns against Moroccan natives which for some years had been draining the national treasury, exhausting the man power and threatening to bring about a collapse of the nation.

His success followed the defeat and disgrace of the man who now succeeds him as head of the government. Gen. Berenguer was high commissioner in Morocco in 1921 and 1922. He resigned in July, 1922, and in the following June the Senate, of which he was a member, voted to impeach him on the ground that he was responsible for a severe defeat in Morocco. He was convicted, removed from the active list, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment. The sentence was commuted, however.

In 1926 King Alfonso showed his confidence in Gen. Berenguer by appointing him chief of his household. The appointment was commented on at the time as indicating a breach between the sovereign and Primo de Rivera, for the mo-

BANK ROBBERS KILL CUSTOMER

War Veteran Slain Trying to Balk Hold-up

Officer, Covered, Draws Gun and Falls Riddled

Murderers Escape With Sum in Cash Undetermined

OAKLAND, Jan. 28. (AP)—Two bandits killed a bank customer today during a hold-up of the Broadway and Twentieth-street branch bank here of the American Trust Company and escaped in a stolen automobile with an undetermined amount of money.

Joseph Fox, garage owner and captain of a machine-gun company during the World War, was shot and fatally wounded when he opened fire on the bandits.

SLAYERS ESCAPE

Retreating from the bank after the exchange of bullets the men entered an automobile at the curb and dashed up the street. The car, stolen at San Jose last night from Joseph Caldwell, was found abandoned about four miles away. A woman told police she saw the men transfer to a large blue sedan.

G. R. Wilson, bank manager; Harry Stier and Lloyd Kramer, tellers, and two customers, Joseph E. Fox and Daniel Callahan, were in the bank when the two men entered. The bank employees were herded into a closet near the entrance and in passing Kramer managed to kick a silent burglar alarm. The customers were ordered to face the wall.

FOX OPENS FIRE

Two more customers, R. B. Kemp and his son, R. B. Kemp, Jr., entered the bank and were lined up with the others. At the same time they saw Fox, a special deputy sheri, draw an automatic pistol and open fire at the man in the vault. He wheeled and returned the fire, in which the second bandit is believed to have joined. The others dropped and the bullets whizzed over them.

Fox, mortally wounded with a bullet in his head and two more in his body, slumped to the floor, but continued firing until his pistol was empty. The bandits then escaped.

DICTATOR QUITS SPANISH POST

tual dislike between the two generals had never been concealed.

Although the actual resignation of the Cabinet came suddenly, it had been presaged by the events of the past few months. Primo de Rivera himself had indicated on several occasions that he expected to relinquish control of the government in 1930. His chief concern, he stated, was to provide first for a worthy successor and to pave the way for a gradual restoration of constitutional privileges to the citizenry.

There had been repeated rumors recently of plans to overthrow the dictatorship. Newspaper men approached the Premier Sunday seeking confirmation of these reports. The Premier denied them but announced he would make continuance of his rule dependent upon the will of the chiefs of the army and navy. They had returned no public answer before the resignation today.

Primo de Rivera swept into power in September, 1923, with the support particularly of the infantry divisions of the army. A royal decree appointed him chief of the government and president of a military directory. On December 3, 1925, the military directory was superseded by a civil government which continued under the presidency of Primo de Rivera.

Last New Year's Primo de Rivera had summed up for the Associated Press what he believed to be the accomplishments of his regime. He pointed out the steps taken to rid the country of supernumerary office holders and to stabilize the currency. He emphasized the attempts being made to extend Spanish markets, particularly in the new world, and the efforts to build up a great Spanish merchant marine.

The government efforts to stabilize the pesata have not met with any great degree of success. Only last week the Minister of Finance resigned because his program had failed to avert a severe slump in foreign exchange.

After leaving the royal palace tonight, Primo de Rivera issued this statement:

PRAISES SUCCESSOR

"The King accepted my resignation and those of all the other ministers. He praised each one and expressed his best wishes to all. He ordered me to make it known to the ministers that they will be relieved of all duties and responsibilities with which he had vested them as soon as a new government is formed, and that this new government is to prescribe its standards.

"The King let it be known that it is his wish that all of the ministers should remain aloof from politics while they remain at their posts until such time as the new government may order otherwise.

"The King entrusted formation of the new government to Damasco Berenguer. I was very highly pleased with this designation, for he is a man of great serenity of judgment, possessed of much discretion and dearly beloved throughout our country. I suppose he will call on me tonight to exchange views. I repeat, I am highly pleased with the selection, for there is no man better fitted for the place."

The plenary session of the National Assembly, an advisory body which has assisted in the dictatorship, was postponed indefinitely from its scheduled time of opening at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

WEALTHY MAN'S BODY LOCATED

She found his fishing rods, boots and other possessions intact in the car.

Attendants at the camp asserted that Loveland, accompanied by two men, arrived at the camp late in the day on December 31, and after parking the car started on foot to the business section of Yuma. One of the attendants asserted he heard one of the men say they expected to go to a New Year's celebration across the border. The attendants knew Loveland, but had never seen his two companions before, they told Mrs. Loveland. None of them ever returned.

Mrs. Loveland kept the matter from the police while several friends made a search along the border. The town of Algodones is the nearest port of entry into Mexico, but the records did not show that Loveland, or his companions had made application to enter Mexico. When the friends failed to locate the missing man Mrs. Loveland made known his disappearance on the 14th inst.

Mrs. Loveland, besides being president of the Browning Club in Pasadena is well known in local society. She is a member of several clubs and with her husband held a membership in the Valley Hunt Club. She and an 11-year-old son survive Loveland.

ARIZONAN JAILED ON CHECKS

DENVER, Jan. 28. (AP)—C. S. Bauman, Jr., of Nogales, Ariz., is in jail today charged with passing worthless checks. J. W. Dove, giving Colorado Springs as his home, and asserting to be Bauman's chauffeur, also is held in connection with Bauman's activities here.

BAY CITY HAS RACE CLASHES

was killed near Watsonville previously.

Lieut. John Bird, provost marshal at the Monterey Presidio, disclosed the special guard there, as well as the asserted plot which prompted it. He said a Filipino employee at the post, whose name was withheld to protect him, revealed the plot, saying he had attended the meetings at which it was hatched and the final gathering at which plans for action were laid.

FIRE CONSIDERED

The plan, according to Lieut. Bird, was for Filipinos to sneak into the garrison, if possible, and make away with rifles and cartridges. If this failed, they intended, it is charged, to set the buildings afire and obtain arms and ammunition in the resulting confusion.

Lieut. Bird said his informant gave as the reason the necessity of protecting themselves against whites in the Pajaro Valley.

The attacks locally led to an order from Chief of Police Quinn to disperse all suspicious groupings and to arrest all persons engaged in altercations and brawls which might lead to racial violence of a more serious nature.

Two Filipinos, walking the street with two white girls early today, were beaten by two white men, who fled. The Filipinos were given thirty-day suspended sentences in Police Court on peace-disturbance charges. One, Jose Francisco, said the woman with him at the time of the attack is his wife.

THREE OTHERS BEATEN

Later in the day three Filipinos were set upon by two taxicab drivers who drove up to them at Jones and Sutter streets, where they were working as janitors.

"Are you Mexicans or Filipinos?" the whites inquired.

"Filipinos," was the answer.

Then, they said, they were set upon and beaten. None required hospital attention and their descriptions were not equal to the task of finding the cab drivers.

The outbreaks here, the first of the kind since the violence in the vicinity of Watsonville, which resulted in one death and injury of several Filipinos, brought a statement from Gabriel Q. Arellano, editor of the Philippine Journal and president of the Philippine Civic League, in which he averred the Filipinos are not seeking violence, have no quarrel with whites and only ask to be let alone in the pursuit of their labors.

WATSONVILLE QUIET

Conditions at Watsonville and in the vicinity were reported quiet and under complete control. Arrangements are under way to return to his native land the body of Fermin Tovera, youthful lettuce picker who was shot to death in a field workers' bunkhouse. Word has been received that Tovera is considered a martyr by his countrymen, who believe he was killed in cold blood without reason or justification.

No date has been set as yet for the inquest nor for the hearings of seven youths arrested as a result of the rioting there.

SUIT THREATENED

Beecher S. Stowe, Los Angeles attorney representing the islanders in the Pajaro Valley, threatened to sue the Sheriff and District Attorney for damages suffered by the Filipinos and also surrendered into the custody of Sheriff Sinnott at Santa Cruz, Andrea Antenor-Cruz, president of the Filipino Club at Palm Beach, on the outskirts of Watsonville. Antenor-Cruz was charged with conducting a dance hall without a license. He pleaded not guilty before Justice Younger and was released on $250 bond.

The dance hall is what is said to have started the rioting because of white girls dancing there with "the little brown men" on a percentage basis.

PHILIPPINE OFFICIALS CONFER IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Manuel Roxas, speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives, and Pedro Guevara, resident commissioner here of the Philippines, conferred today to determine what attitude they should take in regard to a manifesto adopted last night by a Manila mass meeting protesting against "Filipino baiting" in California.

The manifesto, which urged "a national discipline and personal sacrifice on the part of every Filipino at this time of national humiliation," provided that memorial services be held February 2 in the Manila public plaza for Fermin Tovera, a Filipino killed in race riots at Watsonville, Cal., Wednesday.

Prior to their meeting today, Roxas and Guevara were informed of the beating of five Filipinos in San Francisco last night and today. Guevara said he would call this new outbreak to the attention of the Bureau of Insular Affairs. Reiterating protests previously filed with the bureau and read into the Congressional record on the occasion of the Watsonville outbreak, Roxas said that the fresh "outrage" in San Francisco probably would affect the nature of his advices to leaders of the protest demonstration in Manila.

RED-HEAD GIRL REAL DIPLOMAT

Rare Tact Shown by Naval Conference Beauty

Miss Hurley Fisk Skillful at Parrying Questions

Well, Really, She Simply Has No Time to Waste

LONDON, Jan. 28. (NANA)—The charming red-head who, by unofficial agreement, is the best-looking girl in the beauty chorus of secretaries with the American representatives at the naval conference, is as finished and graceful a diplomat as any gentleman in that distinguished delegation.

She is Miss Hurley Fisk, who demurely and efficiently takes dictation from Michael J. MacDermott, chief of the State Department's division of current information. She is tall and slim and 23 years of age, has a complexion that matches that glorious auburn hair, and comes from Keokuk, Iowa. Her qualifications for diplomacy, however, are of course not these. They lie in her tactful ability to say pleasant things simultingly without committing herself.

VEILS OPINIONS

"A great deal has been written, Miss Fisk, about the smartness of the stenographers with the American delegation, their chic appearance, their smart frocks," she was told. "Now what have you to say about the Englishwomen and their appearance?"

The bright eyes of the vivacious Miss Fisk, who to that moment had been chatting freely of her impressions on this first trip to London, suddenly became as blank as such eyes could possibly be.

"Do you know," she exclaimed, "I can't tell you a thing about the frocks the London girls wear. Really I've been so busy I just haven't noticed them."

PARRIES AGAIN

"Yes?" ejaculated the interviewer. "But you were riding in Rotten Row Sunday."

"So I was," Miss Hurley conceded, joyousness for the moment unguarded.

"And what did you think of the London women who rode up and down with you?"

Again those bright eyes clouded, ever so little. And there was a moment of hesitation. Then diplomacy came to the fore.

"Honestly," said Miss Fisk, "I hardly noticed them. Would you believe it? I was feeling rather nervous at first, you see, and after that—well, I just enjoyed the ride."

And then Miss Fisk went on to explain that she had been working very, very hard ever since she arrived in London, that there had been no time, really, for seeing the sights or looking at clothes—"not even evening clothes!"

TOO BUSY, REALLY!

"Why," she said, "I've been too busy for one single evening off. And in the daytime, of course, I've had no opportunity to compare styles."

Of course, Miss Hurley Fisk!

"We've had no contact with the girls of the other delegations yet," Miss Fisk rushed on. "They have their work to do, and we must get on with ours."

"Well, what do you think of the London weather?" (It was awful the day Miss Fisk rode in Rotten Row.)

"Oh, we've had no time to bother about weather," came the quick reply. "And now please excuse me, won't you? I'm awfully sorry. But that's the boss calling."

And a pair of trim, silken ankles vanished into the secret depths of the Ritz.

What a diplomat!

MASCULINE BEAUTIES

As for the men diplomats, Ambassador Dawes and Premier MacDonald easily win the masculine beauty stakes among the delegates to the conference, with Hugh Gibson, the United States Ambassador to Belgium, a good third.

Aristide Briand displays a thoughtful man's utter disregard of personal appearance, while Dino Grandi looks the part of the ideal diplomat found in popular novels treating of diplomacy.

The general run of secretaries are honest-looking folk whose long suit is clearly a capacity for hard work.

However, this reporter has never seen any such delegation of pretty girls as those who act as secretaries to Secretary of State Stimson and his colleagues and he has attended all of the international conferences held during the last twenty years.

ONE LOST AS SHIP BREAKS INTO HALVES

Life-Savers Get Line to Freighter and Start to Removing Crew Members

BORDEAUX (France) Jan. 28. (AP) After many hours of heroic rescue work, a life-saving crew from St. Jean de Luz today got a line aboard the hulk of the British freighter Knebworth, which ran on a reef near Biarritz and broke in two.

Several of the crew were taken ashore by the breeches buoy, and the life-savers were getting them off at the rate of one every fifteen minutes under difficult conditions.

The crew, consisting of twenty-one men and two women, took refuge in the forward part of the ship, which broke in two. Early efforts at rescue failed because of the high seas.

mittee of the five delegation chiefs and one other member from each, and will bring the different subjects to the agenda for conference discussion as the delegates ask for them.

If the alphabetical order of presentation continues in effect the United States, ranking as America, will be able to bring the cruiser problem into the negotiations at any time that Secretary Stimson and his colleagues find suitable.

This is the part of the work that particularly interests the Americans and the Japanese, who have stood a little to one side during the discussion of Franco-Italian parity because it is a peculiarly European problem. Secretary Stimson assured a wide audience for the cruiser discussion, when it comes up, by carrying a proposal for opening the conference to as many newspaper men as possible through a meeting of the chief delegates this morning. There was no opposition, and it was agreed seventy-eight correspondents should be accommodated.

STIMSON SPEAKS

The realities of disarmament seemed to be nearer tonight as Secretary Stimson in a speech broadcast to America sketched the hopes of the conference. Mr. Stimson defined these as elimination of competition in the building of cruisers and destroyers, the abolition of rigid limitation of submarines, and great saving on battleship expenditures.

Unless the battleship program is reduced, he said, the United States will be faced with the expenditure of $300,000,000 on these war vessels alone during the next six years. Another such sum would be necessary for the following six years.

Ending his address, Mr. Stimson spoke a word of caution to the American public.

He said that every day at the conference there are some rumors of a crisis which will wreck the conference and that he has no doubt that some of these stories have reached the American public through the press.

"I can only tell you," he said, "that thus far every rumor of such a crisis which has come to my ears has been unfounded. No such crisis has, in fact, occurred. Nothing but hard work and friendly good-will prevails among the various gentlemen of the delegations who are getting together every day.

"I, therefore, recommend that you be not troubled with reports of crisis until they are confirmed by us. We intend to make this conference a success and we think we can do so."

OTHERS HOPEFUL

Mr. Stimson's hopeful tone also was echoed by the other delegations. Signor Grandi speaking at the pilgrims banquet tonight said "we are sure that the will we all have to succeed in the task which has brought us together will prevail. Armaments must not only be limited, they must be reduced to the lowest possible level."

The conference activities today started with the session of the chief delegates at 10 a.m. Later Prime Minister MacDonald entertained at lunch Secretary and Mrs. Stimson and the busy afternoon again made it necessary for the Prime Minister to carry on conference work in his office at the House of Commons.

There he met the Japanese delegation and later the French delegation. Tonight the chief delegates were guests of that Anglo-Saxon stronghold, the Pilgrims Society, at which Grandie was the chief speaker. This was in accordance with the plan of the delegates to perform their oratorical duties in turn.

FANNIE BRICE SUES SCHENCK

Asks $160,000 for Asserted Contract Breach

Suit Grows Out of Deal to Make Talkers

Actress Says Hollywood "Just a Village"

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Fannie Brice, now playing here, revealed tonight that she had begun a $160,000 contract breach suit against Joseph M. Schenck of United Artists.

Her contract with United Artists called for two talking films, Miss Brice charges. When United Artists and Paramount corporation merged she said Mr. Schenck neglected to list her contract for the second film. In addition, she worked six months on her first film, "Be Yourself," to be released February 8, next, rather than the fourteen weeks called for in her contract, she said, and Mr. Schenck owes her $40,000 unpaid salary.

Billy Rose, Fanny's husband, wrote the lyrics for her songs in "Be Yourself," the theme song being "When a Woman Loves a Man." She sings it in her act here, with other songs, the words of which were written by her husband.

"Me off pictures? No. Why should I be? Business is business," Fannie said. "Hollywood's all right, but it will never be Broadway, no matter how many stars they import. It's just a village and always will be. It's—I don't know—you always feel like the circus is in town there."

It was rumored that a rift was caused between Fannie and United Artists when Mr. Schenck didn't like a story her husband wrote for her second film. "There wasn't any rift. He just forgot about my contract, that's all—so I'm reminding him," said Fannie.

Papers have been served on Schenck, she said.

Miss Brice will go from here to New York, where she will join her husband. He is now writing lyrics for songs to be used in Marilyn Miller's new show and a picture for Gloria Swanson, she said.

Postponement of Cruiser Chicago Launching Asked

MARE ISLAND, Jan. 28. (AP)—A request that launching of the 10,000 ton cruiser Chicago be postponed from April 10 to April 25 has been made to the Navy Department by Representative Britten of Illinois, chairman of the House Committee on naval affairs, naval authorities here were informed today in a telegram from Representative Curry of California.

Postponement was asked, the telegram stated, so the entire committee on naval affairs which expects to be in California at the later date to inspect navy dirigible base sites, can attend the launching. The cruiser will be christened by Miss Elizabeth Briten of San Francisco, sister of Representative Britten.

CARAWAY NEAR TO FIST FIGHT

Witness at Lobby Inquiry Stirs Hornet's Nest

Senator Hurls Charge of Falsehood at Him

Tariff League Secretary Resents Rebuke

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, whose clashes with witnesses have featured many hectic sessions of the Senate's Lobby Investigating Committee, narrowly escaped a fist fight today when he accused Arthur L. Faubel, secretary of the American Tariff League, of uttering "a perfectly outrageous falsehood."

The squabble, throwing the whole hearing room into confusion, was precipitated when Faubel, seeking to justify the league's employment of attaches of Congressional tariff committees as contributors to the organization's publication, "The Tariff Review," declared he could see no difference "between that and Senator Caraway making a speech before the Importers' Council in New York for which he received $500."

"What's that," shouted Caraway, leaping to his feet and pounding the table with his doubled fist. "Whoever told you that?"

"Well, I was told that all right," asserted Faubel, "and I can get the man—"

"Anyone who told you that told you a lie—" interrupted Caraway, purple with anger.

WALSH JOINS IN

"I take exception—" began Faubel, equally aroused.

"It's a perfectly outrageous falsehood," declared Caraway.

"I take exception—" Faubel shouted again.

"Well," shouted Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, jumping up from his chair and elbowing Caraway to one side. "You richly deserve the rebuke administered by the chairman. You have no business testifying under oath to retail such statements."

Faubel recovered his composure with difficulty and the spectators who had pressed forward expecting to see fisticuffs, returned to their seats as Walsh took over the examination of the witness, who last week astonished the Senators by advocating the replacement of the Senate by a body similar to the British House of Lords with limited veto powers over House action.

After the hearing Faubel produced a pamphlet, issued by Thomas Brady's speakers' bureau, of New York City, listing Caraway with eighteen other members of the House or Senate who, the pamphlet said, could be obtained through the booking agencies to make speeches for fees. Among those named in the pamphlet were Senators H. F. Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona; G. H. Moses, Republican, New Hampshire; W. H. King, Democrat, Utah; J. E. Watson, Republican, Indiana; H. J. Allen, Republican, Kansas; A. W. Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky; Simeon Fess, Republican, Ohio; Pat Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi; W. F. George, Democrat, Georgia; G. P. Nye, Republican, North Dakota; Tom Connally, Democrat, Texas; B. K. Wheeler, Democrat, Montana; W. L. Jones, Republican, Washington; S. G. Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico, and Representative J. M. Beck, Republican, Pennsylvania.

WALSH IN STATEMENT

Inquiry at the bureau's headquarters resulted in the information. Faubel asserted, that Caraway's fee was $300 a speech and Caraway himself admitted later that he had accepted at least two bookings from the agency. The Arkansas Senator denied, however, that either of the speeches had been made before the Importers' Council, a low-tariff group, or before any organization interested in legislation pending before Congress.

Following conclusion of Faubel's testimony, Walsh made a statement apparently for the purpose of explaining the decision of the radical Republican - Democratic majority of the committee to ignore both the charges of F. P. Garvan, former Alien Property Custodian, linking Senator Moses with the German dye cartel in 1922 against higher chemical tariffs and evidence indicating that Herman Metz, American agent of the German interests, contributed to Senator King's campaign fund. Metz, it has been testified by King's former secretary, gave $1000 in cash to the Senators in 1922 and a check for $1000 in 1928.

METZ ORDERED TO APPEAR

A few minutes later it was announced that Walsh, with Caraway and Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, had reconsidered that decision and had ordered Metz summoned to appear tomorrow morning.

The summons telegraphed to the dye importer failed to require the production of his bank records or correspondence.

Senator Robinson, Republican, Indiana, the one regular Republican member of the committee, hearing of that omission, insisted and made good his demand that Metz be compelled to submit his bank records as the best evidence to corroborate King's statement that the $1000 check given to him in 1928 by Metz was destroyed uncashed.

In his statement asserting that study of the Garvan charges convinced him that they as well as the Metz contribution to King "are matters entirely outside of the field of inquiry of this committee," Walsh asserted, "everybody understood all the time that Senator Moses was interested in securing for the textile manufacturers of his State dyes as cheaply as they could be secured."

"Others," he said, mentioning the German interests, "were interested for purely selfish reasons . . . it is also a fact that Senator King was also opposed to that embargo at that time. Those familiar with Senator King's public service know very well that he is on principle violently opposed to the high tariff and naturally against a dye embargo. So it would not be at all strange that Senator King as well as Senator Moses should be found acting in concert with those opposing the dye embargo for selfish reasons."

EMPLOYMENT ON UP TREND

Hoover Announces Reports of Department of Labor Show 3.3 Per Cent Gain in Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—President Hoover said today that reports of the Department of Labor show an increase in employment for the week ending the 14th inst. of 3.3 per cent over the preceding week.

This increase, which the Chief Executive said is "encouraging," extends to almost every industry.

The Department of Labor was advised last week that the trend upward had begun the 6th inst., and the additional reports indicate a continued climb.

"The upward trend of employment," President Hoover said, "is current in practically every industry. There are some, however, which do not show increase but they generally are classified as small industries.

"The reports show," he said, "that the increase of the week was distributed over the whole industrial world. This I regard as an encouraging sign."

CONGRESS DRY INQUIRY HINTED

Senator Borah Indicates He Favors Investigation

Words Fly Thick and Fast in Prohibition Battle

Mitchell's Sobriety Ukase Praised and Assailed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Congressional investigation of prohibition enforcement is being discussed as a possibility at the capital tonight at the end of one of the wordiest free-for-alls on the persisting wet-and-dry controversy.

Atty.-Gen. Mitchell denied a statement by Senator Borah of Idaho, an outstanding dry critic of enforcement conditions, that the Justice Department investigated the record of Prohibition Administrator Herbert of the Montana-Idaho district. He aso denied that any Justice agents have been spying on Borah's office.

INQUIRY INDICATED

The Idaho Republican replied that some employee of the government investigated Herbert and submitted the report on the dry administrator to Prohibition Commissioner Doran. He reiterated that his informant was removed from the city after calling on the Senator at his office.

"We ought to find out all the facts," Borah declared. "We will do well to go into the whole question, when the prohibition bills come before the Judiciary Committee."

His statement was regarded by some as forecasting an inquiry into the prohibition unit. He is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which considers prohibition legislation.

Meanwhile House wets and drys indulged in a round of words on the floor over the pronouncement by the Attorney-Gen. that he will insist on government officers who believe in and practice prohibition.

OPPOSING VIEWS

Representative Cellar, Democrat, New York, described this position as a "silly ban and restriction," saying it would have barred such men as Woodrow Wilson, Warren G. Harding, Alfred E. Smith and Newton D. Baker from government service.

Representative Oliver, Democrat, Alabama, replied that "in writing that letter, Mr. Mitchell has rendered a distinct service to the American people." He added that the Attorney-General "seeks only to provide decent sobriety on the part of those who hold commissions in that department."

NARCOTICS SHIPMENTS EXPLAINED

French Envoy at League Opium Meeting Lays 1928 Exports to Faulty Control

GENEVA, Jan. 28. (AP)—The American observer at the League of Nations advisory committee on opium traffic today questioned the French representative about shipments of narcotics to the United States shown in French customs returns for 1928. According to these figures, 232 kilograms of morphine, 170 kilograms of heroin and 179 kilograms of cocaine were sent from France to America.

John Kenneth Caldwell, American observer, said The Hague opium convention could not have been in force in France at that time, because it required that the countries in the convention should endeavor to prevent consignments of drugs to countries not accepting them.

Gustav Bourgeois, French representative, replied that France had not at that time initiated a system of import and export certificates. Drugs for Central America were often shipped on vessels going to New York. He said he did not wish to hide behind the word "endeavor" in the League convention and assured Mr. Caldwell that now that control is in the hands of central authority similar cases cannot occur again.

LIGHT-BEER LAW UP TO CONGRESS

Wickersham Cites Ruling by Supreme Court

Expresses His Opinion in Letter to Dyer

Latter's 2.75 Per Cent Bill Will be Studied

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Chairman Wickersham of the Commission on Law Enforcement disclosed today that he intends to place before the commission Representative Dyer's proposal to amend the law to permit 2.75 per cent beer.

He pointed out, however, that it appeared to him as settled by the Supreme Court that the definition of intoxicating beverages prohibited by the Eighteenth Amendment is for Congress to determine, and that therefore he does not believe it practicable for the commission to go into the question.

Mr. Wickersham set forth his views in a letter to the Representative, who is the raning Republican on the House Judiciary Committee.

"The real point is," Wickersham said, "that the opinion of the Supreme Court was that the whole question is within the competency of the Congress and that the court would not undertake to overrule the exercise of its discretion.

"That being the law," he added, "as established by our highest court, it seems that it would be impracticable for this commission to reexamine that question. I will submit your letter to the commission, which is to meet here on February 5, but in the meantime I simply call your attention to this decision, and to what seems to me, personally, the necessary consequence of it."

THE PARKER IDEA IN DENTISTRY

THE Parker Idea is to spread information everywhere about the importance of good teeth, because good teeth stand for good health:

—to make everything in dentistry perfectly plain to the people;

—to render to the great masses, at a moderate price, the same class of dental work that only the few could afford in the past;

—to practice dentistry according to a System such as is used in banks and other successful business institutions;

—to conduct the dental business on a large scale, because that is the only way the cost of good dentistry can be cut down;

—to improve the lot of the dentist himself, so that he can make a better living than when he works alone;

—to take the fear of pain out of dentistry and give full satisfaction to patients;

—to put good dentistry within the financial reach of all.

There are 31 dental offices in the United States and Canada operated by dentists using the Parker System.

If you think the foregoing ideals are worthy why not benefit yourself by visiting a dentist using this System?

KANSAS CRASH CAUSES SOUGHT

Inquest Ordered Into Deaths of Five Persons

Air Officials Deny Trying to Destroy Evidence

Pilot Quoted as Saying He Was Flying Too Much

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Jan. 28. (AP)—While aviation officials today sought the cause of the crash of a Central Air Lines passenger plane, which cost five lives here late yesterday, County Coroner Coffin late today ordered an inquest. He declared that evidence, which might have supplied the answer, was wiped out in hasty dismantling and moving of the wreckage.

Officials of the air line denied there was any attempt to destroy evidence, and defend the action of employees in having the wreckage pull apart and taken to a hangar shortly after the removal of the burned and crushed bodies of the victims.

FULL REPORT PROMISED

E. A. Watkins, president of the Central Air Lines, who arrived from Wichita, Kan., to take charge of the company's investigation, said "It is going to be difficult to determine the cause of the crash," but promised a full report "as soon as the facts can be determined."

Watkins said in a statement that Dyke Laudeman, pilot of the craft who was killed with his four passengers, one a woman, had been flying since 1922 and that he was found to be in splendid physical condition when he received his last monthly examination.

W. H. Ellis, an aviation mechanic and friend of the dead pilot, declared, however, that Laudeman had complained recently that he was tired and had been flying too much.

"Everything seems to go all right when my ship isn't heavily loaded and the air is smooth but when I've got a load, it's hell," he quoted Laudeman as saying.

REMOVAL AUTHORIZED

Richard H. Leese, Jr., supervising aeronautical inspector of the Department of Commerce, who was conducting an investigation today preparatory to making a report to Washington officials, authorized the removal of the wreckage from the scene of the crash.

Coroner Coffin conferred with County Attorney White in regard to possible prosecution of the persons responsible for dismantling the wreckage, but the latter said he is unable to find any law under which to proceed.

Leese said he will report his findings to the Department of Commerce without making them public.

"We are trying to sell aviation to the public and the wreckage of a plane lying around for people to stare at has a bad effect," Leese said in explaining his action in authorizing dismantling of the wreck.

SENATORS WANT PUBLICITY IN FINDINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Demands for speedy action on pending bills to regulate commercial aviation and to require the Commerce Department to make public its findings as to causes of civil aviation accidents were made in the Senate today as attention was called to the recent crashes in California and Kansas City.

Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, urged early consideration of his bill to make Commerce Department inquiries public, saying the reason for such findings have not been made public is for "fear it would hurt some company's business."

Senators McKellar, Tennessee, and Bratton, New Mexico, Democrats, contend the existing law makes it mandatory upon the department to make public such findings.

"The Senator's quarrel is not with the law, but with the administration of it," said McKellar to Bingham.

Both McKellar and Bratton charged the department with failure to carry out the act of Congress.

Juvenile Crime Shows Decrease in Last Decade

BERKELEY, Jan. 28. (Exclusive) A definite decrease in crime among juveniles has come about in the past decade, according to Dr. Sidney Kinnear Smith, chief psychiatrist of the Alameda County Juvenile Court, who will conduct a class in child study for the University of California extension division.

"Careful analysis and data coming from various of our large cities tend to explode the theory that there is an increase of crime among children," he said.

"The decrease has come about because serious thought has been given the problem in the past few years. Much of the improvement may be attributed to the development of centers for the direction of children's activity before they reach the criminal stage. An effort has been made through habit clinics and child guidance clinics to understand the personality of the child and with this knowledge in hand to work out a program of healthy living."

Marquise Loses Slander Suits

LONDON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Without leaving the jury box, a jury today returned a verdict for Capt. G. R. Willans in an action for slander brought against him by the Marquise De Andia Yrarrazaval, wife of a Spanish nobleman. Judgment was entered for Capt. Willans with costs.

In a similar action, which Justice Horridge had previously dismissed, judgment also was given for Lord Redesdale, a British Peer, with costs.

Both men denied having uttered the words complained of. The Marquise in her charges accused them of having spread reports that the Marquis is not a nobleman and she herself not his wife.

GRECIAN ROBES COME BACK

Paris Dressmakers Go in for Draped Bodices and Ankle-Length Flowing Skirts

(Copyright, 1930, by the New York Times)

PARIS, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—The first Paris spring fashion show harks back to Grecian robes. Suzanne Talbot shows day and evening dresses with Grecian-draped sleeveless bodices, instep length, flowing skirts and double-banded waistlines above and at normal.

Large triangular shawls replace coats on some of the afternoon ensembles in this collection. Navy blue is combined with white in the linen blouses, scarfs and linings, which are outstanding for practical day clothes at the Talbot establishment. Other features shown are silk ensembles with polka dots and afternoon and evening skirts, ruffled and trailing.

WRAPS CURTAILED

Terra cotta is the new color. Chantal abandons one-color ensembles to combine two and three opposing shades. Bolero jackets top the daytime ensembles in this and other Paris collections. Wool, silk, shantung and georgette fabrics are the quite-in-vogue. Green is the favorite Chantal color. Her waistlines are normal and skirts moderately long.

There has been an important curtailment in spring wraps in all the collections. The sleeves are clipped to above the elbows or three-quarter length, and are worn with long gloves. Jackets have been shortened. The full-length coat is chiefly used for a separate wrap.

Madeleine indorses the drape dress for afternoon and evening, as do others. Bodice draping is important. Wide, draped girdles at the hip lines are shown by Madeleine and Chantal. Formal afternoon dresses reach the ankles in many cases.

COAT DRESS REVIVED

Boleros and cape sleeves relieve the fitted silhouettes in day and evening collection at Madeleine's. The evening mode is very long with many lace dresses having deep decollete camouflaged by removable boleros.

The coat dress is a prominent revival for street wear. Some are short sleeved. Anbergine combined with pink or white is a new color scheme. Redfern features baby blue and pink and smoke gray with yellow for the evening. Short sleeved cape coats with long black gloves are a striking feature in that collection. All dresses place importance on bodices.

OLDEST ARMY OFFICER DIES

Brig.-Gen. Gordon Passes at 97 Years of Age

Veteran of Civil and Indian Wars Twice Brevetted

Second Wife Descendant of Lincoln's Mother

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Brig.-Gen. Davis Stuart Gordon, retired, 97 years of age, oldest officer of the United States Army, died today at his home here.

Gordon was a veteran of the Civil War and the Indian wars of the western frontier.

Had the retired officer lived for four more days he would have been the oldest officer in the history of the United States Army. Twenty years ago Gen. Daniel H. Rucker died at the age of 97 years, eight months and eight days. Gen. Gordon had lived 97 years, eight months and five days.

WAR HONORS WON

The veteran probably will be buried at Arlington Cemetery.

Gen. Gordon had a brilliant career as a soldier, having entered the service when he was 20, appointed from Kansas to a commission as second lieutenant of the Second Dragoons. Within two months he was promoted to a first lieutenancy of the Second Cavalry. He saw active service in the Civil War, being brevetted for gallant and meritorious services in the Gettysburg campaign.

As a member of the Army of the Potomac he was in action at the first battle of Bull Run and later participated in the battles at Manassas Gap, Todd's Tavern, Cold Harbor, Hawes Shop, Trevillian Station and elsewhere. He was taken prisoner by the Confederate Army and confined to Libby prison, Richmond; Castle Pinckney, Charleston, and Columbia, S. C., and Salisbury, N. C., jails, for thirteen months until exchanged in August, 1862.

When the war ended he had attained the rank of major and shortly thereafter was dispatched to the frontiers, where he campaigned with "Gray Fox" Crook, Custer and many other famous Indian fighters. He was a member of the unit which went to the Little Big Horn to punish the Sioux for the massacre of Custer and his men and later led the expedition which relieved Maj. Fetterman's command at Fort Phil Kearny, after the massacre of that officer and many of his men by the Sioux under the command of Red Cloud.

MARRIED LINCOLN KIN

In the quelling of the Sioux under Sitting Bull his regiment penetrated the hostile country only a few weeks after the Custer massacre. In the relief of Fort Phil Kearny he marched his men hundreds of miles in the dead of winter with temperatures 10 to 20 deg. below zero, attaining his goal without the loss of a man, although every horse in the outfit was sacrificed. He was brevetted a lieutenant-colonel for gallant services in action against the Indians at Miners Delight, Wyo., May 4, 1870. He retired May 23, 1896.

Gen. Gordon was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, May 23, 1832. He was educated in public and private schools. His first wife was Ann E. Hughes of Leavenworth, Kan., who died in Washington in 1911. Later he was married to Mrs. Belle Vedder Fleming, a descendant of Nancy Hanks—Lincoln's mother—and the widow of Col. Robert T. Fleming.

Reds Parade at Striker's Burial

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—Ten thousand persons marched over three miles of wet, sloppy pavements today to honor the memory of an obscure dead man.

Steve Katovis's only claim to fame was that he was shot down in a clash between police and striking market workers in the Bronx, but today his body, in a red-draped casket and flanked by an escort of motorcycle police, led a procession twenty blocks long. There was no disorder.

Furniture Style Show Proposed

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Plans for a style showing of furniture in every retail furniture store in the West on March 6, 7 and 8, next, were outlined here today to furniture dealers from eleven western States attending the semiannual western retail furniture conference and the twenty-ninth semiannual furniture market week.

RODEO ASSOCIATION RE-ELECTS OFFICERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28. (AP)—The Rodeo Association of America ended its annual convention here today by re-electing last year's officers and selecting Cheyenne, Wyo., for the 1931 meeting. Officers re-elected were Maxwell McNutt, San Francisco, president; William G. Haas, Cheyenne, first vice-president; Arthur Hebbron, Sacramento, second vice-president, and Fred S. McCargar, Salinas, secretary-treasurer.

FLAMING SEA BUGS PUT ON LITERARY HIGH HATS

BERKELEY, Jan. 28. (Exclusive) The first of a series of studies of the floating microscopic life of the sea, which has taken a quarter of a century to complete, has been published by Prof. Charles A. Kofoid, chairman of the department of zoology, University of California, and Dr. Tage Skogsberg of the Harvard University Press.

The studies are based on collections made in 1904 and 1905 by Prof. Kofoid while a member of the Alexander Agassiz expedition on board the United States Fish Commission steamer Albatross.

The first publication deals with the Dinophysoidae, a tribe of the Dinoflagellata subclass. These minute organisms usually are not visible to the naked eye, but help to produce the phosophorescent gleam which lights ocean waters in the wake of steamers at night and to cause the red coloration of the ocean water in certain spots.

Of the 198 accepted species, eighty-seven were found during the cruise of the Albatross in its voyage of thousands of miles through the eastern tropical Pacific. The microscopic life of the ocean, aside from its interest from a purely scientific point of view, is of economic significance because it forms the ultimate food source for the fishes on which human kind is partly dependent for sustenance. The Dinophysiodae, in addition, are of interest because of their power to produce phosphorescent light, a phenomenon which science has not as yet explained.

SENATE KILLS TARIFF BOOST

Amendment Series on Oil Imports Balked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—By a vote of 49 to 26, the Senate today turned down the first of what had been planned as a series of amendments to the tariff bill to raise import levies on all vegetable, animal and fish oils and fats to a minimum of 45 per cent ad valorem.

This was the increase favored by the farm organizations to protect American farmers from foreign importations, but the test vote today discouraged any further attempts to obtain higher protection than that accorded in the pending bill.

vehement a number of years ago in their declaration that they could not survive without unrestricted European immigration, but that they were still prospering. Mr. McInnis pointed out that there were colonies of Mexicans at important steel centers in the East, where they were making a livelihood and filling in for unobtainable European labor.

D. B. Wiley of Phoenix, Ariz., manager of the State Farm Bureau, put a question directly to the committee. He said that if the committee could offer a substitute for Mexican labor the Salt River irrigation project would be glad to try it. He cited the example of importation of Porto Ricans in an attempt to find a substitute for Mexican labor. Two boatloads were imported to this irrigation project at an expense of $70,000 to the farmers on the Salt River unit. The Porto Ricans proved worthless, according to the testimony of Mr. Wiley.

GROWERS FACE COLLAPSE

"If Mexican labor is taken from us," Mr. Wiley said, "without ample provision for a substitute, our economic structure will surely collapse."

Later in the hearing K. B. McMicken of Litchfield Park, Ariz., representing the Arizona Cotton Growers' Association, corroborated Mr. Wiley's testimony regarding the Porto Rican importation.

Yet Resident Commissioner P. C. Davila of Porto Rico, the only witness to appear before the committee today favoring the measures restricting Western Hemisphere legislation, told the committee that the Porto Ricans would more or less fill the vacancy which would be left by the cutting off of Mexican immigration. Representative Johnson apparently favored the idea in spite of his past expressions on immigration from neighboring countries depriving Americans of jobs.

Hal Mangum of Eagle Pass, Tex., a cattleman who operates two ranches, one on the American side of the border and the other on the Mexican side, testified that he used all Mexican help as the Americans had drifted away to border patrol and other jobs.

Imperial Valley held the attention of the committee during part of the session. W. O. Blair of Calipatria, representing the Imperial Valley growers, said:

"As a grower and shipper of melons and diversified vegetable crops I have been for twenty-five years active in building up my region and am familiar with the unskilled labor needs of its agriculturalists.

LARGE CREWS NEEDED

"Something of the wealth produced in Imperial Valley is indicated by the fact that there is more than a carload of agricultural commodities produced in and shipped out of the valley for every man, woman and child living there. For more than twenty years vegetable growers of this valley have spent time and money to train Mexicans to grow our crops. They were found to be the only ones who would learn our ways and return to this region year after year to perform our farm labor.

"Our early crops require a worker to crawl across fields, acres in area, on his knees, putting oiled paper caps over a wire frame to protect melon and tender vegetable plants. So our survival depends on plenty of helpers to do this work, also to plant, tend and pick in time to reach the proper market. To take our Mexicans away is to write off with one stroke of the pen our means of livelihood.

"I for one and I believe my case is typical of growers in our district have been forced by the present shortage of Mexicans to cut out 600 acres from production for the coming season. So you can see I am not exaggerating the value of the Mexican to the Southwest agriculture for which other types of workers have not proved adaptable. We would use other laborers if we could get them but they are not available, so it can be seen that unskilled Mexican workers do not interfere with white labor on the farms of our valley."

FRESNO MAN WITNESS

F. J. Palomares of Fresno was one of the most spectacular witnesses to appear before the committee today. Manager of the agricultural labor bureau of the San Joaquin Valley Mr. Palomares said to the committee: "I am a native Californian, a citizen of the United States. Yet my parentage is Spanish. I offer myself as Exhibit "A" before this committee as to the kind of citizen American-born citizens of Spanish parentage make.

"In the San Joaquin Valley," he said, "we have about 900,000 acres of seasonal crops. Our grape acreage is approximately 422,000 acres, while the cotton-growing lands include 232,000 acres. In addition we have about 125,000 acres in orchards. Therefore, our demands for seasonal labor are great.

"In our harvest season we have employment for 25,000 or 30,000 workers. We prefer to employ Americans but we must resort to Mexicans or any other form of farm labor. We endeavor to obtain our farm and orchard help through established agencies but they have been unable to supply our needs. I may state at this time for the committee's information that we furnish our workers free quarters, water and fuel.

"In the season just ended there was a pronounced labor shortage and it was due solely to the long drought in California that our farmers and orchardists were able to handle most of their crops without serious loss.

WHITES REFUSE WORK

"In the San Joaquin Valley we have need of much labor for tasks which necessitate bending or stooping while at work, notably in our cotton and grape fields. White labor, it has been our experience, does not care for this employment whereas the Mexicans are able and willing to engage in it. In protesting against proposals to place Mexican immigrants under the quota law along with all other nationals in the Western Hemisphere we do not wish to discriminate against white labor. We prefer to employ Americans when we can get them. But they are not available for our needs in any large numbers and cannot be counted upon to harvest our crops.

"If the Mexican field workers are kept out of the country the growers in our valley will have to let large acreages go untilled for want of unskilled labor."

Speaking for the beet sugar interests Harry A. Austin, Washington representative of the United States Sugar Beet Association, made the following statement:

"Our industry is 100 per cent in favor of strict enforcement of the present immigration laws. But the question arises as to whether or not the administration of these laws has worked equitably to all classes of our citizens and to all sections of our country.

FARM LABOR SHORT

"I think it will be conceded that at the present time and for several years past there has been a dearth of farm labor in the Middle South and Far West. This has been brought about through changes in our economic life. The high wages being paid lately in industrial centers have become magnets drawing labor from the farms.

"Since restriction has been placed on immigration there has been little or no influx of agricultural labor from Europe to fill the gap. If this migration from farms to cities continues with no sources from which to replete the loss what will be the outcome? This is a question warranting careful thought.

"Emphasis has been laid upon reports of unemployment of labor in some of our manufacturing districts at the present time, yet I do not believe that this has a direct bearing on the subject under discussion. This belief is based upon the well-known fact that Mexican labor to a large extent engages solely in agricultural work. The Mexican is fundamentally rural. He prefers outdoor life. Again, the work in which he engages is mainly seasonal. He migrates to the farming sections of the Southwest and West and returns home when his work is finished. While a small percentage of this labor may seep into industry the records show that the great bulk either returns to Mexico or remains on the farm.

"The shortage of farm labor is accentuated in the beet-sugar industry and has brought about a critical situation."

The last witness to appear before the committee was W. H. Bond, of Gilbert, Ariz. He stated that farmers in his region, in a fifteen-year trial, had found Mexican labor the most satisfactory.

Aerial Toboggan

The picture shows the glider which will be piloted by Lieut. Ralph S. Barnaby when it is released like a bomb from a rack on the dirigible Los Angeles. The test is to be made as soon as weather permits. Its object is to determine the value of gliders in naval operations.

GLIDER PILOT PLANS STUNT

Lieut. Barnaby to Take Off From Flying Dirigible to Test Feasibility as Equipment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—A motorless glider will be launched for the first time from the navy's dirigible Los Angeles at Lakehurst, N. J., as soon as weather permits.

The experiment—to see whether gliders may not become an integral part of the equipment of the navy's present and future dirigibles—is expected to take place this week. Lieut. Ralph S. Barnaby will be in the cockpit.

The glider, attached like a bomb in a rack, can be released at will and its pilot can direct himself to a likely landing field where he could made a hasty survey and gather a force of men to aid in landing a dirigible.

Returning from a trip to the South, the Los Angeles has been groomed for the experiment with the construction of apparatus for holding and releasing the glider.

Attachment will be made at a single point and the glider drawn up tightly to the under side with its wings making contact with rubber cushions to keep it from moving.

The glider, newly acquired by the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics for this and other experiments, will be released in the line of flight and at the flying speed of the motorless messenger.

Lieut. Barnaby, only glider pilot in the Navy, and first American pilot to qualify for a first-class license of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, has installed special instruments for observations.

The craft will weigh 204 pounds. Airplanes have been launched from dirigibles, but it is held they are too heavy for regular equipment for the use to be demonstrated by the glider's test flight.

Talks Without Pain First Time
in Fifteen Years

I suffered fifteen years and thousands of dollars in a search for health, but the medicine that ever brought real and lasting relief was this wonderful new Sargon.

MRS. CHAS. H. CLARK.

I had a rheumatic condition which made it impossible for me to walk without cane or crutches. Most of the time I was so helpless I couldn't even wash a pocket handkerchief or do anything for myself. My whole system was so run down and out of order I had constipation and couldn't digest what I ate. I don't believe any one ever was in such a wretched state or suffered more agony. Within two weeks after I commenced taking Sargon I put aside crutches; then I laid aside the cane. I hadn't been without for years. I am thankful to say that now, go anywhere I please without any help whatever. I do the entire care of our flat, do all the cooking and the laundry work and even the ironing. The young folk in every week for dinner. Sargon gave me a wonderful appetite and put new stomach in such excellent condition that I can eat whatever I want without distress of any kind. It has been seven months since I quit taking Sargon and I have not had the slightest touch of constipation. Those Sargon Blue Mass Pills have been a great benefit to my husband as well as to me, in relieving us of habitual constipation from which we were victims of for years. If anyone wants to know what Sargon has done for me let them call on or write me at VAndike 5730 and I shall be delighted to tell them all about this marvelous medicine. I am now two years old, which means recovery all the more wonderful.

I have above grateful indorsement from Mrs. Chas. H. Clark, 6th at Ft., Los Angeles.

Sargon is helping thousands regain health by scientific principles discovered of a few short years ago. Men and women from all walks of life have testified to its curative powers, and as the news of this celebrated medicine has spread, carload after carload is being rushed to all parts to supply the demand. Drop in at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Main streets, and meet the Sargon man. He will give you the astonishing facts about this wonderful medicine which is accomplishing such remarkable results all over the country. The astonishing success of Sargon is based on actual results accomplished; not on mere promises. Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores throughout the Los Angeles and other cities.—Advertisement.

WIFE SOBS OUT BRADY DECLINE

Texas Murder Suspect Said to Have Been a Sot

His Morals Gone and Brain Dead, Say Witnesses

Basis Laid for Insanity Plea in Slaying of Girl

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 28. (AP)—Through the testimony of John W. Brady's wife and three other witnesses, the lawyers defending him here against a murder charge sought today to show that there had been a slow disintegration of Brady's moral fiber and death of his intellect before Miss Lehlia Highsmith, 28 years of age, whom he is accused of slaying, was stabbed to death November 9.

They drew out this testimony to prepare for an insanity plea and revealed that Drs. Joe and Goodall Wooten, both alienists, the latter the Bradys' family physician, will testify for their cause.

Brady wept when his wife broke down and cried as she described him as a man once remarkably brilliant, who through excessive drinking had become enfeebled physically and mentally, had turned away a lucrative practice and had changed everything from their early days "when we were very happy."

OTHERS ON STAND

The others who went on the stand for the ex-Civil Appeals Court judge were Rev. Valentine Lee, an Episcopal rector of Dallas, who formerly lived next door to the Bradys here; Mrs. D. T. White of El Paso, Brady's sister, and Mrs. Sam Pondrom, his ward until the time of her marriage.

Mrs. Brady said they had been married thirty years and that years ago he was not addicted to liquor and was "very bright." She said his defeat for a judgeship, ten years ago, first started him drinking immoderately and that in the last two or three years he had been using liquor "almost continually."

"Before he began immoderate drinking," she said, "he was a man of high ideals, but later his moral principles became very lax. He didn't care what anybody 'thought.'"

DRAMATIC SCENE

She testified she knew her husband and Miss Highsmith were having an affair.

One night, she said, she went to Miss Highsmith's room and Brady was there. He told her in substance, "This is ours." Then, she testified, they both said they wanted to "break off."

"She (Miss Highsmith) pleaded for mercy," the wife went on.

"Both of them begged me to help them. They said they wanted to be kind to me. I put my arms around her and told her I wouldn't push her in the gutter."

Then, she testified, Brady and the girl were not together again for some time except at the Brady home, where the girl took his dictation.

NEW RULING IN BARNETT CASE

Fall Without Rights to Give Indian's Money Away

Another Chapter Written in Fight Over Riches

Gifts to Church and Others Must be Returned

TOPEKA (Kan.) Jan. 28. (AP)—The United States Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals, in a decision announced today by Judge McDermott, held the Department of the Interior, while Albert B. Fall was Secretary, had no authority to transfer to others approximately $1,100,000 in bonds held in trust by the department for Jackson Barnett, wealthy Oklahoma Indian.

Among the sums involved in the transfer were $850,000 in bonds given to the American Baptist Home Mission Society, $400,000 given to Mrs. Barnett, the Indian's white wife, and $150,000 in attorney fees paid to Harold McGugin, Coffeyville, Kan.

The Circuit Court's ruling was handed down in a suit entitled United States vs. Mott and is a reversal of a decision by the Eastern Oklahoma Federal District Court.

Marshall W. Mott, an attorney, of Washington, was employed by McGugin to assist in the case. Mott received $15,000 and McGugin $150,000 as attorneys for Mrs. Barnett in the litigation growing out of her marriage to the aged Creek Indian.

AFFAIRS LONG INVOLVED

The opinion ruled that the Secretary of the Interior was without power to transfer the bonds to any person at any time. It remands the case for further proceedings to collect the money and return it to the government.

The United States District Court for New York ruled about a year ago that the transfer of the bonds to the American Baptist Home Mission Society was illegal and directed that the bonds be returned to the United States as guardian for Barnett.

Barnett's affairs have been involved in State and Federal courts for several years. Barnett was an illiterate Creek Indian whose allotment proved to be valuable oil lands.

In 1920 he was unmarried and living alone in a little cabin in Oklahoma. More than $1,000,000 in cash had accumulated and was invested in Liberty Bonds left with the Secretary of the Interior as guardian for Barnett.

PRODUCED THUMB PRINT

Anna Lowe, a white woman, became acquainted with Barnett in Oklahoma and they were married later at Coffeyville, Kan. McGugin, City Attorney at Coffeyville now, was employed by Mrs. Barnett as her attorney.

McGugin in 1922 presented to the Secretary of the Interior a request bearing the thumbprint signature of Barnett, that $550,000 of his money be given to the American Baptist Home Mission Society in trust for religious purposes, with him to have the major part of the income in his lifetime, and that $550,000 be paid to his wife, $200,000 of which she should put in trust and pay him part of the income.

After many months of effort, McGugin and Mott obtained approval of Secretary Fall to the transfer. The government in its case against Mott charged only that while the Secretary of the Interior was by statute the guardian of illiterate Indians, he had no power to give away their money.

MINER GIVES LIFE FOR SIX

Heroic Colorado Rescuer Dies in Flames With Family He Vainly Sought to Save

FREDERICK (Colo.) Jan. 28. (AP)—A mother, her five children and a heroic miner who sought to save them perished in a blazing two-room dwelling on the Slope mining property near here early today. The small frame building was destroyed and the bodies of the two adults and five children were charred beyond recognition.

The dead are Mrs. Della Martinez, 32 years of age; her children, Pauline, 12; Emma, 10; Rosie, 8; Ernest, 6; Francis, 14 months and Ernest Newlon, 35, caretaker of the Slope mine. Wild county authorities determined the fire was caused by an overheated stove.

Newlon and his wife Lily were asleep in their home about 100 feet away from the Martinez house when the fire broke out about 1 a.m. The miner rushed to the blazing dwelling scantily clad after telling his wife to summon aid. He made his way into the house by crashing through a window, she said.

"That was the last I saw of my husband," Mrs. Newlon said. "I heard him pounding on the walls inside but I was helpless to do anything. By the time anyone arrived it was too late."

Paul Martinez, husband of the woman and father of the children who lost their lives, was working at the Slope mine at the time of the fire.

OUSTED CHINESE RIOT AT HARBIN

Former Rail Workers Seek Withheld Salaries

Soviet Officials Worried and Ask Moscow's Advice

Situation in Manchuria Said to Be Dangerous

SHANGHAI, Jan. 28. (Exclusive) A dispatch from Harbin states that several hundred Chinese and white Russian employees of the Chinese Eastern Railway, recently dismissed when the soviet resumed control, gathered yesterday at the administration building and demanded their salaries, withheld by the soviet manager. When the manager refused their pay again the mob broke into riot.

"The Chinese Eastern Railway is now controlled by the Red Cheka, the real governors of North Manchuria, the ousted workers cried.

The mob appealed to the Chinese administration which promised to relieve the situation. The angry crowd was still congregated about the building late in the day. The Chinese police, who are in sympathy with the dismissed workers have not interfered.

OFFICERS NERVOUS

Soviet officers of the railroads are nervous over the events and are reported to have wired Moscow for advice.

Mo Te-hui, president of the railway, has arrived here from Harbin on his way to Nanking, where he will confer with President Chiang Kai-shek, Foreign Minister Wang and other government officials. The topic of their conference will be the north Manchurian situation and the scheduled Chinese-Russian conference at Moscow, scheduled for some time next month.

Mo Te-Hui was at one time governor of Mukden and minister of agriculture and commerce in the former Peiping government.

SITUATION CRITICAL

Mo Te-hui declared the situation in Manchuria is more critical and dangerous than it has been in years, due to China's defeat by Russia.

He also said widespread dissatisfaction is prevalent among the Chinese and that Manchuria's futile attempt to resist the full military strength of Russia has resulted in loss of the "flower of the Manchurian army" upon which China has heretofore depended for border defense.

The railway president also declared that the asserted soviet inspired Mongolian independence movement in the Barga district constitutes a crisis likely to result in China losing all territories west of the Hingham Mountain range.

Senator Moses Wisecracks at Former Issues

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—Calling the Senate "an Arcadian body ruled by an agricultural bloc," Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire tonight predicted that whatever happens to the tariff schedules, "the down-trodden farmers' demands will be heeded."

In a speech at a convention of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association, Moses made several humorous thrusts at the farm bloc and other leagues in the Senate.

"I hesitate to criticise the farmer," he said, "because no slave ever speaks ill of his master."

The Senator expressed the belief, however, that when the tariff bill goes from the Senate to conference "all the elements that spread prosperity in the United States will be provided for."

Sponey, Named in Wheeler-Reid Case, Gets Fine

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Delbert P. Sponey, reputed to have "eloped" with the wife of his employer, Leslie Wheeler-Reid, wealthy Los Angeles publisher, was fined $100 and costs on a statutory charge today.

Sponey was employed by Reid as an accountant. His wife was in court.

Reid is said to have instituted divorce proceedings against his wife. The latter did not appear in court.

PLANES MENACE FRUIT CROPS

Orange County Ranchers Combat New Danger

Fear Plant Disease Will Come from Mexico

Inspection of Air Liners is Suggested

SANTA ANA, Jan. 28.—The Mediterranean fruit fly apparently having been confined to Florida after millions of dollars had been spent in attacking it, California agriculturists today were banding together to eliminate a new menace to the orange and avocado crops of the State, it was learned.

This new menace is created by the practice of air transport companies sending their planes from Agua Caliente direct to Los Angeles without inspection for plant pests. The planes fly directly over San Diego and Orange counties. If a passenger should throw overboard an orange containing the Mexican orange maggot the entire citrus crop would be threatened, it is pointed out.

Some experts believe that the "Medfly" was introduced into Florida through fruit thrown overboard from planes engaged in the rum-running business. California agriculturists wish to take no such chances with the Agua Caliente ships.

Under a plan suggested to the United States Department of Agriculture the big trimotored passenger carriers would land at the San Diego Airport for inspection of passenger baggage.

Carl Newman of Irvine, president of the California Avocado Growers, said his organization had interested itself in the fight to force inspection and it is known that the citrus growers have sent similar petitions to the Federal department in Washington.

County Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock pointed out that the Mexican orange maggot is not the only deadly fruit parasite that could be introduced from the airplanes that fly daily over Orange county. Several scale insects, including the pink boll worm, common in Mexico, could easily be introduced into the county and State from the air, he said.

So far no pests have been found traceable to the Agua Caliente-Los Angeles planes, but the danger is real and must be eliminated, citrus experts declared.

READY TO FIGHT INVASION OF MEDITERRANEAN FLY

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 28.—If the Mediterranean fruit fly invades California the State Department of Agriculture, in conjunction with the Federal department and the county agricultural commissioner's forces, will be able to eradicate it, G. H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture, declared in an address at the Chamber of Commerce to citrus growers of Riverside and Redlands.

If an outbreak of the fruit pest should occur in this State it would be discovered almost immediately by the large corps of experts who are keeping constant guard against an invasion and an army of 400 to 500 men could be placed in the field to combat it within twenty-four hours, Hecke declared.

With Federal funds for eradication of the fly in Florida exhausted, the Mediterranean fruit-fly situation is very serious at present, Hecke declared in summing up conditions in Florida after giving a brief review of events of the campaign against the pest. He also expressed high hope that an additional appropriation of $15,000,000 will be made within a few days for continuing eradication work.

"The Mediterranean fruit-fly situation in Florida is most serious right now," Director Hecke declared. "Florida people have questioned the sincerity of California interest in eradication of the fruit fly. We admit that our interest is partly selfish. California would much rather fight the Mediterranean fly in Florida than in California.

"The fruit fly may come to California. If it does I feel confident that we will be aware of it immediately because of the unfailing watch that is being kept for any indications of an outbreak. If the fruit fly invades California, it will be possible to eradicate it because preparations have been made for combating such an invasion. An army of 400 to 500 men could be thrown in the field within twenty-four hours to battle against it.

"Allegations are made that the $5,000,000 provided by the Federal government for fighting the fruit fly, has been wasted. Propaganda against the Florida quarantine claims that the fruit fly has existed there for twenty-five years. As a result the situation in Washington is up in the air and a battle will be necessary to obtain the additional appropriation of $15,000,000 needed to continue the work. California's legislators are strong for the appropriation and all of the ten other western States are supporting it.

"Effectively to carry on the battle against the fruit fly, the entire $15,000,000 should be appropriated immediately. If it is split up those in charge will be handicapped in mapping out their campaign because of uncertainty as to the total money which will be available. Although there has been a great deal of controversy over additional appropriations I feel confident that funds will be made available shortly."

Declaring that the Mediterranean fruit fly has not been eradicated, but is dormant because of the cold weather, Hecke pointed out that within a month or two the process of reproduction will be started again. Eradication of the fly may take from three to five years and during that time a standing force of men must be kept on the job in Florida, according to Hecke.

POMONA, Jan. 28.—Showing an 80 per cent increase in volume of business over that of 1928, A. G. McKenna, chairman of the board of directors of the Pomona Pump Company, gave out his annual report at the meeting of the board of directors of the concern today. He cited numerous large increases in the plant and equipment which were necessary to take care of the large increase in business.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-eight showed a 100 per cent gain over that of 1927, making a growth of 183 per cent during the past two years.

In anticipation of continued growth, the company recently obtained authorization to increase its capital stock from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000, he stated.

The board of directors named at today's meeting for the ensuing year include George A. McKenna, Donald C. McKenna, Joseph A. Allard, Jr., Charles P. Curran, F. L. Lucas and William A. Kennedy. Officers were chosen as follows: Chairman of the board of directors, A. G. McKenna; president, George A. McKenna; vice-president, Charles P. Curran; secretary, A. G. McKenna; treasurer, William A. Kennedy. Appointed officers are: Vice-president in charge of sales, W. H. Day; vice-president in charge of manufacturing, F. E. Watkins; attorney, Joseph A. Allard.

FRUIT MEN RETURN

Distributors Make Trip East and Report Market Good in Spite of Handicaps

REDLANDS, Jan. 28.—F. C. Fitzgibbon, traffic manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, and J. A. Steward, sales manager, have just returned from a business trip to the eastern markets. They say the market for oranges has recently been affected by extremely cold weather. "We had temperatures of 21 deg. below zero near Chicago," Mr Steward said.

"Coupled with the weather's unfavorable features, there has been considerable sales resistance to large sizes. Ordinarily large oranges will sell better than the small ones, but the citrus industry tried throughout the last season to market an immense crop of small sizes. The industry finally got the buyers just where it wanted them, if another crop of small sizes should have come along. Now that large oranges are in preponderance, another campaign of education must succeed before the prices get where they should be.

"Florida's crop, too, is of large sizes, but California fruit is bringing about $2 more per box. The trade is reluctant to deal in Florida oranges, so they are somewhat of a drug on the market.

"Too many eastern consumers of oranges don't know a Florida orange from a California orange. Occasionally they unwittingly buy Florida oranges, taste the inferior fruit and refuse to buy more oranges for a long time The Mediterranean fruit fly scare has not affected the market except for the fact that the eating qualities of Florida oranges have been lowered. That would improve California prices if the public knew its oranges. Some of the fruit from fly-infested Florida districts is sprayed; some of it is processed by heat. Neither treatment improves the orange. The heating process makes the orange insipid and such a condition cannot help but affect the consumption of oranges."

Mr. Steward and Mr. Fitzgibbon attended four conventions and traveled several thousand miles. Their first conference was the Eastern Canada Fruit Jobbers' Association convention in Toronto. Then they met in Detroit with the National League of Commission Merchants, then the Chicago convention of the American Fruit and Vegetable Shippers. At St. Louis they met with the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association.

Police Aid in Drive Against Bad Magazines

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 28.—Mrs. A. R. Edmondson, president of the Parent-Teacher Council, and Roy Eichelberger, principal of the Santa Barbara Junior High School and chairman of the juvenile protection committee of the P.-T.A., today mailed letters to magazine dealers in Santa Barbara asking their co-operation in the matter of ridding Santa Barbara of salacious and lewd magazines and periodicals. The letters will be delivered to the news dealers by policemen, Mrs. Edmondson stated.

"We believe that all the news dealers will co-operate with us in the matter," she said, "and that we will not have to take any other action. Chief of Police Sloan has said that he will give us any co-operation he can in the matter, but we feel sure that no action will be necessary and that the dealers will co-operate. Several years ago when a similar drive was being made, the magazines were taken from the stands, but were still sold when called for by their patrons. If the dealers will co-operate in the way we believe they will, there will be none of this sort of thing to follow."

Eichelberger, when questioned, expressed the same belief that co-operation in controlling the situation will be forthcoming from the dealers. "We believe the combined efforts of the police department and the P.-T.A. will check the sale of this brand of literature in the city," he said.

Ventura Crops Show Nice Gain

VENTURA, Jan. 28.—Ventura county crops during 1929 showed an increase in valuation over those of 1928 by $2,177,439.70, it was announced today by A. H. Call, county horticultural commissioner, when he concluded his annual compilation on county crop valuations.

The county's crops in 1929, according to Call's report, were worth $23,539,101.79, which is exclusive of live stock, honey and the dairy industry. The total valuation of dairy products sold during the year, according to a compilation made by Dr. J. A. King, county health officer, and Max Heinsman, county milk inspector, was $1,135,000, an increase over 1928 of $16,595.

TUJUNGA DAM WILL USE LOTS OF CEMENT

TUJUNGA, Jan. 28.—Engineers here today estimate that 102,000 barrels of cement will be used in the construction of the Big Tujunga Dam, which, at the contract price, will cause an expenditure of nearly $200,000. Taking into consideration all other material costs and the labor costs the dam will cost a little more than $1,000,000 to complete. The fund allocated for the construction of the dam is $1,226,000.

STREET IMPROVEMENT

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 28.—Bids are to be opened on February 3 for the improvement of that section of Miles avenue from Slauson avenue to the north city limits, which will connect with Soto street in Vernon, which is being improved at the present time by that city. When this work and that in Vernon is completed, this will provide a new improved north-and-south boulevard leading directly into Boyle Heights as well as to the foothill communities to the north.

FORGERY ADMITTED

HANFORD, Jan. 28.—Irving Randall, accused of forging the signature of D. Truble, Kings county farmer, on checks totaling $125, pleaded guilty in Superior Court here today, waived his rights and received a sentence in Folsom prison. HANFORD, Jan. 28.—The race for the Kings county Superior judgeship has been made a three-cornered campaign, by the entry of Attorney J. C. C. Russell as a candidate for the nomination at the August primary. Russell has practiced law here more than a quarter-century. He will oppose K. Van Zante, incumbent, and J. W. Ferguson, now District Attorney.

POMONA DRUGGISTS ARRESTED

State Inspector Charges Sale of Drugs in Absence of Licensed Pharmacist

POMONA, Jan. 28.—Charging Samuel Nason and Morris Shimbane, both employees of the R. and B. Drug Store, located at 362 West Second street in this city, with "taking charge and acting as managers of the R. and B. Pharmacy while the store was open to the public for business, selling drugs, medicine and poisons during the temporary absence of Luther F. Smith, who was then and there a registered pharmacist," J. W. Bentley, inspector for the State Pharmacy Board, came to Pomona today and caused the pair's arrest. Co-operating with him, local police arrested them on his signed complaint. Arraigned before Police Judge E. H. Bowen, each was released on $100 bail, pending hearing on Thursday afternoon.

In November Nason was arrested under Pomona's emergency wine tonic ordinance and was fined $500 on one count of the complaint and $250 on a second. Sentence was suspended on the first count for two years, but the fine was paid on the second.

GLENDALE, Jan. 28.—As a part of the annual banquet and installation of officers of the Glendale Realty Board on Thursday night, a display of products manufactured in Glendale factories will be exhibited at the Masonic Temple, L. H. Wilson, president of the board, announced today.

William H. Daum, president of the California Real Estate Association; Glenn D. Williaman, secretary of the association, and Supervisor Henry W. Wright will be the speakers, with Daum conducting the installation of the board's officers for the coming year.

COMMITTEE TO ASK CHANGE IN ORDER

CALEXICO, Jan. 28.—Enforcement of a new Mexican rule, which prevents Mexicali residents from carrying merchandise across the international line after 5 p.m. daily, is interfering with the business of American retail stores here to such an extent that President E. M. Beidleman of the local Chamber of Commerce has named a special committee to request modification of the order.

Under Mexican customs rulings citizens of that country are permitted to carry purchases amounting to less than $10 into their own country without paying duty. This class of patronage amounts to nearly 80 per cent of the gross business in some local establishments, Beidleman said today. The restriction, which closes the line to the small-merchandise purchases at 5 o'clock, has caused a serious loss of trade to a number of stores here, he explained, and the newly appointed committee will ask for a conference with Mexican officials in an effort to have the restriction taken off.

APATHY IS SHOWN IN VALLEY REGISTRATION

OWENSMOUTH, Jan. 28.—Apparently the public is becoming more and more indifferent to elections. Registration officials here and in other parts of San Fernando Valley today state that up to date very few voters have shown interest in the coming primary or general election. Only a small percentage have reregistered as required by law. In order to stir up the apparent apathy vote registrars in all parts of San Fernando Valley are going into homes and asking the heads of families to reregister.

MORE RANCHERS ASK DAMAGES

Six New Suits Filed in Ventura County

Farmers Ask Pay from Edison Company

Claims Based on Canyon Fire in September

VENTURA, Jan. 28.—Six more suits were filed in the Superior Court here today asking a total of $35,704.40 damages for loss in the Sulphur Mountain fire, said to be caused by a break in the high-power transmission line of the Southern California Edison Company at the Doheny ranch in Santa Paula Canyon last September 16.

The plaintiffs in today's actions and the amounts for which they are suing are: Santa Paula Home Telephone Company, $1568.60; S. M. Derbyshire, $17,264.80; J. F. Obiols, $6900; John Petit, et al, $5388; Justin Petit, $3380; Hartman Ranch Company, $2103.

Shortly after the fire, a hearing was held before the Ventura county fire commission at Santa Paula, where the statements of Edison company employees only were taken. A tentative finding as to the cause of the fire was made, and while denying responsibility the Edison company paid to the Ventura county fire district $3693.73, and to the Santa Barbara National Forest $2300.65.

Since the filing of the suits, which now aggregate about $400,000, the litigation has been taken over by the insurance companies who are resisting payment of the claims to the individuals suffering loss, though the county and forest service have been paid. It is expected that suits will be tried in March, as answers have been filed to the various suits by the insurance companies.

Injuries Fatal to Plane Pilot

EL CENTRO, Jan. 28.—Emerson T. Showell, licensed airplane pilot, died in the hospital here at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the second victim of the crash which occurred three miles north of this city last Friday morning when the Travel Air plane in which he was riding with Robert Glenn of La Mesa, went into a tail-spin at an altitude of 500 feet.

Glenn, riding in the front seat, was killed instantly. Showell was lifted from the rear cockpit unconscious and never recovered enough to explain the cause of the accident.

Deputy Coroner Charles C. Cockley stated this afternoon that an inquest over the bodies of both men would be held tomorrow morning.

ROAD CAMP PRISONER GIVEN PRISON TERM

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—Robert Conrey, 22 years of age, the first and only county road camp prisoner to attempt escape, will serve from one to five years in San Quentin, under sentence pronounced today by Judge C. N. Andrews. An appeal for probation was denied.

Conrey was sent to the road camp late last year for failure to provide for a small child. Township Justice Arthur L. Mundo had previously shown leniency in an attempt to persuade Conrey to provide for the child. Conrey promised good behavior, but had hardly reached the camp before he took advantage of the honor system in use and walked "over the hill."

He was overtaken six hours later by H. H. Osmun, who lodged Conrey in the County Jail and the Sheriff launched the move to send Conrey to prison for the felony attempt to escape.

The collection is said to include many pieces that are not duplicated in any American museum.

Bissell is now planning the start of another cruise that will take him to many parts of the South Seas that he was unable to visit on his former trip.

SANATORIUM ORDERED SHUT

Pasadena Directors Revoke Permit After Protest by Citizens

PASADENA, Jan. 28.—Stories of "175 dreadful nights" experienced by residents in the vicinity of the Clearview Sanatorium, 1608 North Fair Oaks avenue, caused the Board of City Directors to issue an order today, requiring the institution to discontinue operation within fifteen days.

"Since last August there probably have been 175 nights when screams and yells from the sanatorium prevented near-by residents from sleeping," asserted George W. Newman of 1609 North Raymond avenue.

Mr. Newman quoted instances of inmates kept manacled, and described the narrow escape of his daughter from a demented inmate who broke away and entered her home. Mrs. Iris Woolard, the daughter, recounted her terrifying experience.

"Patients hang on the wire fence like monkeys and tell my little boy they'll scratch his eyes out and tear out his heart," she declared.

Mrs. A. L. Beck, questioned by City Director N. J. Shupe, asserted she had seen doctors "snap a towel at patients because they wouldn't sit down," and that she had heard screams of "Help!" and "Don't doctor," followed by what sounded like blows being struck.

Mrs. Susie Strating told of seeing nurses at the sanatorium forced to separate male and female patients.

Another property owner, Mrs. Alice Thomas, revealed that her daughter, a young mother, had been terrified by a "crazy man" trying to enter their yard.

Dr. James A. B. Scherer, who owns a house in the neighborhood, testified that the institution "is a menace to our welfare and is injuring the good name of the city."

"Out-of-town papers are seizing on the opportunity to broadcast the fact that Pasadena is menaced by a pest spot on one of its principal thoroughfares," he declared.

Motion for revocation of the sanatorium's special permit was then made by Director Paul Merrill and voted unanimously.

Scott Thompson of the local secondary school system announced today. District trustees have just awarded the contract to R. J. Chute of Los Angeles at a total cost of $142,935. The bid was $25,000 below the estimate. Chute's single contract provides for work on both schools and all painting, electric wiring and heating usually handled in separate awards.

MARRIED WOMEN TO LOSE JOBS

San Diego County to Bar Housewives from Employment

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—The county government no longer will employ married women whose husbands are able to support them, nor will it employ single or married women with independent incomes, the Board of Supervisors has decided.

Supervisors E. A. Hornbeck and Edgar Hastings were appointed members of a committee to check over the county pay roll in all departments in search of such women employees.

"There is a woman on the County Welfare Commission," said Hornbeck, "whose husband has an income of $400 per month. She draws almost that much herself from the county, and hires a maid to do her housework."

Similar cases were mentioned by other members of the board. "With unemployment rife in San Diego, it is manifestly unfair for the county to hire women who don't need the money," it was stated.

Dangerous Fire Trap, Says Jury at Santa Ana

SANTA ANA, Jan. 28.—Declaring that it acted "in the interests of Santa Ana school children" the county grand jury today filed a special report with Superior Judge James L. Allen depicting the Frances E. Willard Junior High School on North Main street, as a fire trap and a menace to life. The grand jury recommended that the buildings situated on the east side of Main street be immediately condemned and abandoned.

Accompanying its report with photographs illustrating structural weakness and conditions which it is claimed threaten the safety of children and teachers, the grand jury urged that use of the buildings "be discontinued before some great calamity or holocaust occurs."

A copy of the report has been forwarded to the Santa Ana board of education, it was stated.

Compton Depot Model Station

COMPTON, Jan. 28.—The Pacific Electric will use its Compton depot as a model in interior arrangement to be followed by other stations throughout the system, it was reported here today. For two weeks officials of the company have been busy rearranging records and warehouse storage in conformity with a plan advanced by General Manager Mercier. Mr. Mercier himself has just given final approval to the project after a visit for inspection.

Other agents from stations throughout the system are now being asked to visit the local depot to view the model arrangement.

Meanwhile, the local Chamber of Commerce has a committee busy in a move to seek an entirely new building for the local depot. The structure was built twenty years ago and local leaders assert it is out of date. The committee plans to have a conference soon with Pacific Electric officials.

COMPTON CONSIDERS CHARITY CHEST PLAN

COMPTON, Jan. 28.—Compton may soon join the list of communities using the Community Chest plan of collecting and budgeting the expenditures of charity funds. Hemmed in on either side by Community Chest organizations in Los Angeles and Long Beach a number of business men and civic leaders are becoming weary of a succession of drives every year for different charitable purposes. This week a questionnaire is being sent out to every organization in the city to determine public sentiment on the subject.

The Compton District Health Center Association is taking the lead in the movement. Composed of representatives of other civic bodies the association recently named a committee to study the subject. Members are Dr. F. E. Estes, local county health officer; J. W. Gastrich, school superintendent; and W. J. Crock, local manager of the Southern California Edison Company.

After several meetings the committee has prepared a questionnaire which its members believe will test sentiment thoroughly. Copies are being sent approximately forty different Compton civic and fraternal organizations. If overwhelming support for a chest or some other method of collecting the community's annual charity funds at one time each year is shown the Health Center Association will sponsor the organization.

Bits of Transportation History

The Fight Against Friction

Until the discovery of mineral oil, man depended upon animal fats for lubrication. In 1846, a device for automatically feeding liquid oils to an axle was invented, causing more whaling ships to scour the northern seas for sperm whales. Whales became more scarce as the demand increased. With the Civil War, the whaling industry came to an end. And just when the lack of lubrication bade fair to paralyze the industry of the world, the hills of Pennsylvania gave up the first of earth's black gold.

3,304,757 BARRELS OF OIL

—more than the production of the entire State of Pennsylvania*—

That's Rio Grande's output for 1929

Since 1859, Pennsylvania has been a great oil-producing state — 70 years of uninterrupted production! Yet today, 14 years after its founding, Rio Grande is producing and handling through its own pipe lines, marine terminals, tank cars and refineries, more crude oil than the entire output of the state of Pennsylvania! Marking the locations of deep bores in the earth's surface, more than a hundred derricks stand guard over Rio Grande crude oil production in eight famous fields of California and Texas.

Rio Grande crude oil production, ranking in quality and volume with the world's leaders, keeps Rio Grande's many refineries and gasoline plants operating twenty-four hours each day—supplying its superior products to both domestic and foreign markets.

RAIL LINK PLAN GAINS SUPPORT

New Line for Northern and Western Pacific Urged

Groups Say Connection of North to South Needed

Federal Commission Given Seven Briefs on Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Support of the proposed new line of the Great Northern and the Western Pacific railroads, which would form a 200-mile connection between Klamath Falls, Or., and Keddie, Cal., was given in seven briefs filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission from various western points.

Those advocating approval of the proposed route are the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad, Board of City Commissioners of Salt Lake City, the Salt Lake County Board of Commissioners, the Utah Coal Producers' Association, the Utah Shippers' Traffic Association, the Utah Public Utilities Commission, the San Francisco and Oakland chambers of commerce, the county and city of San Francisco, the city of Oakland, the Downtown Association of San Francisco, the North Dakota and Montana boards of railroad commissioners, Washington State Department of Public Works, the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, the Spokane Merchants' Association, the Seattle and Tacoma chambers of commerce, the Board of Supervisors of Sutter county California; California State Grange, the Chamber of Commerce of Rio Vista, the Gridley Community Club, the Modesto Chamber of Commerce, the Oroville and Allied Communities Chamber of Commerce, the Sacramento Federated Trades Council, the Stockton Chamber of Commerce, the Vacaville Chamber of Commerce and the Yuba County Chamber of Commerce.

At present the Southern Pacific has the only north-south connection along the Pacific Coast, and it has opposed approval of the proposal of the other two carriers.

If the Great Northern and Western Pacific connection is approved, two of the largest transportation systems in the West would be connected and proponents of the plan pointed out in the briefs filed today that "there is no other section of the United States where such a large and important territory is dependent upon a single line of railroad."

HEALTH LAMP TO GIVE LIGHT

Bulbs for General House Use Being Perfected

Tungsten Filament Used With Mercury Tube

Rays of Sun Said to Be Thus Simulated

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—An electric lamp for general use which will give off healthful rays like sunlight is in the process of development by engineers.

Dr. M. Luckeish, director of lighting research for the National Electric Lamp Works of the General Electric Company, described the lamp at the convention of electrical engineers and outlined the possibilities seen for it when perfected.

MERCURY USED

The lamp contains tungsten filament such as is used in ordinary light bulbs together with a mercury tube. Heat from the filament vaporizes the mercury, creating an arc which is completed almost instantly after the current is turned on. The tungsten emits 68 per cent of the light, the mercury arc 25 per cent and the filament, 7 per cent.

"This light," Dr. Luckeish said, "is the first practical source for simulating sunlight which has been developed with a possible new era of lighting in mind.

"The new era aims at simulated sunlight, adequate and proper for vision and in addition supplying health benefits of sunlight to those who work and play indoors."

WALL TREATMENT AIDS

Sunlight, he said, does cure and prevent rickets and statistics indicate that the death rate is lower in periods of plentiful sunshine than in its absence. Furthermore, he said, sunlight is closely related to one or two vitamins, possibly to all of them.

Dr. Luckeish said there is evidence that the benefits of the simulated sunlight can be obtained by persons wearing ordinary clothing whose faces and hands are exposed only, but said that in nurseries, schools and gymnasiums, greater benefits could be obtained by wearing of less clothing.

Walls and ceilings of rooms, he said, should be treated with some material which would conserve ultra-violet rays to derive the full effect of artificial sunlight.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tabets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c. —[Advertisement.

SCIENCE SEEKS RADIO FAN LIKES

Reaction to Air Programs Will be Measured

Unique Psychological Tests Planned in Research

Device Expected to Disclose Secrets of Heart

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (NANA) Add to the "kissograph" of motion pictures, the "supersensitive multiple electrical stethoscope" by which the radio impresarios now propose to find out what people like and do not like on the radio.

Since fan mail response is no longer considered a fair index to the popularity of broadcast programs, it is proposed to determine audience reaction to various types of programs by measuring the heart actions of a group of listeners as they assemble in the New York studios of the Columbia Broadcasting System the evening of February 6.

This being an era of devious inquiry into matters psychological, the claims made for the supersensitive stethoscope are interesting. The device is described simply as "a new piece of medical apparatus to be found only in the most modernly equipped hospitals."

AUDIENCE SELECTED

The tests, it is stated, will be conducted by research scientists of the Western Electric Company. Among those who will undergo tests are Prof. Robert S. Woodworth, Columbia University psychologist; Heywood Broun, newspaper writer; Rev. Thomas Wepley, preacher; Eva Le Gallienne, actress; Claudette Colbert, actress, and Guy Lombardo, orchestra leader.

"After the normal heart action of each has been recorded," says a statement from the Columbia Broadcasting Company, "they will be 'exposed' to various types of programs, ranging from the crooning of blues songs to the playing of a symphony orchestra. A heart action reading will be made of every type."

WHAT THEY REALLY LIKE

Scientists believe the tests should reveal some startling facts. They contend that the clergy may have a subdued craving for the red-hot jazz tunes, while the actress who croons her way into the hearts of the tired business man may long for the beauties of Beethoven and Bach.

In short, the scientists think many of the radio audience do not know what they want, while in the cases of some others their positions in life may force them to express a preference at variance with the dictates of their own minds as faithfully indicated by heart reactions.

Whatever the results of this experiment, they are bound to tax the credulity of a great mass of radio listeners who insist they know their own program preferences and predilections. In any case, the story of radio tests by heart-beat measurements is bound to attract a lot of attention and interest.

So did the description of the "kissograph," a device whereby motion-picture directors measure the intensity of feeling registered in amatory scenes. So did the engagement of a sex psychologist by a large film company for the ostensible purpose of studying emotional reactions in picture audiences.

BRITISH DETER ALIEN SPOUSAL

American Naval Delegation Bachelors Seem Text of Official Warning

LONDON, Jan. 28. (AP)—British women who marry Americans have no country.

So far as Great Britain is concerned they are aliens. To become Americans they must be naturalized, Foreign Secretary Henderson elucidated when questioned in the House of Commons.

There have been no indications of perturbation because of bachelors among the American delegation to the naval parley.

HYDE FIGHTS JOINT FARM BOARD PLAN

Letter from Secretary to McNary Stresses His Opposition to Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Opposition to consolidation of the Federal Farm Loan Board with the Federal Farm Board as proposed in a bill by Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, was expressed today by Secretary Hyde in a letter to Chairman McNary of the Senate Agriculture Committee, which has the measure under consideration.

Hyde asserted there is a wide difference in the functions of the two boards in the field which they were designed to occupy in the financial service to be rendered, in their objectives and in their administrative point of view.

"The Federal Farm Board," he said, "is confronted with a multitude of problems of great variety. It would be unfair and unwise to add the additional duty of administering the Federal Farm Loan System."

EMPLOYEES OF CHICAGO HANG UP SOX

And Today Treasurer Will Stuff 'Em With Taxation Warrants in Lieu of Pay

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Tonight was a sort of Christmas Eve to 4000 Cook county public servants who, together with city employees have been unpaid for weeks because of empty county and city treasuries.

Tomorrow the county treasurer, who has not signed a pay check for ever so long, will don his Santa Claus uniform and pass out tax anticipation warrants in lieu of the salary checks ignored by the paymaster since the first of the year.

The employees—glad enough to receive some acknowledgement of their services to the impecunious county—remain somewhat at sea as to the value of the warrants. Neither county, city nor school board can pay in cash because of a twenty-month hiatus without tax collections, and the county board has determined to try the warrant method.

"I have made inquiries in my neighborhood," said one worker in the Sheriff's office, "and find that the chain stores will not accept the warants, while the local banks demand a 7 per cent discount."

But William J. Graham, county comptroller, was more sanguine:

"There can be no question of their acceptability," he said. "If the banks won't take these warrants, gilt-edged securities, what will they take?" He said the downtown department stores have indicated the warrants, equivalent to first liens on the taxes collected in 1931, will be redeemed at par.

FIRE DEATHS CHARGED TO HOTEL MEN

Three of Four Arrested in St. Louis Horror Held for Arson and Murder

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28. (AP)—Warrants charging arson and murder in the first degree were issued today against three of four men arrested in a revived investigation into the burning of the Hotel Buckingham Annex December 5, 1927, in which seven persons perished.

The men named are Ralph Pierson, 52 years of age, St. Louis real estate dealer and part owner of the hotel at the time of the fire, Andrew B. Meadows, 52, night watchman at the hotel, who confessed he fired the building, and Robert Henry Cotham, 58, night clerk at the time of the fire, who has admitted, police said, he hired Meadows to set the fire.

Cotham told police, they said, that Pierson suggested the fire as a means of collecting insurance and delivering the hotel company from receivership. Pierson has denied any knowledge of the arson plot, as has Lewis E. Balson, majority owner at the time of the fire. Balson is held for investigation. All four are held without bonds.

In building, plan for telephone convenience!

A touch of a key, and your extension telephone system becomes intercommunicating

Of course you will want extension telephones in the new home—the main station in the library, perhaps, and extensions in owner's bedroom and in the kitchen.

With a little forethought, and the counsel of the Telephone Company (which your architect or builder knows is freely and instantly given), you can also have an intercommunicating system.

Practically all wiring can be built into the house, out of sight and out of mind.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

At the village gates through which the blacks poured in panic, Korak left them to the tender mercies of his allies and turned eagerly to find Meriem. In scores of filthy huts he searched, becoming more disheartened as he found each empty. At last to his mind came the despairing conviction—Meriem had been killed. A wave of rage surged through him against those he believed were responsible for her end. Revenge, at least, was his!

In the distance he could hear the snarling of the baboons mixed with the screams of their victims, and toward them he made his way. Swift, relentless, terrible, he hurled himself upon the savage warriors of Kovudoo. Like a lion he was here, there, everywhere, striking mighty blows from hard fists, with the precision of the trained fighter. Again and again he was upon a warrior and gone to another before an effective blow could be dealt him.

Finally it was the simple superstitious minds of his foemen that decided the combat. This white warrior, who consorted with fierce baboons, who growled and snarled and snapped like a beast was not human! He was a forest demon, a god of evil whom they had offended, and who had come out of his lair deep in the jungle to punish them. It was useless to offer further resistance. Those who could fled, until not one remained alive enough to fight.

Korak, panting, paused for want of victims. The baboons too had tired with battle. And thus it befell that Korak drove from their homes the only people who might have aided him in his search for Meriem. Sick at heart he realized now to the full what she had meant to him. Brooding and despondent he took leave of the baboons, taking his solitary way into the deepest jungle. And all the while Meriem was scarce a hundred miles away.

Net Earnings of Woolworth Fraction Off

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (Exclusive) F. W. Woolworth Company reported today net income for 1929 of $35,-664,252 after all charges equal to $3.86 a share on 9,750,000 capital shares of $10 par value outstanding, as against $35,385,606 or $3.63 a share on the same share basis for 1928.

Sales for the year aggregated $303,047,172 against $287,318,720 in 1928, an increase of $15,728,452. On December 31, last, there were 1825 stores in operation against 1725 at the end of 1928, a gain of 100.

Commenting on the annual report H. T. Parson, president, pointed out that while the cash item was down to $6,500,000, capital investment was increased $16,000,000 out of cash. This money went into real estate, buildings, new stores, improvements for old stores and merchandise. Merchandise account for 1929 was heavier for the fiftieth anniversary sales and there is only a small percentage of Christmas stocks carried over in this total, he said.

All provable claims will be paid 100 per cent, officials said. The principal creditor is Julius Kayser & Co., of New York, with more than $143,000 due. Bank of California has notes on the Moss company totaling above $80,000. Losses in eastern stores were reported the cause of the financial pinch. Assets of $335,221 value merchandise at $263,000. Debts are listed at $277,843.

FOX RECEIVERSHIP HELD UP

Court Orders Two Weeks' Delay to Permit Bankers to Work Out Refinancing Plan

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—A two weeks' adjournament in the consummation of the voting trust agreement between the Fox Film Corporation and its voting trustees, Class B stockholders and William Fox, to permit the bankers time to complete their refinancing plan was ordered today by Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman. The action stays all applications for receivership.

While this order was being issued, two default judgments against the corporation, totaling $690,246, including interest, were filed in the County Clerk's office by the Corn Exchange Bank and Trust Company and the Bankers' Trust Company.

The order signed by Judge Coleman prevents the execution during the two weeks' period, of any judgments by the banks involved against either Fox himself or any of his interests. It prevents alienation of any property, or consent judgments against Fox or his interests. It also prevents an application for voluntary receivership by Fox or his interests, unless Judge Coleman is first notified and all parties concerned are given an opportunity to be heard.

Judge Coleman set February 11, next, for reappearance of the bankers working on the refinancing plan. Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Mr. Fox, said all parties concerned had signed the voting trust agreement.

The agreement, as Mr. Untermyer summarized it for Judge Coleman, provides for an increase in the Class-A common stock of the film corporation to 4,900,000 shares and an increase in the board of directors from eight to twelve, with Class-A stockholders entitled to elect five and Class-B holders seven directors. If the company fails to pay four consecutive quarterly dividends, however, the Class-A stockholders are to have the right to elect only three directors.

TRANSAMERICA SCOPE WIDE

George N. Armsby Tells of Giannini-Blair Trade; Looks for Early Improvement in Security Prices

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Among the dozens of business trades he has negotiated in his investment banking career, George N. Armsby, vice-president of Bancamerica-Blair Corporation, takes particular pride in the part he played in bringing the Giannini and Blair interests together. He recalled yesterday, in discussing future activities of the Transamerica Corporation, that he and A. P. Giannini have been friends since the days when he was in the fruit-packing business in San Francisco and Mr. Giannini was a produce merchant on the water front.

Through the friendship the negotiations were started that resulted in the alliance of the banking house of Blair & Co., Inc., with the Bank of America of New York. Recently this relationship was made closer through the election of several of the former Blair partners to important administrative offices in Transamerica, the Giannini holding company.

EXPANSION SEEN

Mr. Armsby has been instrumental in the formation of such companies as California Packing, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Petroleum Corporation of America, General Outdoor Advertising, National Department Stores, Pathe Exchange and others and is now a director of Transamerica. The Transamerica Corporation, he prophesies, will undertake considerable expansion in the East and in Europe in the next few years under the general program of solidifying and diversifying its international activities.

Bancamerica - Blair Corporation, as its chief investment banking unit in New York and abroad, anticipates a satisfactory business this year in the underwriting and distribution of securities, he said. Underwriting of foreign issues should improve substantially after the settlement of the International Bank affairs and the reaching of an agreement on German reparations.

Telephonic conversations with his New York associates indicate, Mr. Armsby said, that a sizeable volume of domestic bond financing is scheduled for this year, and that it is expected that prices for the seasoned issues will steadily improve. For his part, he believes that both bonds and sound stocks will reflect the improved status of general business much quicker than most people think.

FILM GROWTH RAPID

Concerning the amusement business, with which Mr. Armsby has had some connection as a banker, he expressed the opinion that the recent troubles of the Fox companies are only the natural adjustments within an industry that has grown rapidly. It is possible, he said, that better management will be introduced into one or two companies and new financial interests may take a hand, but on the whole the picture business has met its problems in workman-like fashion. He had no comment to make on the report that the Bancamerica - Blair Corporation is interested in the rehabilitation of the Fox Film finances.

Through his numerous negotiations with different California oil companies, Mr. Armsby is conversant with the oil situation there. He ventured the prediction that this year will bring to head a number of trades discussed in the last few years, simply because the industry is at the point where larger units are needed to meet the economic problems existing.

Because of a severe attack of double pneumonia from which he is just recovering, Mr. Armsby will not return to New York until about May 1.

Oil Investment Trust Earnings Rate Holds Up

Net income of the Petroleum Corporation of America, oil-investment trust, based on present dividend and interest rates paid on securities held and including 6 per cent interest on uninvested funds, is at the annual rate of $2 per share on the stock outstanding in the hands of the public after allowance has been made for recurring yearly expenses, according to its annual report issued yesterday.

The report, which covers the period from inception last January to December 31, shows securities carried at cost of $93,824,332, and that on the basis of December 31, market prices the depreciation from cost on investments in other companies was about 3 per cent. About $7,500,000 of the investment total represents the corporation's own stock purchased at prices below the net liquidating value both at the time of purchase and at the close of the year.

The corporation did not have use of nearly one-half of its paid-in capital and surplus during about nine months of 1929 ($14 per share of the subscription price for the 3,250,000 shares of stock was called for payment October 1.) Consequently, the statement points out, the net income reported at $3,752,-530.31 does not truly reflect its earning power.

The balance sheet as of December 31, last, shows aggregate assets of $3,446,762, consisting of securities carried at cost of $3,290,523; cash and call loans, $119,740 and accrued interest and dividends receivable, $46,498.

TROUBLES OF HOUSING UNIT TOLD

Deficit in Year Explained in Annual Report Made to Stockholders

Security Housing Corporation and its subsidiaries, Mortgage Insurance Corporation, and Coast Underwriters, Inc., for the year ended October 31, last, showed a net loss of $262,187.38, according to the annual report submitted yesterday to stockholders by H. H. Braly, president. The deficit for the year's operations after profit and loss credits of $60,513.04 amounted to $201,674.34, while the total deficit at the close of the year was $76,543.53, after deduction of the November 1, 1928, surplus of $125,140.81.

In his report Mr. Braly discussed the problems confronting the company when he became president last July. No solution has been found as yet for the Garden Foundation problem, he said. On July 1, 1929, the Garden Foundation defaulted in the payment of interest on the bonds, and as a result the Mortgage Insurance Corporation has been compelled to pay approximately $150,000 interest on the bonds as well as taxes on the real estate securing the bonds, and is confronted with having to repeat this procedure every six months until the Garden project has been solved or the bonds go into default and are foreclosed, Mr. Braly's report said.

Real estate sales for the first half of the year amounted to $342,-810.05, but on July 1, last, a change of policy with respect to real estate sales was inaugurated and during the last half-year they totaled $810,-117.85. Real estate on hand as of December 31, last, was given at $1,261,559.99. Losses on sales, including an estimate for sales in escrow, amounted to $126,839.59.

Idle money impounded in certificate trusts was reduced from $1,433,-925.08, as of June 30, last, to $865,-993.69 on December 31, last, a net improvement of $567,931.40, the report stated. This reduction was accomplished in spite of the fact that the payment of principal into the trusts from July 1, last, to December 31, last, amounted to $1,884,-071.52, while the maturing certificates during the same period amounted to only $804,360, creating an excess of cash receipts over requirements of $1,079,721.52. Total assets of the company were listed at $4,586,821.82.

M. Byllesby & Company, West & Co. and Albert E. Peirce & Company. The utility company is a direct subsidiary of Central Public Service Corporation.

Pillioe and Perrelli Canning Company, Inc., one of the leading independent California fruit canners, is engaging in new financing today to provide funds for building a new plant at Richmond, Cal., and to retire $105,000 of outstanding bonds. The financing is in the form of $300,000 first mortgage convertible 7 per cent sinking fund gold bonds which are being publicly offered by Freeman, Smith & Camp Co. at 100 and accrued interest to yield 7 per cent. Net earnings of the company for the period 1925 to 1929 have averaged 4.55 times the maximum annual interest charges on this issue.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—There were further declines in the cotton market today, with prices making new low ground for the movement under continued liquidation of old long accounts and scattered selling which seemed to be inspired by low figures on world's consumption and complaints of a continued slow spot demand.

March contracts broke well below the 17c level and the general market was barely steady around 2 o'clock with prices showing net declines of 10 to 17 points.

NEW INDUSTRY SPUR FOUND

Growing Use of Steel Alloy Held to Forecast Wider Development of Economic Bellwether

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—In the Nation's Business for January, F. J. Griffiths, chairman of the Central Alloy Steel Corporation, head of the research division of the Republic Steel Corporation, says:

"Fifty per cent of the steel used in automobile is alloy and the average weight per car has been reduced to less than 30 per cent of what it was."

The use of steel has expanded rapidly since the development of steel alloy, for it has increased flexibility and endurance. It has solved the problem of rust through "stainless steel." The use of rust-resisting alloy for freight cars has reduced the weight of each car by a ton. A new alloy process known as "nitriding" has produced the hardest known metal surface.

"It has been found that every time the price of a special steel is reduced 1 cent a pound, the market for it is widened by 10 per cent," says this international authority on alloy steel.

The steel industry, already huge, is only in its infancy.

An industry that has a monopoly upon one form of service or another is apt to become stale. A new invention often wakes it up and forces it to extend its research and to speed up its lagging interest. Fine tonic for most monopolies.

Not long ago a leading member of the artificial-ice industry, in speaking of the effect that mechanical refrigerators have had upon the industry, said that it had awakened the industry as to its possibilities and caused a general clean-up in the natural-ice industry by cutting out waste, and rendering better service. Both groups prospered!

The gas industry suffered a severe blow when electricity became general for lighting purposes. Up to then, lighting had been almost its sole "means of support," but the cutting off of this market made the industry realize that it would have to find other markets or quit the field. So it turned to the field of cooking.

Realizing the advantages gas had over other forms of heating energy, the industry pushed its sale for use in house-heating and in industrial processes. The extent to which it has been successful may be readily seen from its sales for 1929, which were greater by 8.1 per cent than they were in 1928. While the domestic sales, chiefly cooking, increased by only 4.4 per cent, sales for house-heating purposes increased 51.7 per cent and for industrial purposes, 11.8 per cent.

Though an industry may suffer severely from a substitute entering into its field, if it is successful in clearing out the dead wood, reducing waste and increasing research, the new competition often proves to be a blessing in disguise.

A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker Corporation, believes that the automobile industry has been so completely integrated into the economic social life of the nation that production from now on will sustain a very definite mathematical relation to the growth of population, wealth and income of the country, and to the volume of commercial and industrial activity throughout the world.

He believes that the average annual output of 5,000,000 cars in the United States will be an established fact in the next ten years.

To take care of the annual replacements, 3,750,000 will have to be produced. In 1928, replacement sales reached 2,450,000, while annual exports now reach 500,000.

HEAVY SELLING CHECKS UPTURN

Moderate Decline Viewed as Market Correction

Few Gains Scored But Losses Dominant at Close

Total Turnover Drops Below 3,000,000 Shares

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—Strong selling resistance developed in the stock market today when efforts were made to extend the recent recovery, and prices generally closed lower. The decline was not associated with any development in the day's news and was in the nature of a technical correction of a temporarily overbought position. Operators for the advance succeeded in pushing up a number of issues, some of the gains in which ran from 2 to 6 points. Trading showed a moderate decline in volume, the day's sales falling just short of 3,000,000 shares.

Wall street was treated to a number of constructive market developments. Overnight came the weekly Federal Reserve condition report showing a further shrinkage of $120,000,000 in security loans by reporting member banks, the total of which is still over $7,000,000,000. Around midday came President Hoover's statement of a further gain in employment figures.

STEEL REPORTS

After the close, the United States Steel Corporation issued its report showing earnings of $21.18 a share for 1929, including a year-end credit adjustment of $9,972,351, without which the earnings would have been $19.96 a share. The Jones & Loughlin and Inland Steel companies also made public excellent earnings reports, the annual dividend on the common stock of the latter being increased from $3.50 to $4.

Other favorable items in the day's news were the increase in the annual dividend on Norfolk & Western from $8 to 10, reports that Chicago steel district operations had been stepped up to between 80 and 85 per cent of capacity and a series of excellent earnings reports by small companies.

Call money again dropped from 4½ to 4 per cent, but a firmer undertone was noted. Stock subscriptions due this week total $45,000,-000; with new bond issues called for payment bringing the total to around $200,000,000. The February 1 dividend and interest disbursements are expected to run close to $500,-000,000, a new high record for this season of the year.

The reaction in today's market caused little surprise in view of the sharp run-up in prices during the last ten days. There were frequent outbursts of "bear" selling, but they failed to make much headway.

AUBURN DROPS

Auburn Auto fell 7 points and rallied 1½. American Tobacco B, A. M. Byers, Lackawanna, General Electric, Republic Iron & Steel, United Cigar Stores preferred, United Air Transport and United States Industrial Alcohol closed 2 to 5 points lower. Losses of 2 points or more were common, the list including American Telephone, International Telephone, Radio, American & Foreign Power, Standard Gas & Electric and Union Pacific. United States Steel common closed with a

Old-Fashioned New England Conservatism

SINCE THE DAY of the Pilgrims, New England conservatism has been a tradition among the American people. It may be seen daily reflected in both the social life and the business structure of the New England states.

A splendid example of this conservative spirit is to be found in the New England Power Association, which owns or controls the largest power system in the New England States, producing over 1,750,000,000 k. w. h. last year. Consolidated net earnings of this association, after deducting most liberal depreciation and maintenance charges, were over twice the total annual interest requirements on funded debt.

Based on market quotations on January 16th, 1930 of the preferred and common shares, there is market value equity back of the association's outstanding debentures of nearly 3 for 1.

In view of this strong financial position and stable character of the territory served, we believe these 5½% Debentures, priced to yield 5.88%, offer an investment of outstanding merit.

COPPER STRONG ON QUIET MART

Old Price Holds in Face of Gain in Stocks

Zinc Trade Confined Mainly to Forced Sales

Lead Situation Reported as Technically Firm

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix

Although the December copper statistics reflected the unfavorable aspects as predicted, there was no weakening of the prices. Both copper and zinc have been quiet and unchanged in price, 17.775 f.o.b. refinery, and 5.20 f.o.b. St. Louis, respectively. Lead has continued active and the price strong at 6.25 f.o.b. New York.

Zinc does not remain quiet because of a lack of purchasers. The sellers are unwilling to part with the metal at present levels but there are enough people who are willing to sell at current low levels to keep the market down. Consumers are trying to place orders for delivery several months ahead but cannot find the sellers who are willing to take orders on the basis offered.

The present zinc market is being made by distress lots of the metal in the hands of small producers who are in greater need of ready cash than the zinc. Large producers have not followed the market down and are not quoting and little can be expected of the zinc market until the distress metal is all gone.

LEAD POSITION STRONG

Lead sales are active with buying as far forward as the sellers are willing to book orders. This means that lead through February is well sold and there are but few sellers disposed to take orders for March delivery at current prices. All consuming units are in the market for good volume.

The statistics for December, as expected, make a very favorable showing. Refined and antimonial stocks (United States and Mexico) as of the 1st inst., decreased 6329 tons, refined output declined 7475 tons, while crude production was also lower by 3883 tons as compared with November.

Refined stocks in recent months have shown steady contraction, the total now reported being almost 15,000 tons smaller than on September 1, last, when reserves were at the peak level for 1929.

Refined and crude production has been cut down sharply from the high rate of preceding months, particularly that of October, showing output of 88,388 tons of refined and 58,214 tons of crude. In each instance, the December figures are approximately 10,000 tons smaller.

The December shipments into domestic consumption are listed at 64,133 tons, an increase of about 1100 tons over November.

BELOW EXPECTATIONS

While the sales of copper during the past month have been fair, they have not been up to the expectations as based upon the lack of buying during the latter part of 1929, and it is expected that the January statistics will show another increase in refined stocks as the curtailment program will not have much chance to show in this month's figures.

The industries using copper are in no mood to buy until they see what is going to happen in the general industrial and financial situation, and how far the copper companies are going to cut production. The automotive industry is down from what it has been, although better than it was a year ago this time and the only units buying well are the public utilities and electrical industries. Foreign buying for January is better than it has been during any part of the last quarter.

Copper figures for December did not show as much of a decrease in production as was anticipated and the increase in surplus stocks, while very large, was somewhere under expectations. Production of refined copper in North and South America totaled 138,203 tons in December against 146,376 tons in November and 147,905 tons in December, 1928. Total shipments amounted to only 93,802 tons in December compared with 106,858 tons in November and 134,592 tons in December, 1928. The peak of shipments was reached in March, 1929, at 165,806 tons.

Stocks of finished metal at North and South American refineries aggregated 171,320 tons at the end of December, against 126,919 tons November 30, 1929, and 65,466 tons December 31, 1928. The low point was reached at the end of October, 1928, when total stocks amounted to only 45,648 tons.

TWO COPPER RECORDS

The past year has set up two records in copper, a refinery production of 1,811,857 tons as against the former record made in 1928 of 1,627,349 tons and deliveries to domestic consumers totaling 1,119,409 tons as against 983,460 tons in 1928. Export copper did not come up to either 1927 or 1928, the figures for these years being 641,865 and 674,221 tons with 586,594 tons for 1929. Smelter production was 11 per cent over that of 1928 and was also a record for all time.

It would be folly to assume that in any period of business depression, even though it be slight, that the manufacturers using copper could keep on taking it at the record rate of 1929 and it is a wise move on the part of the copper producers to adopt vigorous curtailment measures, although it will probably be three months before these are reflected into the statistics.

As a direct result of the December copper figures, there has been a drastic curtailment program begun at practically all of the larger producing units. Some have gone to a five-day week, others a rotating system keeping all present men employed, others have transferred activities of a portion of their force from production to development or new construction, while a few have laid off men.

The thing that is noticeable in the present curtailment program is that the mines are keeping their organizations and men intact as it is not believed that the present production rate will be maintained over about two months and at that time an increase will be justified, but it is necessary now to prevent surplus stocks from rising further and to keep out hope among the buyers that the metal is going down in price.

It is stated that the production cuts range from 10 per cent to 30 per cent, depending upon the cut made in December. Last year broke all production records and even with the production cut being put into effect now, there is more copper being produced than during the early months of 1929. The producers are stated to be united in their stand to keep the price at 18 cents delivered and to maintain the present wage scale.

Prices Ease Fractionally Lower on Local Board as Trading Activity Slackens

Traders on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday exhibited a disposition to mark time for the present and with the volume of dealing falling to a low level brokers on the floor passed a quiet and uneventful session. Principally through lack of support prices eased fractionally lower on the light offerings.

Transamerica was the only issue in which transactions approached anything like the volume for recent sessions. This stock yielded 3-8 to 43 5-8 on a turnover of 2200 shares. Aero Corporation traded actively but held unchanged at 2.60.

Southern California Edison, which was a feature of the preceding session, lost practically all of its recent advance, reacting 1 1-4 points to 57 7-8. The stock opened at 58 3-8 and only 500 shares changed hands on the day. Pacific Finance, a late feature, was also traded lightly and yielded a further 3-4 to 41.

Security-First National Bank, in which more than 1000 shares were traded Monday, recorded a transfer of 300 shares and also yielded 3-4 to end at 110 3-4. Other bank stocks held steady.

In the petroleum group the same situation was encountered that has prevailed for a number of sessions back. Only a few hundred shares of the major oils were traded, with prices fluctuating within 1-4 point. The unsettled status of Kettleman Hills is believed in some quarters to be largely responsible for this condition.

Sales totaled 12,443 shares, valued at $331,217; previous day, 16,264 shares, valued at $340,301.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Transactions in Electrical Products of Washington and stock of the Neon company of Delaware aroused the speculative interest of traders on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange yesterday and brought the value of the day's operations to a level above that of the senior board. Other sections of the market were quiet and price changes fractional for the most part.

A total of 7000 shares of the Washington Neon company crossed the board and from an opening at 15 1-2 the stock quickly shot up to a high at 17 1-8. Liquidation was encountered toward the close, bringing quotations back to 16 5-8 for a net gain of 7-8. Claude Neon of Delaware moved up 1-4 to 38 5-8 on a transfer of 2100 shares.

Pacific Associates, recent feature, reacted a point to 26 1-2 and Universal Consolidated Oil continued to trade briskly but held firm to 16. Gladding McBean fell back 1 point to 60 and Cities Service 1-4 to 27 3-4. There were no other changes of consequence.

Sales totaled 28,751 shares, valued at $343,679; previous day, 29,711 shares valued at $166,101.

Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel
92% OCCUPIED AT PRESENT

A 'Legal-For-Savings-Banks' Investment
Yielding 6½%
Since the imposing new Hollywood Knickerbocker Hotel is located in the very heart of Hollywood's skyscraper district—just a block from the intersection of Vine Street and Hollywood Boulevard, it is small wonder that this property is over 92% occupied at the present time. For a decidedly attractive 6½% investment, we suggest the first mortgage bonds which are secured by a 43% first lien on this $1,775,000 property. Bonds have been certified as a legal investment for California Savings Banks.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—A slightly steadier tone appeared in the bond market today as the volume of business increased by about a million dollars, but the general price movement was still mixed.

Convertibles reversed yesterday's course and turned downward, losing the Monday advance. The telephone issues were hardest hit, American 4½s slumping 2¼ points and International 4½s dropping 3. Atchison 4½s showed more than a point. Commercial Investment Trust 5½s and Missouri Pacific 5½s showed moderate strength.

A firmer time money market was accompanied by erratic fluctuations in high-grade utilities and rails, but net gains and losses were evenly distributed. Industrials were firm.

Atchison general 4s, Nickel Plate 5½s, New Haven 4½s, Southern Railway general 4s, Missouri Pacific 5s and a few other representative carriers eased, but there was firmness in Great Northern 4½s "D," Virginian 5s, Western Maryland 4s and Union Pacific 4s.

Numerous industrials and specialties showed wide moves. Colorado Fuel and Iron 5s rose 2, Lehigh Coal and Navigation 4½s rallied 2¾, Shubert Theater 6s declined 3¾, Walworth 6½s, with warrants, advanced 3, and Warner Sugar 7s lost 2½. Republic Brass 6s improved 1½ points.

Some of the changes in the utilities were equally abrupt. New Orleans Public Service 5s rose 3 and Washington Water Power 5s moved up 1½ coincident with the offering of a $13,000,000 long-term issue carrying the same coupon. However, the power and light and telephone company obligations were generally firm.

The foreign list was well mixed. Several Argentine 6s lost a point, Buenos Aires 6s, October, fell 2¼, Bolivia 7s of 1958 declined 3 and Rio Grande Do Sul 7s yielded 3 points. European governments showed better resistance to a softer trend.

United States government securities struggled through a very dull session, closing irregularly lower.

Prospective new bond offerings include an $18,000,000 issue of Canadian National Railway's forty-year 5s, guaranteed by the Canadian government. The offering price is to be 97½.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order as follows. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the last and both low and close when same as high.

NATURAL GAS — The Servant in Millions of Homes

A Utility Romance: UNITED GAS COMPANY

There were 4,366,000 domestic consumers of Natural Gas in 1928, an increase of ten percent over 1927. They used over 320 billion cubic feet for cooking, heating, refrigeration, and various other purposes. In these millions of homes Natural Gas furnished about twice the heating units at half the cost of manufactured gas. Those who used Natural Gas received an unfailing, efficient, economical service. Even when they switched on their electric lights they may have been indirect consumers of Natural Gas—because electric public utility plants used over 77 billion cubic feet in 1928.

United Gas Company—among the four largest of its kind in the United States—through its subsidiaries and associated companies serves scores of communities in six states, in a territory having a total population of 2,800,000. The territory supplied includes Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Wichita, St. Louis, and many other cities in Texas, Illinois, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas. The population in this territory has been showing a regular, substantial growth, and provides the Company's management with ample opportunity to build in accordance with its foremost policy: Growth—a Super-Gas System.

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

Only three days remain before end of the present proration period for the Santa Fe Springs and Signal Hill oil fields, and by February 1 the agreements now in circulation for the signatures of the various operators, requesting them to extend the curtailment period another ninety days, are expected to be on file.

Yesterday nearly 90 per cent of the operators at Santa Fe Springs had signed the new agreement which becomes effective February 1, and 80 per cent of the production was signed up to continue curtailment of output.

At Signal Hill, Umpire Neil H. Anderson expects to have every operator's signature to the agreement. His problem is considered a little more difficult since he has to see many more operators than there are in the Santa Fe Springs field. Indications are that the companies are unanimously in favor of curtailment.

Judge E. D. Reiter has found it unnecessary to call upon Santa Fe Springs operators to visit his office to sign the agreement. He believes that before the end of the present agreement most of the producing companies will have signed up.

Delays Making Location

The Barnsdall Oil Company has ninety days in which to make a new location on its 130-acre Trust lease in the Rosecrans field and in the meantime is making a study of the tract to determine the best site for its Trust No. 2. The company's Trust No. 1, first completion on the lease, yesterday was putting out approximately 700 barrels of 35.5-deg. gravity oil a day.

Gas Showings

The Wildcat Oil & Royalty Company's Donovan No. 1, located on a 400-acre lease about eight miles west of Santa Maria, yesterday was drilling in sandy shale below 4238 feet with gas in evidence, according to company officials. Nine-inch casing will be run in a day or two to 3960 feet.

Pumpers Active

Quite a number of the Signal Hill operators who have pumping wells are endeavoring to make up for underproduction during the past week, before the end of the January proration period, and have allowed their pumpers to produce more freely.

As a result, the Signal Hill production yesterday was 105,500 barrels. This total was put out by 990 wells.

Surveying Hole

The Barnsdall Oil Company is surveying Borchard No. 1 located on a sixty-acre lease near the Standard Oil Company's Surf lease in the Huntington Beach field, preparatory to going back into the hole in an attempt to complete it at about 8000 feet. Bottom of the hole now is at 4350 feet.

Holds Steady

Daily average production at Santa Fe Springs has remained steady for nearly a week because of a number of scattered completions which kept the field's daily total at approximately 160,000 barrels. The General Petroleum Corporation has just brought in Santa Fe No. 186-H for 1500 barrels a day from a depth of 8000 feet, and yesterday was swabbing to complete Santa Fe No. 206. George F. Getty, Inc., also is trying to bring in its No. 35.

Opens Shallow Producers

The General Petroleum Corporation recently reopened thirty-five of its shallow pumpers on Lease No. 2 of Section 19, 19-26, in the Lost Hills district and has by so doing increased its yield there by approximately 1000 barrels of oil a day. All of the wells are producing from depths between 800 feet and 1900 feet and the oil tests 16 to 17 deg. gravity. There are ninety-two wells on this lease and those shut in may be opened soon.

On General's Lease No. 1 at Lost Hills which is about four miles southeast of Lease No. 2, there are thirty-seven wells. These producers put out oil testing from 30 to 32 deg. gravity. A majority of that group will also be reopened. Oil from Lease No. 1 will be mixed with the 60-deg. gravity oil produced by General at Kettleman Hills and piped to Los Angeles.

Moving to Location

The Allen Brown Trust Company yesterday moved a wooden derrick from the corner of Thirty-fifth street and American avenue to a new location at the intersection of Thirty-sixth and Elm streets at Signal Hill in the Los Cerritos district, and will prepare to deepen an old abandoned hole to at least 7100 feet.

The Allen Brown Trust took over an old hole originally drilled to about 4750 feet by Nard & McNiece and will try to get production from about the same depth that the G. B. Pulliam's No. 1 is drawing from. Brown rolled the complete derrick down American avenue yesterday, the job taking about two hours.

Near Brown's new location at Signal Hill the Higgins Brothers' No. 1 is reaming to set four and one-half-inch casing to 7000 feet with bottom of the hole at 7100 feet. More than 700 feet of solid oil sand is in evidence. It will be given a production test within a week.

To Drill Another

Believing that its Bradley No. 1 is an edge producer, the System Oil Company has made location to drill its second project southeast of Santa Maria. The company's Bradley No. 1 has been putting out about fifty barrels of 10-deg. gravity oil a day from a depth of 5397 feet. Its second project will be one mile southeast of the producer.

No Showings

The Elmer Oil Company's Wiley No. 1 on a sixty-acre lease due west of the Elwood field has not yet found oil sand. Present bottom is at 4135 feet. The Vaqueros formation was drilled through without obtaining any results, according to field reports.

Still Swabbing

The Ohio Oil Company's Smith No. 1 located on the south dome at Kettleman Hills continues to swab for production at about 7000 feet. This test was drilled considerably deeper without encountering any oil sand and was plugged back to test out shallower showings encountered three months ago.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Light receipts again met with a yearly market, with an especially strong call for cows from an independent packer. All classes sold on a steady basis, with a good clearance. Nothing of outstanding quality was available. Bulk of killer stock was of California and intermountain origin with a late train from the Southwest carrying several loads of stock cows.

A few head of light intermountain steers sorted out of mixed loads brought 12.00, with two loads of 1124 and 1130-pound California steers at 11.50. Around two loads of under 900-pound intermountain steers brought 11.50, with common stock down to 10.00.

No load lots of heifers were available. The only bunches selling were 10.00@10.50. Late Monday, two loads of strictly good 943-pound intermountain heifers made 10.65. Practically all cows offered were of the dairy type, with bulk of commercial to medium grades going at 7.75@8.75 and common kinds around 7.00. Five loads of Arizona stock cows sold by the head. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 4.00@6.50. Odd head of bulls made 7.50@8.75, with one head at 9.00.

CALVES—On a steady deal the limited supply of vealers brought 12.00@14.00, with odd head at 14.50@15.00. A part load of medium 246-pound Arizonas made 13.75, with the balance of the load at 11.00. Common calves made 10.50@11.75.

HOGS — Receipts consisting of three fresh loads were increased by two loads held over from Monday. Trade was very good and on a steady to 15-cent lower basis. Only a few buyers were cut and it appeared the two loads would be held over. One load of 180-pound Nebraska butchers, with some freight benefit, went to an outside packer at 10.85, and it is thought that good lightweight butchers would bring this price on the regular market. Two loads of 148 to 183-pound Colorado and Nebraska hogs made 10.75. Packing sows were steady, with 250-pound kinds at 8.75.

SHEEP—No fresh offerings were available and the six decks held over were still in first hands. Quotations on killing classes are unchanged.

Grain Futures Unsettled by Break in Rye

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Jolts that resulted largely from 4 cents a bushel break in the rye market unsettled all grain values today, but late rallies counterbalanced most of the losses. Heavy selling was witnessed especially in the rye market, after circulation of reports that not within memory has there been such a distracted state of affairs in the rye trade of Germany as prevails at present, owing to hunt surplus stocks of rye, both in Germany and Poland. Narrowing of wheat price spreads between Winnipeg and Chicago was also a special disturbing influence, as tending to give Canada preference in wheat export dealings, compared with the United States.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were irregular at ⅝ cent a bushel below yesterday's finish to ⅛ cent over. Rye closed ¼@1c down, corn ⅛ cent off to ¼ cent up and oats showing ¼@⅝c decline, with provisions varying from 5 cents setback to a rise of 13 cents.

A dramatic incident of the break in rye values was the fact that a leading speculator in rye went personally into the rye pit here and conducted selling operations on a broad scale. Commission houses were also heavy sellers and before the flurry was ended the rye market had dropped to a new low price record for the season. Meanwhile, the twin bread grain, wheat, tumbled to below any recent bottom level, and oats, as well as rye, outdid the season's bottom price record.

Late recoveries in grain values came about chiefly because on price breaks it speedily developed that good-sized standing orders in the wheat market here were ready to absorb all offerings at 1.34 a bushel or below for May delivery of wheat.

Profit-taking purchase on the part of previous speculative sellers counted also as a late uplifting influence.

Corn owed part of its weakness to larger receipts of corn here and to auspicious weather for promoting the crop movement. Oats were influenced by reports of good-sized rural holdings.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive to upturn in the value of hogs.

The woman victim was Mrs. Minnie McBurney, 1109 South Burlington avenue. She was injured when an automobile in which she was riding was struck by a street car at Thirty-sixth and McClintock streets. She was taken to the General Hospital but never regained consciousness.

The dead man is Thomas J. McGonigle, 72 years of age, of 145 North Flower street. He died in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital a few hours after being struck by an automobile at Main and Alameda streets. The car, according to police, was driven by G. E. Baker of 1450 Coronado street, Long Beach.

WHITE GIRL AND MEXICAN BOY VANISH

Reports Indicate Mexico Elopement But Parents of Maid Fear Kidnaping

PIXLEY, Jan. 28.—Local authorities are seeking S. Salazar, 19-year-old Mexican Don Juan, and Helen Kron, pretty 16-year-old white girl of this city, who disappeared together Saturday night. Word has been received from the south that the pair are known to have crossed the border into Mexicali some time Sunday. The Chief of Police and immigration authorities at Calexico have been asked to assist, according to Constable Delos Howard of this city. Whether it is a case of youthful love and a modern Lochinvar or one of plain kidnaping is not known.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kron, parents of the girl, declare she would never have gone away with Salazar of her own accord. They described their daughter as quiet and home-loving and exceptionally attractive. Salazar is said to be of a dashing sheik type. He asked permission to take Helen to a motion-picture show Saturday evening. The parents consented, but insisted that the girl's younger sister go along.

At a service station a mile and a half north of here Salazar stopped the car, gave the younger girl 25 cents and told her to go get some candy. When she returned the machine and its occupants had vanished.

Believing they were teasing her and would soon return, she waited at the service station for them, but when an hour had passed walked back home.

Salazar is said to have driven south from the service station. His brother, arriving home yesterday with Salazar's car, reported the couple had gone to Mexico and would be married before authorities could catch them. The car was badly damaged and gave appearance of having been in an accident. The brother works in Los Angeles, while Salazar and the girl's father are both employed on the R. L. Friend cotton ranch here.

New National Park Urged as Mather Tribute

VISALIA, Jan. 28.—In tribute to the late Stephen T. Mather, former national park director, a movement has been launched to have Redwood Canyon, northeast of here, the only remaining privately owned stand of Sequoia Gigantea in the world, turned into a national park, according to word received by the local Chamber of Commerce.

Plans have been under way for some time to make Redwood Canyon a State park, but the national park trend comes as result of a movement headed by John Hays Hammond in New York, to erect a fitting memorial to the great park exponent.

Council Asked to Cut Pay of City Engineer

A cut in the salary of the City Engineer from $10,000 per annum to $7200 was recommended to the City Council yesterday by the Efficiency and Personnel Committee. It was referred to the Special Salary Committee for consideration.

In submitting the report, Councilman Lewis, chairman of the reporting committee, declared the reduction is in line with Mayor Porter's expressed economy program.

John J. Jessup, a sewage and garbage disposal expert, recently replaced Maj. John C. Shaw, who had been City Engineer for more than four years.

Ranchers Ask War on Pack of Wild Dogs

PORTERVILLE, Jan. 28.—Authorities are receiving complaints from farmers of the Tule River district, southwest of town, about ravages of a band of half-wild dogs that roam the district and prey upon stock.

Descending on the ranches in the night, they have killed several sheep and calves and, thus far, the farmers have not been able to shoot the marauders. This dog pack is believed composed mostly of strays.

Residents of the outlying district of Tulare have reported similar experiences.

GRAPE POOL FIASCO ENDS IN LAWSUIT

Fresno Fruit Packer to Seek $200,000 Damages from Euless and Dermer

FRESNO, Jan. 28.—Asserted failure of promoters of the Euless-Dermer pool of raisin growers to make a success of the venture during the past season, resulted in filing in Superior Court today of a suit for $200,000 damages. The action was filed by E. Y. Foley, fruit packer, against John M. Euless, real estate man and farmer, and Henry Dermer, merchant and farmer, who were the prime movers in the effort to form a growers' co-operative association to handle raisins on a basis of a guarantee of 4 cents per pound.

Foley charged that after he had arranged to handle 20,000 tons of raisins for the pool on a contract under which he was to receive $10 per ton, the pool failed to provide any raisins for packing in his houses. He went to considerable expense in preparing to handle the tonnage, and refused offers of other fruit, which he would have been unable to handle if he had obtained the anticipated tonnage from the pool group, his complaint states.

During the three months' period subsequent to the signing of the contract on October 9, last, he received only 400 tons of raisins from the pool, and these were removed from his warehouse before he was allowed to pack them, he charges.

The pool organization was formed with the idea of obtaining sufficient tonnage to give the group a control of the crop which would put them in position to dictate prices, but sufficient number of the growers failed to sign up their crops and the plan was abandoned after the pool had been incorporated.

Perilous Twist in Selma Road May Come Out

SELMA, Jan. 28.—Elimination of the death trap kink in the State highway at the north end of the local business district loomed as a possibility today as the result of action of the City Council and Street Superintendent Wright.

The State highway, in which there is a sharp jog, is blocked by a large frame packing-house, which stands on the Southern Pacific reservation. It has been the scene of numerous accidents, at least one of which was fatal. The turn is so sharp that motorists are barely able to avoid striking the building when traveling at a rapid rate on foggy or rainy nights.

The city has asked the railroad company to contribute sufficient land with which to straighten the curve, and the Southern Pacific officials have asked for details and a plat of the proposal.

Jury Sought for Trial of Truck Driver

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 28.—Attorney Jack Mahon opened the manslaughter trial of Jack Willbanks, truck driver, today with a tedious examination of prospective jurors before Superior Judge Erwin W. Owen.

Judge E. P. Brittan disqualified himself because of the association of his brother, Mel Brittan, as a representative of the Lang Transportation Company, owners of the ill-fated gasoline trailer which was struck by the San Joaquin Flyer last December. The explosion and fire following caused the death of three members of the train crew from burns.

SENTENCING POSTPONED

HANFORD, Jan. 28.—At request of counsel for Earl Dykes, convicted of manslaughter in connection with the fatal shooting of Henry Hager at a party at Corcoran the night of November 2, last, Superior Judge K. Van Zante today postponed the passing of judgment when Dykes was brought into court for sentence. Counsel is preparing an appeal and requested further time to complete it.

Jury Hearing Waived After Start of Trial

Jack Delafield, asserted to have stolen $61,000 worth of bonds from Mrs. Mary Hoffman of San Francisco, went on trial yesterday in Superior Judge Wood's court, but after one witness was examined, asked that the jury trial be waived and a continuance granted to permit his attorneys to make a further investigation of the case.

According to the State's charges, Delafield married Mrs. Hoffman in 1927, took her to New York and then deserted her after obtaining the bonds. Charles B. Drake, representative of a New York bank, was in court prepared to testify about the bonds, but was not called.

Judge Wood dismissed the jury and continued the case to February 10, next, at which time the trial will be resumed before the court sitting without a jury unless Delafield's counsel has in the meantime made some other arrangement with the District Attorney's office.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Trading on the New York Crude Rubber Exchange today was dull. There was no incentive to activity on either side of the market and, as positions moved over a narrow price range, the trade in general waited for new developments.

Final prices after a turnover of 116 lots, or 200 tons, were unchanged to 30 points lower. London was unchanged at 7 1/32d. In Singapore the spot delivery rose 1-16d to 7 1/4d, with the final lone easy after early steadiness. In the outside market here spot dropped 1/8c to 13 1/4c in an easy market.

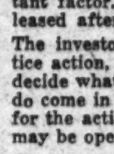
An Open Statement TO INVESTORS in High-Grade Securities



The long expected return of power and strength in the stock market is at hand.

The West, generally speaking, has been caught napping in the first phase of this recovery, and especially does this apply to the small holder of securities.

The most magnificent opportunity for retrieving losses and taking profits ever offered after a violent decline lifts the horizon.

Confidence has returned, Timidity has disappeared, but caution is still present, and rightly so. Never before have caution, discrimination, acumen, sagacity, analysis, painstaking consideration—never have these been more necessary than now.

H. R. Rule & Company has demonstrated under its new management that it is not standing on the side line while the parade passes. It has been in the forefront of the recovery, and its clients have, as a result, profited thereby.

We believe that the western investor demands and requires—and we especially refer to odd lot holders—to know

WHAT TO BUY
WHEN TO SELL

In this market, owing to our extensive research, we have a policy which includes the performance of all these services. We refer with pardonable pride to the service rendered by us in Fox Film "A" during recent weeks. In the face of widespread timidity and caution in a situation apparently full of uncertainties, we recommended FOX from 16 up to 30, with a view to immediate profits, the market closing strong Tuesday. We have assumed an aggressive attitude toward the market, one intended to fit the requirements of the average investor, and are sincerely rendering service to our clients.

WHAT ABOUT OIL STOCKS?

We are making an extended and exhaustive investigation of the situation in the petroleum industry, and the technical position of the market. Already very definite views have been formed. A report covering the essentials of the situation, together with our analysis and opinion concerning them, is now in preparation and will be ready for distribution in a short time.

NO HOLDER OF OIL SHARES LISTED ON AN ACCREDITED EXCHANGE CAN AFFORD TO BE WITHOUT THIS INFORMATION. IT IS YOURS FOR THE ASKING.

PREPAREDNESS

There is one phase of the situation here in the west which has long been overlooked by many investors, and which is most urgent—and that has to do with the difference in time between New York and Los Angeles. The market opens in New York at 7 a.m., and not infrequently it is the early bird that gets the worm in security dealings. Overnight news is an important factor. Much of the news concerning individual companies is released after the market closes.

The investor should have an account with his broker subject to short notice action, such as early morning telephone calls. It is not necessary to decide what or when to buy to open this account. It is essential that you do come in and talk it over, and that an account be opened in preparation for the action upon which you are to determine later. Such an account may be opened either by a cash deposit, or by leaving securities with us.

Women's Department

In our new board room in process of construction, occupying the second floor of the H. R. Rule Building, ample provision is being made for the separate accommodation of women customers. A thoroughly trained consultant will look after their needs.

Market Letter and Frequent Bulletins

H. R. Rule & Company regularly issues a Market Letter, together with reports and bulletins—sometimes daily—for the information and guidance of clients interested in certain stocks or groups. This service will be furnished anyone requesting it either in person, by telephone, or by mailing us the attached coupon.

OIL SHARE SITUATION CRITICAL

A comprehensive bulletin concerning the petroleum industry is just being completed for limited publication. We suggest that if you are a holder of oils securities, you communicate with us at once in order that you may be assured of receiving a copy. Use the coupon.

Alaskans Give No Confirmation of Gold Strike

FAIRBANKS (Alaska) Jan. 28. (AP)—Despite reports from Los Angeles stating that apparently rich gold deposits had been found near Bettles in the Wild River district, no word of the reported strike has been received here.

Frank Dorbandt, Alaskan Airways pilot, who returned here last night from Bettles, said he heard the "usual optimism" concerning the hard rock prospects on Wild River, where a few prospectors are tracing rich float found last summer, but no word of any new or important discoveries. The prospectors hope to discover free milling gold quartz.

Dorbandt will return to Bettles later this week to bring out Capt. Rawden, a mining engineer engaged in a placer development in the district. The Los Angeles report was credited to Ernest Walker Sawyer, assistant to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, who said he had received telegraphic word from the North telling of the gold strike.

SUIT BEGUN TO RECOVER OIL LANDS

Geologist Chief Witness in Government's Action Against State and Others

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Testimony was taken here today in the government's action to recover rich oil lands in the Kettleman Hills field, Kern county, from the Standard Oil Company, Edward L. Doheny and others, by representatives of the United States Land Office.

The lands involved, some already drilled and partly producing, are understood worth millions, although government officials declined today to estimate their value. The 37 of the Elk Hills district, became valuable land in 1903 and later was transferred to the predecessors of the present owners. The government now maintains that the section is "known mineral land" at the time of the 1903 survey and that the government thus under Federal law is entitled to all minerals produced from the tract. The defendants assert that the mineral value of the land was not known until later.

The chief witness today was Dr. Kirtley W. Mather, professor of geology at Harvard University.

Defendants are the State of California, Standard Oil Company of California, Pan-American Oil Company, Associated Oil Company, Honolulu Natural Gas Company, Mr. Doheny, Frank J. Carman, Mrs. Doheny, Greeley, Charles O. Faulkner and Thomas A. O'Donnell.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR CALIFORNIA

Gov. Young Has First Council Session in Southland

Directors' Reports Point to Progress in State

Many Subjects Covered at City Hall Conference

Satisfactory progress in all lines of effort affecting public welfare was the keynote contained in the reports given by directors of State departments yesterday at the Governor's council, held for the first time in Los Angeles in the assembly room of the Board of Public Works in the City Hall. Improvement for 1930 over preceding years was indicated in practically every report.

Yesterday's meeting was the regular January session of the monthly meetings of the Council, and was presided over by Gov. Young as part of his plan to hold at least two meetings of the council each year in Southern California. In opening the session yesterday, he criticised the attack of a Northern California paper in objecting to the southern ...

All of the State department directors did not report yesterday, owing to limited time, and the remainder will be heard this afternoon at the same place in the City Hall. Those reporting yesterday and the points of outstanding interest follow:

GIANT WATER SURVEY

Earl B. Mosk, Director of the Department of Public Works:

The Division of Water Resources is now engaged in the most extensive water survey ever attempted in the United States, with particular attention being paid to Southern California. A general underground water investigation of the entire Pacific slope of Southern California is nearly completed, including plans for diverting waters of the Santa Ana River to replenish underground basins. The water situation is considerably more cheerful since the meeting of the joint commission appointed by President Hoover and Gov. Young in San Francisco on the 20th inst.

The Division of Highways lists changes planned on the Ridge Route as one of its most important projects.

The changes will be in keeping with standards of alignment and gradient hitherto unattempted in mountain work, and will greatly facilitate travel, shortening the distance between Bakersfield and Los Angeles 7.3 miles, eliminating sharp curves and removing two snow summits.

AS TO MOTOR VEHICLES

Mark Read declared that the Division of Motor Vehicles reported a registration of 3,020,879 motor vehicles for 1929, an increase of 7½ per cent over 1928. Registration figures, it was said, show an increase of 9 per cent annually for the past five years.

The large registration, particularly in Los Angeles, the report continued, has created a problem of handling applicants for licenses that may result in the construction of a motor-vehicle building here. The State now has some land that may be available and is so located as to provide ample parking space for cars.

The newly organized California Highway Patrol was reported as functioning efficiently.

Fred C. Stevenot, Director of Natural Resources, reported as follows:

The Division of Forestry reported a substantial decrease for 1929 in damage done by forest fires. Figures quoted listed the burned area for 1929 at 1,266,372 acres with a damage of $2,380,504, in comparison with 996,341 acres burned in 1929, with damage of $1,354,289.

WASTAGE OF GAS

More advanced fire-fighting methods and co-operation between State and county agencies, particularly in Southern California, were given much for a large share of the decrease.

End of the huge wastage of natural gas supply due to oil operations was reported in several fields with progress in arriving at a solution in other fields outlined.

James P. Collins, director of the State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, reported many facts developed in his organization, under which is listed the Board of Medical Examiners, dental and pharmacy examiners, barber examiners, the Board of Cosmetology and many kindred professions.

Activities of the various examining boards corrected abuses in various professions and these efforts received practically unanimous support

FILM PLAYER TO BE MARRIED AT RESORT

Virginia Browne Faire

ACTRESS AND DIRECTOR TO WED TODAY

Virginia Browne Faire and H. B. Worne Plan Nuptials at Big Bear Lake

In picturesque wooded surroundings, where they are said to have met some months ago, Virginia Browne Faire, film actress, and Howard P. Worne, Jr., director, will be married today, according to word received yesterday from San Bernardino.

Their marriage license was given to them yesterday by County Clerk Allison of San Bernardino. When Miss Faire and Worne appeared at Allison's office they were garbed in hiking clothes. They told Allison they were on their way to Big Bear Lake, and will be married there today.

It is probable that the ceremony will be performed by Clifford R. Lynn, who is justice of the peace at Big Bear. Friends of the couple said yesterday it was at the lake resort Miss Faire and Worne met on a location trip. Dr. E. B. Woolfan will act as best man and his wife, Priscilla Bonner, will attend Miss Faire.

In taking out the license Miss Faire gave her off-stage name, Virginia Cecelia Labuna, and her age as 25 years. She is the former wife of Jack Daugherty, film actor. Worne gave his age as 41 years.

OIL TANKS MENACED BY BLAZE

Fire at Santa Fe Springs Threatens 50,000 Barrels Before Being Subdued

Two outbursts of flame from gas accumulated beneath the flooring of the steel derrick of the George F. Getty oil well No. 40 at Santa Fe Springs yesterday momentarily threatened 50,000 barrels of oil stored near by, but the fire was controlled without any great damage being done.

From some undetermined reason the gas gathered in the "cellar" ignited during the morning while a mining bureau test was being made at 7414 feet to ascertain if the water was shut off in the well. That burst was quickly controlled.

During the afternoon the gas blazed again and ignited sump and waste oil. The fire spread around a 10,000-barrel Texas company tank and endangered four others of equal size and capacity.

Due to the quick action of the Getty and Texas employees, working with fire fighters and equipment of the General Petroleum Corporation, the flames were subdued before they had gained sufficient headway to ignite the storage tanks.

The damage to the Getty well consisted of destruction of the derrick floor and warping of some of the equipment. Officials of the company said the loss is negligible and that work on deepening the well 500 or so more feet will proceed.

RISE PROPOSED IN WATER RATE

City Officials Hold Long Secret Conference

Bond Issue of $30,000,000 or More Discussed

Boquet Canyon Dam Site Also Considered

Two hours in secret conclave were spent yesterday by members of the Water and Power Commission, Water and Power Committee of the City Council and Mayor Porter in discussing a possible increase of city water rates and a possible water bond issue of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000. No decision was reached, and the conference will resume its labors this afternoon.

While no official action was taken, and no formal statement made, it was learned that the discussion ranged upon the possibility of increasing the water rates and, although no definite amount was settled upon, advances of from 2½ to 5 cents per 1000 cubic feet were discussed. The maximum charge at present is 13 cents per 1000 cubic feet.

OWENS PURCHASE

Water rates were raised some three years ago, and it is understood that the audit of the Department of Water and Power as of last July 1 shows a considerable profit on the sale of water.

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners some weeks ago asked Mayor Porter and the City Council to call a special election April 8 to vote bonds to buy out entirely the five townships in the Owens River Valley. This cost is estimated at about $5,000,000. In addition, there are about $4,000,000 in lands in the valley which the city plans to buy at some time. The proposition of buying out the water rights of the Southern Sierras Power Company in the Mono Basin also was discussed. No sum has been set upon these rights, the Council recently having directed the City Attorney to take up the matter of a survey and appraisal through the State Railroad Commission.

DAM SITE PROPOSAL

The conference also took up the matter of buying a dam site in Boquet Canyon to replace the destroyed St. Francis Dam.

Besides Mayor Porter, the conferees included Water and Power Commissioners Haynes, Brooks, Scofield and Palmer, Chief Water Engineer Van Norman, Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood and Councilmen Cooke and Williams of the Water and Power Committee. Commissioner Whitsett and Councilman Jacobson are attending the Colorado River conference at Reno.

Chinese Tells Tansformation of Native Land

"The transformation of China is the greatest single phenomenon of the twentieth century," declared Dr. T. C. Chang, president of Nan Kai University, Tien-tsin, in an address given yesterday at the City Club.

"While many Occidentals look upon China disparagingly or patronizingly, considering the Chinese a backward people, the fact remains that China is the only country that has maintained its civilization for 5000 years," said Dr. Chang.

The practice of birth control, emigration and industrialization will have much to do with solving China's economic problems, according to Dr. Chang.

Pals of Graham Continue Hunt For Lost Pilot

Pilots Fred W. Kelly and Jimmie James, searching for their lost friend, Pilot Maurice Graham, flew out of St. George, Utah, yesterday, but did not report to local Western Air Express headquarters that they found any trace of the missing flyer or his plane.

Graham has not been seen for nearly three weeks, following his take-off from Las Vegas, Nev., for Salt Lake City, Utah, with a plane loaded with mail. Kelly and James plan to continue the search in their mail ships until they solve Graham's fate.

BIAS CHARGED TO COUNCIL

Miramar Estates Head Protests Prejudice Shown in Members' Action on Bell Plant Permit

A direct charge that Councilmen Martin and Webster are prejudiced in favor of Alphonso Bell, applicant for a quarry and rock-crushing permit in the Santa Monica Mountains, was made in a letter filed with the Council yesterday by Arthur A. Webber, head of the Miramar Estates Syndicate, a subdivision in proximity to the Bell property.

Webber asked that the Council forego voting the Bell ordinance tomorrow but instead create a committee to conduct an impartial hearing of the Bell matter, excluding from that committee Councilmen Martin, Holland and Webster.

"IMPROPER HASTE"

Webber declares that the ordinance is being rushed through for Mayor Porter's signature with improper haste in fear that additional evidence against the quarry scheme will raise a storm of public disapproval.

The letter is as follows:

"Gentlemen:

"I understand that after the City Attorney informally informed your body that the draft of the ordinance granting the application of the Los Angeles Mountain Park Company for a special use industrial permit in the Santa Monica Mountains was largely unenforceable, and that many of the conditions under which said special use permit is to be exercised would be unenforceable in court, and that the result would be tantamount to granting the applicant an unencumbered, unabridged industrial permit, that you sent the ordinance over to the office of the Los Angeles Planning Commission and that without further ado than to make the motion and have it seconded, the majority of that commission sent it back to you and that thereupon, without any further consideration on the part of the majority of your members, you would then have been willing to pass the ordinance immediately, and that if

Wilbur Asks Operators to Adopt Conservation Plan; Two Methods Suggested at Conference

Oil operators in Kettleman Hills were urged by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur at a conference yesterday to make speed toward any workable conservation program in order that government oil lands in the territory will not be unnecessarily depleted.

The Secretary himself deferred to E. D. Reiter, chairman of the conference, to discuss later what took place at the meeting and Reiter said:

"Secretary Wilbur is not partial to any one plan to bring the operators together. What he wishes is that we get together and do so as soon as possible. He might be said to be inclined toward having all Kettleman Hills placed under one management and that is what many of us are working for. However, he expressed himself as probably favoring any plan that will get us together in a conservation movement protecting the field against waste of oil or gas."

TWO PLANS SUBMITTED

Reiter said two plans were submitted to the conference of operators and permittees in the field yesterday. One is the unit plan, looking toward one management for the entire area. The other is the zone or group plan. Under it a group of wells would be operated with a division of their products among near-by 'zones on proportionate bases. A third plan, he said, will be submitted within a few days. It will provide for a pro-

NEW PATROL TOGS TO BE DISPLAYED

State Highway Officers Will Parade Tomorrow Before Governor

More than 100 officers of the recently organized State highway patrol will make their first public appearance in their distinctive new uniforms tomorrow at a review in front of the Armory in Exposition Park. The review is scheduled for 11 a.m.

Eugene Biscailuz, superintendent of the patrol, said that eighty motorcycle officers will be present. Others will ride in the new white highway automobiles.

Gov. Young will review the patrol officers. Members of his council, Supervisors, Chief of Police Steckel, Assistant Chief Davis and numerous other public officials have been invited.

Since moving to Glendale four years ago the Hertel boys have been familiar figures around the high school. When two of them were found to be too light for the midget football team Coach Normal C. Hayhurst appointed the triplets as "assistant football manager," with the idea of always being able to lay hands on at least one of them when he needed help. When they drew straws to see who would get the letter for the manager's berth William won and Howard was taken on a trip with the team to San Diego. John stayed at home.

BROADER VISION IN WEST'S PROBLEMS WILBUR'S PLEA

Secretary Lays Down Clear Formula for Nonpolitical, Nonsectional Development of Resources

SECRETARY WILBUR'S SUMMARY

Babylon fell not because of too much sin but because of too little water.

Water will determine where Los Angeles and its surrounding region will go.

What is this Colorado River business all about? The reaching out of people for more opportunity to grow.

Start miserable little squabbling over little political units and you can't win.

THE BOULDER DAM PROJECT

We can't play the regional game against Nature and play the political game against ourselves if we are to win.

We can't have it become a political football.

Give and take—take your time—do your share—these are communal laws associated with the distribution of water.

OIL AND GAS CONSERVATION

Conservation is cash. That does not mean to hoard but to use wisely.

Nature goes on her course and you win or lose according to whether you get along with that course.

For the development of Southern California's water supply and the conservation of its oil and gas resources, Secretary of the Interior Wilbur yesterday laid down emphatic terms of nonpolitical and nonsectional procedure before a gathering of several hundred persons assembled at the Biltmore under auspices of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Advertising Club. He dealt specifically in that way with the Boulder Dam project and stressed the need of concerted conservation action in connection with the Kettleman Hills oil field, concerning which he and owners of oil wells in that region conferred later in the day.

To a Times representative he said that the recent ruling by Solicitor E. C. Finney of the Interior Department anent Boulder Dam power development, which ruling Senator Johnson and Senator Norris of Nebraska yesterday attacked, was not intended as mandatory on the Secretary but merely indicated the procedure he could take if he so desired. These Senators, according to a report from Washington, in effect assert the ruling destroys the priority rights of cities, States and municipalities in connection with the power development at the dam and that thereby private corporations can obtain this power if in selling it they give priority to municipalities and States. Secretary Wilbur's manner of dismissing the attack indicated his stand that it is entirely baseless.

He expressed optimism as to the outcome of the Boulder Dam conference at Reno. It looks hopeful, he said.

BUSINESS MESSAGE

Driving straight to his points, Secretary Wilbur brought to the meeting a message of development, conservation and progress typically expressive of a Federal administration motivated by sound business principles and not by politics.

Propounding the question, "What is all this Colorado River business about?" he said it was a reaching out by people for more opportunity to grow. It is a normal process, but not sectional, for other States are involved, he declared. Your problems are those of nature and you are fortunate that water runs down into Southern California, Nevada and a part of Arizona, too, are unfortunate in this respect."

The States concerned in the project are purely artificial political entities, he pointed out. "They are regional political units and yet through politics we try to decide the laws of physics, to make adjustments and rearrangements. Nature goes on her course and you win or lose, according to whether you get along with that course." The problem, he said, is to get these political units and their difficulties into harmonious accord and from that a harmonious course of procedure.

BOULDER DAM PROBLEM

Discussing the Boulder Dam project, the Secretary said there is confusion as to the distribution of its benefits and urged a balancing off of private and political interests against regional and national interests, and that the latter must be considered above all others.

"We can't play the regional game against nature and play the political game against ourselves. We can't have it a political football. We must get the water. Give and take—take your time—do your share—these are the communal laws associated with the distribution of water. You must think of the future and must get yourselves working together. This is the age of science and democracy and you

DAM BILL JOKER SEEN BY NORRIS

Nebraskan Charges Wilbur Nullifies Measure

Project Sold Out to "Power Trust," He Declares

Johnson Darkly Presages of Wrath to Break

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur of the Interior Department was charged in the Senate today by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, with nullifying the provisions of the Boulder Dam bill and moving to turn the power from the proposed project over to the "water power trust."

The Nebraskan read an opinion given by the solicitor of the Interior Department which held power could be sold to private interests. He called attention to the provision in the Swing-Johnson Boulder Dam Act stipulating that preference should be given to municipalities and States in the leasing of power.

NORRIS'S OPINION

"That means that the Secretary of the Interior is able," shouted Norris, "to nullify the most important provision in that law and give every kilowatt of power to the water power trust."

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, sponsor of the Boulder Dam bill, agreed with Norris and warned that "We will not be slow when the time comes to express our views on this matter, no matter what the solicitor has advised."

While Norris took the position that Secretary Wilbur already had nullified and repealed the Boulder Dam Act, Johnson said that "out of fairness to the Secretary let it be said that this is a decision by the solicitor of the department."

Norris contended the Boulder Dam measure never could have passed Congress without the provision that political entities, namely, cities and States, should be given power preference rights.

JOHNSON AGREES

Johnson agreed with this and added that "as one of those who sponsored the bill I say without fear of contradiction that every single solitary individual interested in the bill believed in the right reserved for States and municipalities for this power."

"That part of the law has been completely repealed," continued Norris. "The Secretary of the Interior

DAM FACES FUND REFUSAL

Colorado River Conferees Told Congress Will Not Provide Money Without Agreement

BY CHESTER G. HANSON
"Times" Staff Representative

RENO, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—The threat of the utter loss of the Boulder Dam project to the Southwest stalked into the tri-State Colorado River conference today as two United States Senators warned the California and Arizona commissions that unless an agreement is reached at this conference there will be no appropriation from Congress to build the dam.

At the same time it was revealed that the California commission apparently is divided on certain phases of their problem as to how Arizona's demands on the allocation of the waters of the river can be met, although Chairman Bacon denied the Californians are split.

The threat of no money from Congress until an agreement is reached by the lower basin States came at a meeting between the California and Arizona commissions presided over by Col. W. J. Donovan, chairman of the conference, who is here representing the Federal government.

It was a day of lively developments and it is apparent that events are so shaping themselves that things are going to begin popping.

Gov. Young sent a telegram urging unity of action and expressing hope for agreement.

Senator Pittman of Nevada, who has been indisposed for several days and has not been able to take an active part in the conference until today, is the one who warned the conference to get together and agree if they expect any money from Congress. His remarks were seconded by Sena-

THE Aloha Festival at Honolulu will be interesting and valuable in that it will show the world that Hawaiian culture had something to it besides squirming in the region of the hips.

In recent years there has been a conscious effort on the part of the ethnologists of this country to capture what remains of our disappearing civilizations. On every side we see the remains of primitive civilizations slipping away from our ken.

No people had a more interesting life—or more interesting culture than the natives of these islands. All of this has been preserved from oblivion through the efforts of scientists; but all the public knows about it is grass skirts and wiggles.

REACH FOR AN ORANGE

"Reach for an orange instead of a cigarette" is the heart-warming motto adopted by the W.C.T.U. of Madison, Wis.

We are not alarmed—much—about their reaching for the cigarettes; but California is heartily in favor of their reaching for the orange.

The great problem of the citrus industry of this State was to convince the people of the East and Middle West that an orange is an article of food, not merely something to put in Christmas stockings.

The luckiest break that California ever had was the commendable determination of the young lady flappers to grow slim—on orange juice.

SUBMARINES

The proposal to abolish submarines as weapons of war can be put down as a part of the amiable social doings at the disarmament conference.

No sane statesman supposes for one moment that submarines—once having been perfected as engines of war—will ever be abandoned. The history of war is that each new weapon as it develops is always regarded with holy horror and denounced as barbarous and inhuman. But no new weapon has ever been abandoned for that reason.

In the World War the submarine was still a crude experiment; yet accomplished astonishing results. The submarine of today is as different from the undersea boat of the late war as the flying machine of Darius Greene differed from Col. Lindbergh's new sky ship.

RED INDIA

The rebellious population of India is very keen about hauling down the British flag; but seems a little hazy as to the flag that is to go to the top of the flagpole instead.

In present conditions it would be a world-wide calamity to withdraw British rule from India. It would throw the whole Orient into chaos and rock a world that is already balanced on a dangerously thin edge.

England's rule is doubtless far from perfect; but it is better than what would follow. The sweet sympathy of the Russian Reds is not based upon a real worriment over the sad case of the submerged millions of India. The Indian rebellion is a blow at the heart of th British Empire from her oldest and bitterest foe.

Manicurist Lures Engineer to Apartment, Murders Him and Then Ends Own Life

NOTES REVEAL KILLING PLANS

Midnight Call Followed by Several Shots

Sisters of Woman Identify Bodies for Police

Slain Man Married and Father of Son

Murder and suicide was written after the names of Howard W. Moore, 28-year-old mechanical engineer, and Mrs. Della "Dot" Lee, 35-year-old manicurist, yesterday, after police found the two bodies in the apartment of the woman at 2548½ South Hauser Boulevard.

The double killing was premeditated and carefully planned, according to the investigating officers, who were called to the scene, and believed to have been the climax of a series of quarrels between the two illicit lovers.

WOMAN LEAVES NOTES

Notes written by the woman were found by the police indicating that she expected tragedy from the visit of her lover. They also gave instructions as to burial and disposal of her personal belongings.

Moore, who was married and the father of a 7-year-old son, went to the apartment about midnight, according to the story of tenants of the two-story building. Noise of laughter and talking was heard. Then the upstairs rooms became quiet.

About 4:30 a.m. shots were heard. Shortly after noon yesterday tenants called the police when they found the door to the apartment still locked. Police found the two bodies on the bed. Moore had been shot as he slept, the bullet entering the base of the skull. Mrs. Lee had been killed from a bullet fired into her mouth. A third bullet, which the woman had evidently fired at herself, had lodged in the wall a few inches above her head. She clutched a .32 caliber automatic pistol in her lifeless hand.

SISTERS IDENTIFY BODY

The dead woman was identified by her sisters, who reside near by, as the estranged wife of Smith Lee, mechanical engineer, from whom she separated in June of last year. They knew little about the dead man except that he was a mechanical engineer and a traveling salesman for an oil well supply company.

Moore's car was found in a parking station adjacent to the apartment. It contained two grips, his overcoat, sales books and catalogues. His driver's license gave his address at 5846 Fifth avenue, but neighbors said that the husband, wife and son moved from there early in December. Police give his address as 1453 Angelus avenue.

Both bodies were taken to the county morgue by the Coroner, where they will be held pending the inquest.

ter Hayden of Arizona, who attended the conference as adviser to the Arizona commission.

"If you do not come to some agreement here, I can safely say that there will be no appropriation for the construction of the dam," Senator Pittman told the conferees. He added that while the appropriation was authorized by Congress, it had not yet been made.

"If you people here cannot agree," he asked those seated about him in the conference room, "how do you expect 448 Representatives and ninety-six Senators to agree? We got the bill approved because it authorized a certain agreement by the States concerned. If we do not obtain that agreement we will be right back where we started. We worked for seven years on this bill and we were able to get it passed only because I induced Senator Hayden to give up his filibuster. If we do not agree here our work will have gone for naught. That applies not only to agreement on water but agreement on the whole situation."

Col. Donovan quoted Senator Hayden as rejoining:

"Senator Pittman states it exactly as I view it."

It is understood that what the Senators meant was that even with the six-State compact which has been entered into, there very likely could be no appropriation obtained from Congress.

There was no comment forthcoming from any of the spokesmen for the State commissions or from Col. Donovan on this declaration.

Talk of a difference of opinion in the California delegation appeared to receive some substantiation inferentially from Gov. Young's wire which was as follows:

"Understand there is probability of agreement with Arizona. Respectfully urge that no local interests be emphasized to the point of endangering agreement but that matter be considered from broad Statewide viewpoint. Undue insistence of local interests may mean disintegration of Metropolitan Water District, litigation and indefinite delay, which may be fatal. I believe situation is crucial and hope that every effort will be exerted to bring about agreement at this time.

"C. C. YOUNG."

The Governor's plea that no local interests be permitted to throw a monkey wrench into the machinery is thought to have reference to a reported inability of the Imperial Valley and associated territory in the Metropolitan Water District to agree as to which one is to make the concessions necessary if Arizona's water demands are to be met.

WATER DIVIDED

When Col. Donovan was asked if it were true that there is a split in the California commission, he said he would not answer the question. Without intending to pass in any way on the merits of the claims of any faction, he stated at another time that all of the engineers agree that there is enough water in the river to satisfy the needs of all concerned for the next fifty years. The Metropolitan Water District will require about 1,100,000 acre-feet of water for domestic use.

The water demands for agricultural uses, both present and immediate future, total about 5,000,000 acre-feet of which the present use totals about 2,500,000 acre feet. California is allotted 4,400,000 acre-feet of water under the River Act. There is another 1,000,000 acre-feet which is divided fifty-fifty between Arizona and California. And above that there is a surplus which is to be divided equally between the two States. The question is who is to take a chance on that indefinite surplus, and where is the water for Mexico to come from?

The California commission went into a huddle tonight to talk the situation over.

rating of products among all in the field.

"It looks very favorable to a quick agreement," Reiter said in summing up the situation. "Our committees will meet very shortly and agree upon some plan or other to submit to the operators and permittees.

"One important step taken at this conference was designation of a committee headed by Carl Beal to get Petroleum Securities Company, a Doheny organization, to come into concord with the rest with its Felix well. The prospects are good."

The Felix well is yielding on company property, but all around it on property leased from the government other companies stand ready in varying degrees to bring in wells in order to prevent the Felix well from draining their oil out from under them.

Kettleman Hills is an oil district of about 150 square miles, mostly in Kings county. The government owns slightly more than one-third of it. A host of companies some time back began an almost frenzied development of the field notwithstanding an overproduction at the time.

Since that time the operators and permittees formed a committee to try to work out some sort of a conservation plan and for months Secretary Wilbur has been lending aid to the move. When he was in Los Angeles yesterday, Reiter took advantage of the occasion to have him meet with the operators and permittees in closed session.

LAND OWNERS PLAN WASTE-SUIT DEFENSE

FRESNO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Owners of fee land in Kettleman Hills who formed an association Monday following their conference with Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, are preparing an active defense against the State's waste suit, Henry Hawson, president, announced today.

"The gas law," Hawson said, "is the crux of the situation. Our position as landowners in the field is that if, by the use of proper methods and proper appliances, we can produce in the Kettleman Hills field without undue waste, we should be allowed to do so. But if, with the use of those proper methods and appliances, our production is arbitrarily held to be wasteful we should have some recourse.

"The difficulty is that under the State Gas Act, the State Supervisor of Oil and Gas is given the power to fix the optimum of allowable wastage of gas for oil produced by a given well in a given field. In the Santa Fe Springs field, that was set at 2500 cubic feet for each barrel of oil produced. In the Ventura-avenue field, however, the procedure was different and an optimum of allowable waste was fixed for each well.

"If the State Supervisor of Gas and Oil holds that the relation of the amount of gas to the amount of oil produced in Kettleman Hills at present is the optimum, then well and good, we can go ahead. If, however, he sets the optimum at such a low figure that we cannot produce without violating the law, we believe that such a step would be oppressive, and that some plan for the review of his decision should be had.

"The landowners in Kettleman Hills are heartily in sympathy with the movement for conservation, but we feel that conservation is the proper use, not the disuse, of natural resources.

"We will be glad to join with the Federal government in any program for conservation in which our rights are protected."

can completely ignore States and municipalities. He must only provide in the contract to the private interests, under this decision, that preference be given the political entities."

"I am not unaware of what is going on," said Johnson. "There will come a day when it will be necessary to speak out on this subject from the standpoint of the people. We will not be slow when that time comes to express our views, no matter what the solicitor has advised. I want to make that plain."

must make a field for the expert in this democracy so that we can get the best leadership through our democracy. We don't last long—we soon go over the dam. It is the people who come after us who count."

What concerns one part of the Western States in matters of development concerns them all, he said, and declared that with the remnant of public domain yet remaining under Federal control, "we must do the best we can. Start miserable little squabbling over little political units and you can't win."

NEED OF WATER

Introduced by President Austin of the chamber as a real Californian, Secretary Wilbur proceeded to live up to this description by displaying an intimate knowledge of California needs and purposes and their application to national welfare.

A great experiment is being worked out in Southern California, he said. "You are trying to build up a great civilization and do it in the face of semiarid conditions. The history of Babylon shows that it fell, not because of too much sin, but because of too little water. You face the same thing."

Alternating floods and droughts wrought the ruin of Babylon, he asserted. The cutting down of the vegetation on its hillsides permitted floods that drowned Babylon in mud. The Secretary cited an analogous condition in the destruction of trees that he observed in a certain San Joaquin Valley locality. He said he saw an orchard being cut down. When the valley first was developed it was well supplied with artesian wells, but now the water has to be pumped from a depth of 1500 feet. It is hard to go into the markets under such conditions, he said. He doubted if any of those who lost on this particular investment know why they did so. And there is that all through the West, said the speaker.

"You have reached the limit of people here until you expand your water supply. The Owens pipe-line brought in thousands of people. Water determines where Los Angeles and the surrounding region will go. Oil wells may disappear and gas wells may disappear, but water and water power will remain as long as water pours from the skies. You have outgrown your hill supply and now are pumping from your reserve. You must learn what your problems are. They come to us in the Department of the Interior. Only by proper cooperation can irrigation districts be instituted. Order, justice, fair dealing and the like are the basis for irrigation projects."

KETTLEMAN HILLS

Emphasizing the importance of harmonious procedure in affairs of conservation and development, the Secretary cited the instance of the Kettleman Hills, which he described as one of the greatest of the oil-and-gas fields, worth $4,000,000,000. "It cannot be treated as if under one ownership."

It has a checker board of ownership over it, he said, and some owners are in a hurry to bring in wells, some in a hurry for money, others eager in some other direction. It reminded him of a story in the Arabian Nights.

Beneath a mile and a half of soil is a vast treasure, but in opening it it is found the treasure is in the hands of little fairies. As they start up to the surface some bring oil, some escape and never do a service, but they can be captured and made to serve.

"Enough gas was blown off into the air there yesterday to take care of Southern California, so far as gas consumption for fuel is concerned."

Such wastage, he pointed out, means that thus a considerable part of the Los Angeles and San Francisco industrial welfare is blowing off into the air. "Yet you have not even had a committee come and tell us to come out and do what can be done. I came out on my own initiative. I practice medicine and am accustomed to plain speaking and if I find a typhoid case I do not call it a cold in the head. There has been hardly a ripple as regards this great treasure. It reminds me of a parable. A family had a bin of wheat and a small hole through which to obtain it. To get more wheat this hole was made larger and then some of the boys in the family made it larger and larger until finally the family was suffocated."

He warned against any gas dissipation disaster here. Half a dozen of these wells can support California's needs, he asserted, and he believes the rest can be regulated according to orderly requirements. Sixteen wells are in the production phase, he said, with a pipe line to San Francisco and another one contemplated. "But there is this enormous waste. Conservation is cash. That does not mean to hoard, but to use wisely. It is hard to get the personal interests around a table to settle the problems," he asserted, "but only by a method of unified control can we deal with the Kettleman Hills field or with the conservation of water."

Twenty years from today, he declared, the Santa Fe Springs situation will be stressed as a forceful illustration of inadequacy in the handling of a natural resource.

In speaking of general development efforts, the Secretary called attention to Alaska as a great treasure house where conditions are different from here and the resources are poorly developed. "We are trying for more stable development there. The Secretary of the Interior also has the distinction of being the president of the railroad there and he measures its success by the reduction of its losses."

He then announced the scheduled conference with Kettleman Hills well owners in the afternoon and called attention to the Boulder Dam conference at Reno where, he said, an effort is being made to work out

Twelve Cars in Garage Fire Lost

Twelve automobiles were destroyed, $15,000 damage was done, and a woman was arrested for interfering with firemen when the H & S garage at 2419 South Vermont avenue burned last night. The woman is Mrs. Carrie Myer, 36 years of age, 5101½ South Vermont.

According to Police Sergeant Stewart of the Wilshire division, Mrs. Myer made repeated attempts to enter the garage after the fire department arrived. When she refused to heed their warnings she was arrested.

Employees of the garage saved a number of the cars by rolling them into the street before the fire gained too much headway. The firemen were unable to determine the origin of the blaze.

STECKEL PLANS POLICE SHAKE-UP

Sweeping Personnel Shifts Proposed by Chief

Smaller Beats Also Urged as Crime Deterrent

Commission Will Pass Upon Reorganization Scheme

Curtailment of crime, more adequate enforcement of traffic safety measures and general improvement of policing of the city are benefits expected to result from plans for a sweeping reorganization of the police department announced by Chief Steckel yesterday.

The plans, drawn up by Deputy Chief Cross after a survey of several weeks and to be submitted to the Police Commission for approval, involve, chiefly, the redistribution of the personnel, re-apportionment of beat areas, and the fixing of responsibility for crime conditions more upon the shoulders of the uniformed division commanders. Expressed in the words of Chief Steckel, "The beat man or patrolman will have to do more than issue citations for traffic violations."

BEATS TO BE SMALLER

Redistribution of men and reapportionment of the beat areas will be based on the territorial area, population, crime centers, and location of school crossings and traffic hazards.

In the belief that crime can be cut down by preventive measures, districts supervised by sergeants and beats covered by patrolmen are to be made smaller.

In outside districts where the areas are greater and population less the policing is to be done by motor patrols.

Chief Steckel pointed out that under present conditions the beats are so large that in many cases the beat man is compelled to board a street car in order to reach his various patrol call boxes.

"Under such a condition," said the Chief, "it is impossible for a patrolman to adequately patrol his beat. He cannot familiarize himself with conditions on his beat as he should. While he is at one end a burglary or robbery may be in progress a mile away at the other."

FIXES RESPONSIBILITY

If the changes go into effect police captains in command of the various fourteen divisions in the city will be held directly responsible for crime conditions in their districts, it was stated. This responsibility at present, the Chief pointed out, rests almost entirely upon the captain of detectives in each division, and ultimately upon the shoulders of the chief of detectives at headquarters.

"This condition," said the Chief, "is not only unjust but unreasonable. The detective units consist of investigating officers. Their work is done always after a crime has been committed. There are certainly other conditions to be taken into consideration, and if we can, by these new methods prevent a lot of the crime, it will naturally lessen the work to be done by the investigating officers."

SAHARA SHEIK TO LEAD SHRINE CIRCUS CAMELS

A pure-blooded Arabian sheik, straight from the desert sands of the Sahara, will be in charge of the camels which will appear next Saturday at the opening performance of the mammoth Shrine sponsored circus at the Al Malaikah Temple, it was announced yesterday.

Sheik Adoum Ben Hassum is reported to have been the right-hand man of Abd-el-Krim, Riffian leader, during the late Northern African uprisings directed against France and Spain.

Prisoner Finds Warrant Waiting on His Release

Wanted here on a forgery charge, Robert B. Heath reported that Rutherford was released after serving part of a two-year sentence for passing worthless checks. The Los Angeles officer arrested Rutherford on a warrant charging forgery.

According to police records Rutherford, posing as Dr. William J. Rockwell, gave a check for $2535 to G. C. Troutt, an automobile dealer, on December 12, 1927, in payment of a car. Troutt complained that the check was spurious.

JURY IN BIFFLE CASE DISMISSED

Second Trial of Pantages Witness Fails

Panel Deadlocked Ten to Two for Acquittal

Accused Again May Face Bar on Perjury Charge

Deadlocked ten to two for acquittal, a jury of eight women and four men sitting at the second trial of Garland Biffle, Alhambra law-book salesman, charged with perjury in connection with testimony he offered at the trial of Alexander Pantages, was dismissed last night by Superior Judge McComb after members of the panel announced they could not agree.

On request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Frampton the case was set to be called for a new trial date on the 23rd inst. Frampton said he could not announce that a third trial will be conducted until after conferences today with Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

After the jury had been out twenty-eight hours, Judge McComb, presiding for Superior Judge Henderson, who heard the trial, called them into court at 9:30 p.m. Foreman Hugh C. Tillinghast, questioned by the court, said he believed it impossible that the deadlock would be broken by further deliberation. Individual jurors signified likewise on Judge McComb's inquiry, and he excused them.

WOMEN FOR CONVICTION

Biffle is asserted to have testified falsely at the Pantages trial that he saw Eunice Pringle and Nicholas Tamer, playwright, together in the lobby of the Pantages Theater building on the afternoon of August 5, 1929, the date of Pantages's asserted attack on Miss Pringle. The state affirms that Miss Pringle entered the building alone and that Tamer spent most of that afternoon in the office of Theodore Gottbaker, an attorney and friend of the playwright.

After several other members of the jury revealed that Mrs. Harriet B. Britton and Mrs. Joe Longan had cast the votes for the conviction of Biffle, it also was disclosed by the jurors that small credence was given Dunser's testimony as against the testimony of Biffle and his wife, but they asserted that the absence of corroboration of the testimony of the latter two provided a contention that could not be removed.

WILLING TO FIGHT AGAIN

On the second failure of a jury to agree in the case, Defense Attorneys William T. Kendrick, Sr., and William T. Kendrick, Jr., announced their willingness to proceed in Biffle's defense at a third trial where, they said, they will be able to procure additional testimony and evidence in the law-book salesman's behalf.

The present case went to the jury after Trial Judge Henderson refused to reopen the case to allow the defense to present testimony relative to the filing last Friday of Miss Pringle's suit for $1,000,000 damages against Pantages. Judge Henderson ruled filing of the damage suit had no bearing on the case involving Biffle.

SOUTHLAND AIR CADETS SELECTED

Twenty-five Applicants for Army Training Breaks Other States' Record

Twenty-five California civilians, of whom twenty are from the Southland, are among the applicants selected by the War Department from States within the Ninth Corps Area for training as flying cadets at the primary flying school at March Field, Riverside, according to word received here yesterday from Maj. John L. Hines's headquarters in the Presidio, San Francisco. Four enlisted men, three of whom are now at March Field, also are in the list.

In civilian representation, California, with twenty-five candidates, leads all other States of the country, followed by Texas with fifteen. The two leading cities are Los Angeles with seven students and Chicago with six. Cadets from eastern and central States will be trained at Brooks Field, Texas. Classes at March Field will get under way March 1, next.

Southern California civilians selected are:

David F. Blackburn, John C. Eberhart, Charles Paul Edwards, Floyd Faust, Jack Hoffman, Lambert H. Miller Jr., Ray K. Montgomery, all of Los Angeles; John E. Nihen, Altadena; Robert Reynolds Olendale; Warner D. Hunt, Redwood; Bert J. Root, Long Beach; Ira B. Banks, Robert W. Baskerville, Jr., Gregory and Earle T. Massey, Inglewood; Ralf W. Anderson, Thomas E. Gist and Charles Sumner, San Pedro; Lloyd Wilbur L. Merrill and Maurice C. Thomas of Ventura. Enlisted men chosen at March Field are Privates Donald Russell, Albert C. Reed and Wade H. Hamlett, Jr.

Ex-Aide of Nix Goes to Cell in Fraud Case

Bail of $2500 posted by Roy H. Sherwood, former investigator for City Prosecutor Nix, was ordered forfeited by Municipal Judge Ambrose yesterday when Sherwood failed to appear for preliminary hearing on a forgery charge. Judge Ambrose ordered a bench warrant issued for Sherwood's arrest.

Later in the day, Sherwood was surrendered in court by his attorney, Joseph L. Palmer. The accused man was placed in the County Jail under $2,500 bond.

According to Dept. Dist.-Atty. Russell, Sherwood collected $70 of a $120 liquor fine, imposed on Sam Shapiro, 410 East Slauson avenue, which the latter had been allowed to pay in installments.

LINDBERGH FOUNT DEDICATED

Pupils Render Tribute to Rider of Skies

Memorial at Roosevelt High School, and Thomas Fellows

ENSHRINED in their hearts as the symbol of American ideals, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh yesterday morning was immortalized by the pupils of Roosevelt High School when they dedicated a memorial fountain to the Lone Eagle in the patio of the school grounds. All classes were suspended for a brief period as the dedication ceremonies were solemnized.

The fountain is of colored cement and was designed and built by the class in manual training under the supervision of Thomas Fellows, instructor. It forms a modernistic ellipse in the center of the patio, the modeled likeness of a winged Lindbergh rearing up from the waters of the pool. Two years were required in completing it.

In an address in which he extolled Col. Lindbergh for his achievements in the cause of aviation, Supt. Clark, in charge of manual training classes, presented the memorial, and Principal Thomas Elson accepted it in behalf of the school.

NEW CHURCH BREAK LAID TO ALFORDS

Withdrawal of Dallas Congregation Minimized at Angelus Temple

The importance of the withdrawal of Bethel Church, Four Square Gospel, Dallas, Tex., from the organization, and the loss of more than 300 members, was discounted by Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, business manager of the organization here, yesterday, while admitting the truth of the Dallas withdrawal.

According to word received from Texas by Rev. H. E. Alford of Pasadena, the church refused to sign over its property to the Four Square organization. Rev. and Mrs. Alford, once prominent in the affairs of Angelus Temple here, withdrew last fall at the time Rev. John Goben resigned.

"The church members were friends of the Alfords," said Mrs. Kennedy yesterday. "They brought the organization into the Four Square Gospel when they came into the work here. Now that they are out, their friends are withdrawing also."

Defendant Hides, But Judgment in Balm Suit Given

Although neither the United States mail carriers nor a neighbor hired as a process server could find Mrs. Carrie Barteaux, said to live at 1004 Third street, Santa Monica, she was served by publication with papers in a $125,000 alienation suit filed and judgment by default for $5000 was granted against her by Superior Judge Gates yesterday. The plaintiff is Mrs. Eva C. Logan.

Mrs. Logan's complaint asserted that Mrs. Barteaux enticed her husband, John A. Logan, away from her, and stated that she was no longer living with Logan.

Daughter Seeks to Break Will of Mrs. Gabel

Charging an unequal distribution of the $93,000 estate of Mary Gabel of Whittier impends, Mrs. Anna Schroder, daughter, yesterday asked that the will and a codicil be declared invalid.

The will provides that Frank Emsieke, a brother, should inherit $3000; Raymond Schroder, a grandson, $2000; St. Mary's Catholic Church of Whittier, $1000, and the residue to Mrs. Johanna Waldapfel, who is dead. The codicil substituted the surviving husband of Mrs. Waldapfel as residuary legatee.

Mrs. Schroder asserts Waldapfel exerted prejudicing influence.

Milk Inspector Request Made

The Board of Health Commissioners yesterday asked the City Council to take action whereby the health department can hire a milk inspector-technician to be stationed at Los Banos to examine sweet cream which the Los Banos Dairymen's Association is desirous of shipping into Los Angeles.

The health department maintains several such inspectors in Central California, the dairymen at these points paying the salaries of the inspectors and establishing the laboratories. The matter was referred to the Efficiency and Personnel Committee.

CHARGES MADE IN BELL PERMIT

it had not been for the timely action of four Councilmen who objected to such speedy action the ordinance would have been presented to Mayor Porter for his approval then and there.

"BEFORE THE STORM"

"Why such haste? The only apparent reason is that the opposition was digging up too many facts in reference to the application and its inadvisability and that the majority of you expected the thing could be put across before the storm of public disapproval would be so great that your political fortunes would be imperiled thereby.

"I have definite information upon which I charge several of your number with being prejudiced and biased in this matter to such an extent as to make those Councilmen unfit to vote upon this ordinance. The Councilmen are Messrs. Webster and Martin. The propriety of your action on this matter was called into question by one of your own number, Councilman Jacobson, and your Council, in an effort to ignore his request for an inquiry, referred his motion to the Planning Committee of the City Council, of which Ernest L. Webster is chairman and who is more involved in everything inferred by the charge of incapacity than any other member of the Council.

"GOING TOO FAST"

"On this matter you have been going just a little too fast. It might be better to take stock of the situation now and, properly uphold the dignity of the city of Los Angeles which you are supposed to represent by referring this whole matter back to the Los Angeles Planning Commission with instructions to confer with the City Attorney as to how far the city may go with safety to the public.

"I believe in orderly government and believe that orderly government can only be secured by orderly action of the officials representing the people. In my opinion, your actions up to date in this matter have been disorderly and to that extent, while it is not too late, you should correct your procedure and do the duty you are elected to perform, namely, act in the interests of the whole public rather than in the interests of a few who, for a long period of time, have been laying their plans in the City Hall to do this very thing with and through you.

PLAIN TALK NEEDED

"I do not feel that a note of warning any less severe in its implications or less plain than this I am sending you will do any good.

"I do not fear anything you may or may not do, but if you decide to honestly investigate this thing I shall be pleased to give you, in an orderly hearing, properly conducted, with the witnesses under oath, all the information that is at my command.

"The representative from our district, Ernest L. Webster, should not be a member of that committee, nor should either Councilmen Holland or Martin.

"Respectfully submitted,

"ARTHUR A. WEBBER."

PROJECT NEIGHBORS LODGE PROTEST

Beverly-Pacific Association directors, meeting yesterday, passed a strong resolution asking the City Council to vote against permitting the Alphonzo Bell and the Mountain Park Association to open a cement rock quarry in the Santa Monica Mountains.

The breakdown of the zoning act was predicted should the permit finally be granted. That the district should be preserved for residential purposes is the contention of the board of directors of the association, which comprises communities adjacent to the proposed quarry site.

YOUNG HOLDS SESSION HERE

Governor and Aides Discuss Affairs of State

Council Reports Point to Bright Outlook

of all of the professions, Collins declared.

The Board of Registration for civil engineers, he said, since their organization a few months ago, had established a definition of the term "civil engineer," which is the first workable creed of its kind adopted for the craft anywhere in the world since 1827. The work of this board is progressing and the authorized forms to provide for application and for registration and licensing of civil engineers will be ready for distribution early in February.

The speaker expressed considerable enthusiasm over results obtained by the section of contractors' registration. Fraudulent contractors have been driven out of the State, he reported, as was evidenced by reports of neighboring States telling of an influx of irregular and crooked operators working on building activities.

Dr. W. M. Dickie, Director of Public Health, reported a large decrease in communicable diseases during 1929. Typhoid fever and diphtheria cases were appreciably less. Tubercular control has reached such a point in this State, the director declared, that if the work is continued without interruption for the coming ten years the disease will become only an incident. Cases of influenza dropped from 49,000 in 1928 to 5797 in 1929, but Dr. Dickie said that a recurrence of the malady might be expected in February and March of this year, though not in extensive proportions. He advocated precautionary measures, however.

PARROT FEVER DISCUSSED

The speaker discussed psittacosis, or parrot's fever, at some length, but declared that it had not been definitely established that any pronounced cases of the malady had occurred in California. He said the disease was not communicable from one person to another and must be acquired from a bird exposed to the disease.

John R. Quinn, Director of the Department of Military and Veterans' Affairs, stirred unusual interest, when he declared that demand for organization of a National Guard unit had come from Imperial Valley authorities, who described unusual activities by soviet propagandists attempting to stir up Japanese and Mexican laborers.

In this respect, Quinn declared that the military training camp at San Luis Obispo is rated as one of the best in the country, both in equipment and attendance. New work is being done throughout the State to improve veterans' homes and hospitals, bringing them within fire and sanitary laws.

AS TO PRISON AFFAIRS

James A. Johnson, Director of the Department of Penology, saw a great improvement in criminal conditions in the proposed new Southern California prison for between charges of 18 and 24 prisoners. Already many sites had been offered for the prison, he said, and a serious study was being made of all of them to get as near ideal conditions as possible.

San Quentin Prison, he said, while housing the largest number of prisoners in the United States, is not to be taken as an indication that more crime exists in California. He pointed out that eastern States have more and smaller correctional institutions.

F. G. Atheran, Corporation Commissioner and Director of Investment, reported a returning public interest in bonds as a result of lower values in stocks as reflected in the New York Stock Exchange.

The Division of Insurance, he said, reported increased activities by insurance companies in California, both in the number of companies and brokers operating. This, he declared, was gratifying as an expression of confidence in this State from the large organizations represented. In 1928 total insurance premiums collected in California amounted to $305,114,952.30 and, although figures are not yet available, the total for 1929 is expected to be materially larger.

The Division of Corporations reported the 1929 flow of business maintained a steady increase over 1928, especially in Los Angeles, where 65 per cent of all applications originate, and which showed a 16 per cent increase for 1929.

Banks and building and loan associations look to new prosperity through a co-operation of effort expected to be arrived at through committee meetings of the California Building and Loan League and the California Bankers' Association, arranged through the Division of Building and Loan. New activity along safe and conservative lines is predicted.

Issuance of 6145 certificates to real estate brokers and salesmen by the Division of Real Estate already this year, Athearn said, indicates that throughout the State there is anticipation of renewed activity in the building of homes and investment in real estate.

Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, Director of Social Welfare, told of the application of systematic methods of sociology being applied by State agencies. This includes supervision of probation, a study of administration of State aid to needy children, a study of children's institutions, juvenile probation, information regarding California's new jail system and organization of county welfare departments.

GOV. YOUNG SPEAKS AT ENGINEERS' MEETING

Gov. Young was the principal speaker last night at a banquet of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Association of Engineers at the City Club. He spoke on the subject of "Mechanics of State Government," explaining that the reorganization plan which recently went into effect has worked for economy and better government.

The chief executive told of the former method of commission and department, all theoretically reporting to the Governor, but in fact receiving but little attention because of the numerous and varied demands made on hill time. It was explained that the reorganization plans divide the government into thirteen departments and that a responsible head was named to care for the work of each department and in turn report to the Governor.

The banquet was attended by possibly 100 members of the engineering professions, their wives and many city and county officials as honor guests.

And a Loud Ringing Clear Was Spouse's Idea of Joke, Says Wife

Nicholas W. Thomure thought he was being the life of the party when he took his shoes off and put his feet on the table, it appeared from Mrs. Thelma Thomure's divorce suit, on file yesterday.

These demonstrations of familiarity, which often were not appreciated, humiliated Mrs. Thomure, she said, and when she protested her husband used unseemly language. On other occasions, she said, he criticised her religion and her church affiliations.

Permit Pleas by Lawyers Scored

Employment of attorneys by applicants seeking favorable action from the Police Commission for permits to conduct poolrooms or other businesses under its jurisdiction brought strong expressions of disapproval from President Thorpe at the board's regular meeting yesterday.

"I don't see why applicants come here with attorneys," he said, "when it does them more good to state their own cases."

The statement of Thorpe was made when Joseph H. Henderson, colored, applied for a poolroom license at 2917 Central avenue. He was accompanied by a colored attorney, who stated the case.

GOOD PLACE FOR BELL

Scientist says the toppling over of a mountain on the moon would produce no noise or dust. The moon, then, would be a good place for the Bell cement plant.

THE BIG FAMILY

Woman who died in Arizona the other day was the mother of twenty-seven children, and is further mourned by ninety-one grandchildren. They believed in large families in her home. Mussolini would have given this matron a medal of honor.

THE LONDON FOG

Both Lloyd George and Ambassador Dawes got embedded in the fog and were unable to get to the palace in time to hear the King's speech. As the aviators would say the ceiling came clear down to the ground and the London fog was so thick that a steam shovel could hardly bite its way through.

COLD WAVE COMING

An astronomer sounds a warning. He tells us how our sun is throwing off matter at the rate of millions of tons an hour—or maybe a minute. Anyhow, it is shrinking fast and of course steadily losing its heat. In a trillion years our earth will be in permanent cold storage. By that time we will all be ready to quit.

THE NORSE WOMEN

Under proclamation of the King of Norway the women of that country are made eligible to any offices under the government. Even the army and navy are opened to them. At that we never expect to see a Norwegian lady admiral. But it is a fine thing to reveal the Vikings so tender and considerate of their dames.

THE GOLD DISCOVERY

The eighty-second anniversary of the discovery of gold near Fort Sutter was celebrated the other day. It was the gold discovery that turned the eyes of the world to California and now it is the movies that are keeping them here. There are so many illustrious products in the State that gold is only remembered as an incident.

SARDINE LITERATURE

Calvin Coolidge would be entitled to his dollar a word for writing the condensed history of the United States that is to be cut upon the granite face of one of the Black Hills. The story must be packed in less than 500 words and any editor knows that pruning is harder than expanding. To tell the story of our country in less than half a column of an average newspaper is to achieve a literary miracle.

SUNDAY CLOSING

Congressman Lankford of Georgia plunges into the arena of reformers. He offers a bill which would provide a fine of $1000 or a year in jail to any manager presenting a play or movie on Sunday. This would apply all over the country, although it would run counter to the right of the State to regulate the Sunday behavior of its citizens. Under the circumstances it is not apt to make much progress.

KEEPING THE PLEDGE

Realtors who are handling certain choice outlying subdivisions are advertising that their tracts will be ever free from the horrors of spot-zoning as practiced by the Los Angeles authorities and illustrated by the cement plant scandal. They guarantee that they have made ample provision against such a possibility and they pledge complete protection against future invasion. In this way their values are not only preserved but are enhanced.

SOME GREAT DANES

There doesn't seem to be anything the matter with Denmark if the two partners in an automobile business in Copenhagen are to be used for measurement. They are now in this country placing orders for their line of American cars and our hotels are pushed to provide them hospitality. One of them is seven feet five inches tall and the other weighs 390 pounds. It is frequently a problem to put them to bed. It is perfectly safe to speak of them as great Danes.

REVOLT IN THE PRISONS

The picture of San Quentin from the standpoint of a convict which has been presented to Times readers in a recent series of articles is not, of course, necessarily accurate in every detail. There are many things about a prison which prisoners do not like and it does not follow that they should all be changed. If prisons were not unpleasant places to be there would be no particular object in having them. They must be made sufficiently unpleasant so that no man once incarcerated there will care to return. But in its main outlines, the story related is confirmed from many sources—so many, that San Quentin seems to be a typical American prison, no worse and no better than the average, and to contain in its system many abuses which require correction.

Most of these are no fault of the administrative officer in charge, and there is nothing that he can do single-handed to change them. He cannot provide more cells. He cannot make the cells he has modern. He cannot install sanitary equipment. He cannot provide more employment. He cannot to any great degree improve the caliber of the personnel under him, which means that he cannot stop all petty graft or all smuggling of dope or weapons. The amount spent for food is not under his control. And many other abuses he can do little to correct unless he is given a free hand with no political interference. So that even if most of what this nameless ex-convict says about San Quentin is true, the recital does not necessarily constitute an indictment of Warden Holohan.

A warden can, however, keep his prison clean and free from vermin. This kind of sanitation is a matter of soap and water, brushes and brooms and labor; the first items are not expensive and the latter is abundant. It is charged in these articles that San Quentin is filthy. If the charge is true, here is a condition that can be changed immediately, and ought to be.

The prison conditions which lead to revolt, in the opinion of the convict writer, are idleness, overcrowding, favoritism and petty graft on the part of guards and officials, poor food and degrading and insanitary surroundings. That some of these exist at San Quentin will be denied by nobody; idleness and overcrowding in particular will be admitted by all concerned. There is no necessity, in a State as wealthy as California, for any of these conditions to obtain in its prisons. Nor should their correction place a burden upon the taxpayers; money enough is wasted by the politicians of the State every year to provide adequate accommodations for all prisoners, and their employment at useful occupations is not an insoluble problem, nor one which should add to costs.

John C. Groome, a former very successful warden of the Eastern District Prison of Pennsylvania, relates in the Saturday Evening Post a prison story which, allowing for the difference in viewpoint between a warden and a prisoner, is not strikingly different from that just related of San Quentin.

"The ideal prison," he concludes as a result of five years' experience, "is one in which every man has his own cell. The cell is properly lighted, ventilated and heated and it contains a decent bed. The prisoner has warm clothing, wholesome, plain food, seven hours' work a day for adequate wages and at least two hours a day of exercise outdoors. If he has no trade he is taught one. Physically and mentally he is exercised; physically and mentally, he is a better man than when he went in, and if he has a grain of sense he works at his trade and stays out."

This treatment, Mr. Groome is careful to point out, does not involve coddling of prisoners. He enforced, and favors, stern discipline. He declares there is no greater prison fallacy than is involved in the "self-government" schemes—the mutual welfare leagues and the like which infest eastern prisons and which investigators of the prison riots at Auburn hold responsible for those disturbances.

San Quentin is far from the ideal this writer sets forth. In the matter of employment, no prisoner at San Quentin works more than six hours, and some of them only a few minutes a day. All the cells have more than one occupant, and many are not properly lighted or ventilated. The sanitary facilities in the old prison are deplorable. Whether or not the food is bad, whether or not there is petty graft, whether or not dope is smuggled in, are matters to be settled by impartial investigation. They can be corrected. But most of these conditions can be changed only by the construction of new prisons, and such construction should not be delayed a minute longer than necessary. San Quentin itself should be rebuilt in large part.

The State should be careful to see, however, that no prison unit is made too large. Ex-Warden Groome declares that 2400 convicts is as many as should be housed in any one place. San Quentin has 4000. The provision of more prisons permits classification and segregation to be carried out, which are useful principles if not applied too rigidly. But most of all, there is a necessity for providing some useful employment; mere task work will not do. This part of the program is likely to meet with the usual short-sighted opposition from labor-union agitators, unable to see that the product of prison labor is a mere drop in the vast volume of American production and negligible from a competitive standpoint.

California has a prison problem to solve, and one which must be solved soon for the good of the State. It is not being solved by present methods.

JANUARY GRADUATES

The sweet June graduate has a lusty rival in the January graduate. The high schools of the city give diplomas to 2530 boys and girls this week in the mid-winter exercises.

Opportunities to begin and end the course twice a year are proving highly satisfactory. A larger number takes advantage of this modern adaptation of the curriculum to the needs of the youth. Then, too, they are not all poured out at once and the public is better able to assimilate them.

The combined graduating classes show an increase of 283 over last year. This is in fair ratio with the increases of former periods. It is something for the new census takers to ponder over. It is an index of the rate of development of the general population.

The Los Angeles High, as usual, leads all the others with 352 seniors. A citizen does not have to be an old-timer to recall the tempest the location of the new Los Angeles High on the western rim of the city stirred up a decade or so ago. Many accused the authorities of being dreamers, and some even said it was but a real-estate exploitation to locate such a pretentious institution "out in the sticks."

But the population has swept around this school as a center and even away beyond its confines. It is the pivot of the educational institutions of the entire city.

In the graduating class of this one school the girls outnumber the boys 186 to 166. This ought to give the youngsters as well as the oldsters something about which to scratch their heads.

A Stanford professor insists that women are feminizing the world. At all events they are not hesitating to accept all the opportunities that come their way. Knowledge is neither male nor female. It is power.

EQUITY TACTICS DEVELOP

The Actors' Equity Association, under Frank Gillmore, pursues such a devious and inconsistent course that it is difficult to draw any conclusions from the local incident of the Renick Players, Inc., which has been forced to close by union exactions. But if the interpretation is correct that Equity has really reached a working understanding with stagecraft unions, the information is of importance.

The Renick Players found expenses too heavy when they tried to carry a pay roll of four union stage hands and six musicians, and tried to operate with a crew of two, which was all the play required. The two were open-shop men. Equity stepped in and forbade the five actors in the cast to work under such conditions. The result is that not only are stage hands and musicians unemployed, but five actors are out of jobs. What the gain is in this perhaps Gillmore can figure out, but the actors will have difficulty in doing so and so will the public.

When Gillmore was trying to unionize the talking pictures last summer, he declined to agree to call actors out on sympathetic strikes in return for similar action by the studio-craft unions, so the latter refused naturally to help him in his battle with the producers. If he has yielded, the next assault upon talking pictures may be a more formidable one. Such an alliance cannot be carried out, of course, without breaking the law; sympathetic strikes are always illegal; but Gillmore does not worry about illegality if he thinks he can get away with anything.

However, one instance does not prove that the alliance has been made. Gillmore might take action against an inconspicuous producer that he would be afraid to take against a more powerful one, and the precedent may mean nothing as to Equity's future course. An alliance, of course, would bind Gillmore and his actors hand and foot to the whim of the "business agent" of any one of half a dozen craft unions, and weaken Equity as much in one direction as it would strengthen it in another. Gillmore, who prefers to rule or ruin, does not like arrangements which put him under enforceable obligations; he wants a free hand to operate the double-cross to his own advantage. It is real news if he has signed the treaty which he was offered last summer.

NEED THE MONEY

Chicago's school budget calls for $102,000,000 although the Board of Education is broke at the present time and the teachers haven't been paid for weeks. The mere fact that the city is out of money doesn't impair its appetite.

PATSY

By James J. Montague

There are lions that roam
Through their African home
And prey on the innocent gnus;
There are tigers which creep
Where the jungle is deep
In the shade of the slender bamboos;
There are rhinos that while
On the banks of the Nile
The hot summer hours away,
And sharpen their horns
On the thickets of thorns
When they nightly go seeking their prey.

There are fierce grizzly bears
In their well-hidden lairs;
They craftily wait till they hear
The pattering beat
Of the swift little feet
Of the innocent, hurrying deer.
While under the tide
With their mouths gaping wide
In the briny and moss-mantled darks
To bite you or me
If we fall in the sea
Are terrible man-eating sharks.

And Patsy, some day
Will be up and away
Over mountains and rivers and glens,
Through the rain and the sun
With his dog and his gun
To slaughter these brutes in their dens.
But when one is eight
It is wiser to wait
Before crossing the forest and foam
To stop the great brutes
From their evil pursuits,
And so, for a while, he'll stay home.

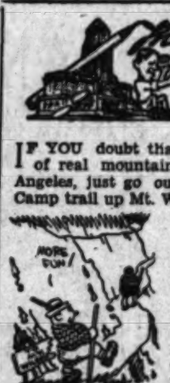
LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey



IF YOU doubt that we have plenty of real mountain climbers in Los Angeles, just go out to the Orchard Camp trail up Mt. Wilson any Sunday or Saturday afternoon and see the hikers practicing for the annual Mt. Wilson trail climb, which this year will be held on March 15 and which is open to any amateur hiker.

You will see hikers ranging in age from 8 to 60, for there will be classes and trophies for those between 8 and 15, inclusive; between 16 and 35, between 36 and 50 and from 51 upward. And you will see some of the persons practicing swinging up the steep and narrow trail from Sierra Madre to Orchard Camp at a pace which will make you marvel.

Hiking From Summer to Winter

Anyone in Southern California can get in a motor car and ride from flowers and orange blossoms up to snow and ice, but walking up is different. Yet every year we take our twenty-mule-team quartet of boys and do it. Last winter, when the youngest of the quartet was not yet 4 years old, we started from the foot of Wilson trail, inside the city limits of Sierra Madre, at 11 in the morning, picking boutonnieres of orange blossoms just before we started, and by 2 o'clock were snowballing at Orchard Camp, after many stops so that little feet could rest. And we were back at the foot of the trail by 5 o'clock.

That sounds easy, for the signboards say it is only three and one-half miles from the foot of the trail to Orchard Camp. But many a captain of industry couldn't walk it in four hours, at that. The average hiker feels he is doing well, indeed, if he makes the trip up in two hours.

But the record for that ascent, held by Harold Williams of Sierra Madre, is only thirty-six minutes!

Just go out and try to do that in thirty-six minutes if you want to realize how soft your muscles are.

Attracts Wide Interest

The annual Mt. Wilson climb is a sporting event which has attracted national attention. Some years ago a New York magazine offered a handsome loving cup as the chief trophy and pictures of the hikers were widely published. Then one of those exceptional years we have every year or two upset plans, and the contest was discontinued. But last year Phil Hartmann of Orchard Camp revived it and the climb again attracted wide interest. And this year the hike seems likely to revive its former glory.

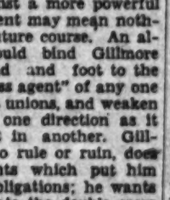
The number of people asking The Times Information Bureau for entry blanks indicates that the entries will be representative of the entire Southland.

Embarrassment of Riches

It's nice to have two or three motor cars, but sometimes it may be embarrassing.

A couple who live in the Wilshire district were theater-bound the other evening and told the houseboy to bring out the car. They meant for him to bring the Packard. But Junior had gotten away a few minutes earlier in the Packard, so the houseboy brought out the Ford.

They were going to their first premiere, and were so excited about it that they didn't notice what car they were riding in. They dashed into a park close to the theater, sprang out, snatched the check from the park attendant and hurried into the theater.



Then they forgot all that was past in the excitement of watching celebrities come in and say inane things into the microphone.

When the show was over, they sought the parking place. "I don't know where you put our car," said the man. "We just dashed in and turned the car over to you."

"What kind of car?"

"Packard."

The attendant looked about. It was late and there were not many cars left.

"Are you sure it was this park, sir?" he asked. "There isn't any Packard here."

"You've let somebody else have our car," asserted the outraged citizen. "We'll hold you responsible for this."

"Let's see your check again."

The check was produced and the attendant went all about the park. At last he found the other half of the check on the Ford.

"Why, that's right," exclaimed the abashed citizen. "I guess we did come in the Ford. I remember, now. But I was thinking of something else at the time. That's our car, all right. Run it out, please."

But it was half an hour later before they got their car. The attendant had concluded that they'd found the ticket, and made them submit ample proofs and credentials.

Premieres

By the way, if you are worried about your inferiority complex, just go to a premiere, or even listen in on one. After you've seen how brainless many of the famous act before the "mike" you won't feel inferior any more.

What Are Prisons For?

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The disgusting articles written in your paper by the ex-convict certainly make me wish I'd never subscribed to your paper.

You are upholding the criminal by printing and permitting so much criticism.

What does a criminal think that prisons are for? A prison is a place of punishment and hard discipline, and should be. A convict is not supposed to be satisfied in a prison or to have comforts and accommodations such as they would have had they kept out of them.

I think the convicts very fortunate to have a place that takes care of them and feeds them. These hardened criminals, sitting in jails and brooding and "going insane," is fanatical; they were on their way to insanity long before prison doors closed behind them. You are making other criminals worse by permitting these articles by some half-cracked fanatic.

NO SIGNATURE.

"Lot of It Baloney"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been reading the story by the convict from San Quentin with considerable interest. I especially noticed the way he described conditions there. I think that a lot of it is baloney and hooey. The story about the mess halls in particular got my goat. I visited there last summer and went through the prison. There is no doubt but that the prison is overcrowded, but if convicts know the prison is overcrowded why do they get in there?

The story about the rats in the mess hall got me down. I was there during the lunch hour and I saw no sign of rats and also the mess hall was perfectly clean. Neither were there many prisoners who appeared sullen and discontented. It isn't everybody who can have an orchestra play while they eat their lunch and dinner, like they do.

INTERESTED READER.

"More Harm Than Good"

PASADENA, Jan. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Judging from the little I have read of your San Quentin "exposures" I think your articles are the most sensational matter I have noticed in your usually unsensational paper. They will do more harm than good by being read by people who cannot see the real truth. The pictures are not elevating or likely to do good, for instance, the "horrors" of today's (Sunday) paper.

C. R. HINCHMAN.

And Then Again—

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Well, now that we know, what are we going to do about it? Personally, I am ready to go to work! I have written the State humane education chairman of the Parent-Teachers (I occupy this chair for the Santa Monica council and previously occupied the same chair for the State) to see if we cannot assist in needed reform in the prisons.

Mothers are the ones to agitate the subject. They may think their own beloved son will never be so situated, but the sons of women unknown to us are our responsibility just the same as our own protected ones. Jesus said: "Who are my mother and my father, my sister and my brother?" The reply is, all of humanity, the human and the animal, as well, for wherever there is suffering there our responsibility begins!

The Times is to be congratulated for publishing the articles; the man who wrote them for his thought of those still imprisoned in that living tomb. I offer my co-operation.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Wood Carving?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The only free wood-carving class offered by the Los Angeles evening schools is given at the Bell Evening High School, 4328 East Bell avenue, Bell, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in room 112. There is no charge for instruction, but each student must furnish his own materials, which he can estimate at one-third of the usual retail price, and his own tools, which cost about $5 a set at any art or tool store.

In this class leather tooling is also taught, and students make keytainers, billfolds, pocketbooks and book covers. Besides these articles some are painting with oil on monk's cloth, to make wall hangings; others are blocking cards for Easter, and still others are decorating their homes with wall stencils and making screens of celotex and Chinese paper.

People of all ages are welcome to visit or join this class. The hours are 7 to 9 p.m.

Tourists who would like to view Columbus records in Genoa and hesitate because they do not read Italian or Spanish will be interested to learn that the government has translations of them in five languages for the convenience of foreign visitors who desire to study same.

PEACE CONGRESSES

At a time when the attention of the world is focused on the naval conference now being held in London, this short resume of previous meetings held to promote international peace contains considerable historical interest for those following the present proceedings. They form the first rungs in the ladder of which the London congress supplies the latest—a ladder by which mankind hopes to climb step by step to that universal desideratum—world peace.

On May 20, 1899, delegates from twenty-six nations met at The Hague in the first Peace Conference. This event marked the first time nations ever gathered to find ways to promote peace and reduce armaments. The final act of the conference, signed July 29, had as its main feature the convention for the Pacific Settlement of International Disputes, providing for the settlement of disputes through either mediation of arbitration and setting up machinery for a permanent court of arbitration. No limitation of armaments was achieved.

Eight years later the second Peace Conference convened at The Hague July 15, 1907. It included representatives of forty-four nations—practically the whole of the world's then independent nations. Its final act, signed October 18, reaffirmed the convention signed in 1899 and improved the machinery of the Permanent Court of Arbitration.

Though no formal conference of nations was held, an important peace step was made by the nations in 1913 and 1914, when thirty-one States ratified the Bryan peace treaties providing for the establishment of international commissions of inquiry in all disputes, with the obligation imposed upon contracting States to refrain from hostilities until the inquiry had ended.

While the Treaty of Versailles was designed primarily to disentangle European affairs following the World War, it produced a powerful agency for peace in the League of Nations. The treaty was signed June 28, 1919, and those signers that adhered to the League covenant embodied in the treaty bound themselves to refrain from war until three months of arbitration or inquiry by the Council of the League had elapsed.

At the invitation of President Harding representatives of China, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and the United States convened at Washington, D. C., November 12, 1921, for a conference on limitation of naval armaments. The Washington Treaty, signed February 6, 1922, bound France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan and the United States to limit their construction and acquisition of battleships and the caliber of guns to be carried. Limitation was agreed on at a rate of 525,000 tons for Great Britain and the United States, 315,000 tons for Japan and 175,000 tons for France and Italy.

The representatives of Belgium, Czecho-Slovakia, France, Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Poland met at Locarno, Switzerland, on October 5, 1925, and after two weeks of informal negotiation drafted the Treaty of Security and Mutual Guarantee, signed October 16. Germany and France and Germany and Belgium pledged themselves to settle disputes of all kinds by peaceful means and agreed not to attack each other in any event. Disputes were to be settled in the Permanent Court of International Justice, or as a last resort in the Council of the League of Nations. The arbitration clause extended to disputes between Germany and Poland and Germany and Czecho-Slovakia.

On February 10, 1927, President Coolidge called a conference of France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and the United States to meet at Geneva for the purpose of reaching an agreement on limitation of cruisers and submarines. France and Italy declined to attend and the conference between the three other nations reached a deadlock and adjourned August 3, 1927.

As a result of discussion between the then Secretary of State Kellogg and Foreign Minister Briand of France in the early part of 1928, Kellogg proposed to the nations of the world that they should enter into a binding agreement to renounce war as an instrument of national policy and seek settlement of disputes by pacific means. Representatives of fifteen nations met in Paris August 27, 1928, and signed the treaty. Fifty-five nations have ratified the treaty to date. The United States Senate ratified it January 15, 1929.

The original fifteen signatory nations are Australia, Belgium, Canada, Czecho-Slovakia, France, Germany, Great Britain, India, Irish Free State, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, Union of South Africa and the United States of America.

MUSIC COPYRIGHTS

England is being agitated by the question of music copyrights and a bill is now before the House of Commons with a provision that twopence would be the maximum fee allowed for the privilege of performing any musical composition, arguing that the composer is benefited by the public performance of the song. Bernard Shaw entered the discussion of the bill with the question of whether the performer who damaged the composer's reputation by a bad rendition should be required to reimburse the composer.

Louisiana farmers are being urged to plant cover-over lands with the Chinese tung tree, the nuts of which provide an oil used for a varnish base. Fifteen millions spent for Chinese nuts annually can be kept at home; thousands of the trees have already been planted in Louisiana and are flourishing. W. B. J.

THE GROUNDHOG

Now Groundhog Day will soon be here, the great occasion of the year, when weather is foretold, when we may know, without a doubt, what climate will be handed out, the balmy or the cold. The groundhog is the only beast that looketh west, that looketh east, with keen prophetic gaze, and tells us what we may expect, and his predictions are correct, in fifty-seven ways. The horse, he is a noble brute, or was ere cars began to toot, he's solid as a rock; but he's a lemon as a seer, he cannot tell, till they appear, what tempests are in stock. The cow, indeed, has many charms; we see her on a thousand farms consuming corn and hay, and she provides us with the milk that surely is as fine as silk, and butter, too, and whey. But if you ask her, where she goes, "Excuse me, cow, do you suppose the winter's nearly spent?" She'll wag her tail a time or two; she doesn't know as much as you. she cannot look ahead. The rooster has a tenor voice with which to make the world rejoice, you hear his morning call: he has a high and stately stride, his bearing is so full of pride you'd think he knows it all. And yet for all his mien sublime his comb is frozen half the time, he has no weather lore; no prophecies doth he express, he cannot make a decent guess what blizzards are in store. The groundhog stands aloof, alone, among all animals now known, he has a crystal ball; he comes out from his humble booth, inspired, on February two-th, and tells what will befall.

...size and luxury any other vessel now on the seas or building.

"Comfort and luxury have been the French Line's watchwords in passenger trade and we intend to uphold our reputation in our new service to the Pacific Coast. Our cabin class ships in trans-Atlantic trade have been so popular that we are now completing the Lafayette of 24,000 gross tons, and as she leaves the ways we will lay down at St. Nazaire the greatest cabin liner ever projected, of 30,000 tons gross. I signed the order for her building the day I sailed from France."

PARTY AMAZED

M. Tillier was accompanied from Paris by his wife, while Pierre de Malglaive, French Line head in North America, together with Mme. de Malglaive and their daughter, Alyette, is also with him, having joined the party at New York. They came out in a private car, the trip from Chicago being made via the Union Pacific System. M. Tillier, on his first trip to the Pacific Coast, expressed amazement at the midwinter greenery of the Southland.

Just before his departure for Los Angeles, M. Tillier was advanced from the grade of Knight to the rank of Officer in the Legion of Honor, this signal honor being bestowed for his efforts in building France's post-war merchant fleet. M. de Malglaive holds the rank of Knight in the Legion of Honor for war service, as does Capt. Barioloms Alliet, Pacific Coast head of the French Line, who met the party upon arrival. Others in the welcoming delegation included Harry Scott and Capt. Harry Birkholm, president and district manager, respectively, of the General Steamship Corporation, Coast agent for the French Line, and Howard Adams, Southern California passenger manager for the line.

FESTIVITIES HERE

Yesterday morning, the party under the guidance of Lucien Brunswig of Los Angeles, paid a formal visit to Mayor Porter at the City Hall and at noon they were luncheon guests of the Chamber of Commerce. Aboard the Oregon, M. Tillier last night tendered a dinner to steamship passenger representatives. Today, he will give a luncheon for civic and industrial leaders of the Southland, while tonight he will again entertain at a dinner on board the ship for Southern California shipping executives.

The Oregon, with the Tillier party aboard, will sail at midnight tonight for San Francisco, continuing later upcoast to Portland and Puget Sound.

MOTHER OF SEVEN GETS JAIL TERM

Minimum Sentence Given Mrs. Rodriguez After Nine Prior Convictions

The minimum sentence provided by law, $500 fine and ninety days in jail was imposed by Municipal Judge Curtis yesterday morning on Mrs. Marie Rodriguez, 706½ Commercial street, 40-year-old Mexican mother of seven children, when Mrs. Minnie Barton, probation officer, refused to recommend probation because of the woman's nine prior liquor convictions. The probation report was ordered by Judge Curtis when Mrs. Rodriguez, after pleading guilty to possession charges, failed to request probation.

In the afternoon Mrs. Rodriguez was back in Judge Curtis's court on a sale charge. She was sentenced to pay $500 fine and spend thirty days in jail, again minimum sentence under the law, making her sentence, for sale and possession of liquor $1000 fine and 120 days in jail.

She was arrested by police officers who reported purchasing several drinks and a pint bottle of moonshine from her at her restaurant at 526 North Vignes street on the 23rd inst. Mrs. Barton reported that the woman said she was bootlegging in order to pay her rent. All but one of her seven children, ranging from 6 to 18 years of age are in school, the probation officer said. Her husband, adjudged insane in 1925, escaped from Norwalk some time ago, and is still a fugitive.

Glendale Man Pleads Guilty in Death Case

Harwell D. Merritt of Glendale yesterday pleaded guilty in Superior Judge Hardy's court to a charge of manslaughter preferred against him in connection with the death, November 23, 1929, of Mrs. Evelyn Plasterer, said to have been run down and killed by Merritt's automobile at Brand Boulevard and Wilson street, Glendale.

Merritt originally had been charged with second-degree murder, but was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter through agreement with the District Attorney's office. He filed an application for probation, which will be heard February 14.

GIRL'S FATHER NAMED IN MURDER OF SUITOR

Murder charges were filed yesterday against Pasquelle Bruno, 425 Cottage Home Drive, accusing him of the slaying of Manuel Herrera, 1009 Bartlett street, during a quarrel over Herrera's attentions to Bruno's daughter. The complaint asserts that the men engaged in a quarrel which ended in a shooting affray. Herrera died of his injuries a short time later. After the shooting Bruno was beaten severely by a mob, according to David Coleman, Deputy District Attorney, who issued the complaint.

SECT RITUAL GUARD DENIED

State Attempts to Prove Armed Sentry Used on "Sixth Seal" in Blackburn Fraud Case

Efforts to establish that members of the Divine Order of the Royal Arms of the Great Eleven kept a guard posted around the manuscript of the "Sixth Seal," supposed to be a book revealing "all the secrets of the universe," were made yesterday in Superior Judge Fricke's court where May Otis Blackburn, head of the sect, is on trial on charges of having defrauded Clifford Dabney, oil man, of $45,000.

The State's attempt to show that the manuscript was kept in a trunk and guarded at the Santa Susanna rendezvous of the sect was made by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson in his cross-examination of Mrs. Nettie Fisher, wife of Harrison Fisher, said to have been a director of the sect.

Mrs. Fisher denied that she knew an armed guard had been placed over the manuscript, or that she could repeat an asserted oath of the members to "guard the sixth seal with their lives."

The State charges Mrs. Blackburn obtained money from Dabney on numerous occasions under the representation that it was to be used to help cover the expenses of publishing the sixth seal.

Other witnesses called by Defense Attorney Cochran yesterday included Miss Emily Johnson, formerly of Portland, Or., who said she had been given a "concord" entitled the "Eternal Circle of Taste," because she had been a teacher of cooking.

The trial will be resumed today.

CAR CRASH SPURS HUNT FOR DRIVER

Police Here Asked to Find Suspect Linked to Fatal Accident Near Madera

Police of Los Angeles have been requested by the San Francisco police to be on the lookout for Lemuel L. Detweiler, who disappeared near Madera after the car he was driving crashed into a tree and killed a man who was riding with him. The name "W. J. Coal" in the hatband of the dead man was the only identification mark found.

Police here have no record of Coal, but Detweiler has been in custody several times on the charge of passing bad checks. The name of Louis MacBroom of Glendale became connected with the crash when MacBroom's driver's license was found in the car. It developed that Detweiler had stolen MacBroom's license, according to a report made at police headquarters by MacBroom yesterday.

MacBroom told the police he was acquainted with Detweiler, but knew him under the name of George Brennan. MacBroom indorsed several small checks for him and yesterday he asked for a warrant for Detweiler. The car driven by Detweiler had been rented for one day from the Flower-street Auto Rental, 560 South Flower street. When the car was not returned at the appointed time a grand-theft warrant was obtained for Detweiler. The other man in the car was unknown at the auto rental agency.

Big Pine Looks for Huge Crowd at Ice Carnival

Southern California's latest rain having carpeted the back country with a flurry of snow, everything is in readiness for the fourth annual winter sports carnival, which the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct at Big Pines Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

F. E. Wadsworth, superintendent in charge of county recreational playgrounds, has prepared to accommodate a crowd of 30,000 or more which Chairman Dan Hay's program is expected to attract to Los Angeles county's mountain playground.

In addition to the usual sports features, the program includes a number of events in which the general public will be permitted to participate.

Miss Josephine Hoffman has been selected to be queen of the carnival. Harold William Roberts and his band promise to be an important feature.

Five Suspected Counterfeiters Held in Portland

Five persons, including two women, were arrested in Portland, Or., in connection with charges of passing of counterfeit coins, according to information received yesterday by W. W. Ashe, chief agent in charge here for the Department of the Treasury.

Those under arrest are Archie Fern and his wife, Edward Mott and his wife and Thomas Fannion, alias Smith, all of whom are accused of passing fake $1 and 50-cent pieces. The five are to be returned to San Francisco for trial. It was stated that the asserted counterfeiting plant was within a block of the Georgia-street Police Station. Local police and Mr. Ashe discovered the asserted plans of the crew.

Report Made on Charges of Jail Prisoner

An investigation and report to the Police Commission yesterday on the charges by William A. Lucas of San Diego that he had been beaten by Jailer B. Bomfalk Wednesday morning after being incarcerated on the charge of drunkenness, was made by Commissioner Drake.

Drake said that the prisoner, on being awakened by the jailer, had bit the latter on the hand and Bomfalk had struck Lucas with a bunch of jail keys, inflicting wounds on various parts of his head so that his clothing was drenched in blood.

Drake commended Chief Steckel for suspending the officer and the board decided to review the case when it comes up, in view of its orders against officers striking prisoners.

BORDER CHARGE DISMISSED

Charges that W. R. McKay, a former Canadian army officer, had transported stolen machine guns across the border from Canada were dismissed yesterday by United States Commissioner Head. The charges were dismissed because of insufficient evidence.

END COMES TO KNISELY IN HOSPITAL

Former Editor of 'Record' Expires After Five Years of Poor Health

Willis Burton Knisely, Los Angeles newspaper man and formerly editor of the Los Angeles Record, died yesterday morning at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Although Mr. Knisely had been in poor health he was not thought to be dangerously ill and was taken to the hospital only a few days ago for an examination.

Mr. Knisely retired from active newspaper work five years ago on account of poor health and has been living in Eagle Rock. He was born in Canton, O., and after graduating from the Western Reserve University joined the staff of the Canton News. Later he served as Pacific Coast representative of the Newspaper Enterprise Association and was sent to China and Russia as a special correspondent in 1918 and 1919. During 1919 he came to Los Angeles as the editor of the Record, and held that post until five years ago.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Bertha McCord Knisely, who is a member of the staff of the Saturday Night. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 3 p.m. in the Wee Kirk of the Heather Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Air Trip From Chicago Made at High Speed

Flight to California sunshine from Chicago's subzero snows in twenty-eight hours' flying time was reported yesterday by S. P. Stevens, vice-president of Reid, Murdoch & Co., Chicago manufacturers of canned goods. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have taken a suite at the Beverly Hills Hotel for the remainder of the winter. Accompanying them on their flight here were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Glass of Los Angeles, and Vernon Johns, pilot of their Ford trimotored plane Independence.

The plane has landed at 317 airports, covering twenty States in an air journey totaling 27,000 miles. Stevens asserted that the commercial plane is becoming recognized as the safest means of transportation, as well as the fastest. He has great confidence in his pilot, Johns, who, he says, is part Cherokee.

WIFE ASKS KEY TO HOME AS ALIMONY

Mrs. Stella Carnick doesn't like the idea of her husband locking up their home. She appeared in Superior Judge Guerin's court yesterday and asked as alimony—one house key. "Whenever I go out to our home, which I had to leave because I was treated so badly, I can't get any of my clothes. My husband locks the door." Judge Guerin ordered Carnick to give his wife a door key to their home, and $50 a month as alimony.

HOSPITAL TURNS INTO JAIL CELL

Badly Burned Negro Held on Suspicion of Robbery

Police Greet Him After He Takes Ambulance Ride

Grocery Store "Job" Laid to Three Now in Custody

Taken to the hospital for treatment of burns, Ray Gibson, 37 years of age, a negro, of 2318 Compton avenue, yesterday found himself booked on suspicion of robbery in connection with the ransacking last Sunday night of a grocery store operated by Mike Mauin at 1801 East Second street.

Police had been looking for Gibson since the arrest shortly after the robbery of his asserted accomplices, William T. Simpson, 50, of 1655 East Twenty-seventh street, and William Butler, 42, of 1634½ East Twenty-seventh streets, both negroes. The latter were taken in custody by Detective Lieutenants Morris, Dillon and O'Levas.

Yesterday the Newton-street police division received an ambulance call from Twentieth street and Compton avenue. There they found Gibson, severely burned about the face, neck and upper part of the body. He told surgeons he had been burned in an explosion of gas in his home Sunday night, when he struck a match after kicking free the tubing of a gas heater in the dark. After the accident, he said, he left the house and slept in a lumber yard Sunday and Monday nights.

After questioning the injured negro at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital police linked him, they reported, with the grocery store robbery. He was transferred to the prison ward of General Hospital. According to the officers, Gibson is on probation after serving part of terms for forgery and a statutory offense.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Test Way to Health"

DISORDERS OF THE SKIN

Dryness of the skin or astaetosis is caused by too little oil being secreted by the glands. This may cause the skin to crack and scale, giving it a harsh appearance. First, cleanse the skin with warm water and soap, which should be rinsed off, after which a small amount of olive oil or almond oil should be rubbed in. Dry skin is benefited by the application of a good cold cream. In an overdry skin the circulation is not normal, and the cells are starving for fat or lubricating oil. Any exercise which tends to quicken the circulation of the skin, such as slapping, will tend to bring on the normal secretion of oil. A large quantity of oils and fats may be added to an otherwise balanced diet.

Pimples or Acne

This is a very persistent trouble frequently occurring at adolescence. The best treatment for pimples is change of diet, using lots of oranges, apples, melons and other fruits, and plenty of vegetables for both luncheon and dinner, and using at least one large raw salad daily. All rich fatty foods must be avoided, including such foods as chocolate, nuts, cheese, ice cream, etc.

It is a good plan to use a daily warm shower followed by cold, and a brisk rubbing over the entire body with a rough towel, especially over the area affected by the acne. For the face, steam the skin gently then open the whitehead of the pimples with a sterile needle, which has been sterilized in a flame and gently press out the pus with the pressure of the fingers upon a clean towel at each side of the pimple. Where there is a severe case of acne, it would be well to write in for detailed information about treatment.

Chapping

Chapping of the skin often occurs with dry skins where there is a lack of the normal lubricating oil. The skin may roughen and crack painfully, and small bleeding fissures may develop. During the warm weather the oil glands function more thoroughly than in cold, and this is why cold weather brings on chapped hands and lips. Some of the causes are exposure to cold and biting wind, washing too often with harsh soaps, and not drying the skin thoroughly after washing. Use mild soap and warm water, and do not rub the skin too vigorously. After drying thoroughly, be sure to rub in a protective cold cream. Almond or olive oil may also be used.

Cold Sores and Fever Blisters

The cold sore probably got its name from the fact that it is often found with people who have colds. It is a little blister generally occuring near the month. Although it may develop on the eyelids, it appears suddenly and is tender, although without great pain. Sometimes the sore dries up and a scab may form over like a crust. After the crust falls off, a reddish spot is left. Indigestion as well as a cold may cause these. Children have them more frequently than adults, and women more frequently than men. A cold, brisk wind may bring them out. Cold sores are a digestive warning. It is a good plan to keep the sore clean and use nothing but acid fruits for several meals. Put pure borated vaseline over the blister.

Why 85% of America's leading hospitals use Kotex absorbent

Greater comfort... remarkable absorption... less bulk and weight... are reasons why 85% of leading hospitals now use Kotex absorbent

PROPER sanitary care is more than a matter of personal daintiness . . . it's a matter of actual health protection.

So it's highly significant that 85% of America's leading hospitals select Kotex absorbent. Women may use Kotex, safe in the knowledge that their sanitary protection is the kind approved by doctors . . . that the greatest hospitals could offer nothing finer.

Why Kotex is more hygienic

Its amazing absorbency makes Kotex safer in many ways. Kotex absorbs away from the surface. The surface is kept soft, fluffy and delicate. This is not only more comfortable, but more hygienic and far daintier.

Because Kotex absorbs so thoroughly, bulk and weight are not needed. You've no unpleasant consciousness of sanitary protection . . . no nervousness . . . no worries. There's no "packing," because Kotex is made of air-cooled layers of Cellucotton absorbent wadding.

Remember that Cellucotton is not cotton—but a cellulose product which performs the same sanitary function with 5 times the absorbency of the finest cotton.

There are many reasons why Cellucotton makes a superior sanitary pad. Several are noted at the right. Please read them — then try Kotex. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure . . . keeps your mind at ease.

3—Fastidious . . . the sign of true daintiness.

4—In hospitals . . . Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.

5—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly by a special process.

Regular Kotex—45c for 12
Kotex Super-Size—65c for 12

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

Who doth of his abundance share
Is being nothing more than fair.
Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's boy had to admit that he couldn't think of any way to keep Timmy, the Flying Squirrel, out of the corncrib. As long as Timmy could reach the roof of the corncrib he could get it.

"The only way that I can stop it that I can see," declared Farmer Brown's boy, "is to cut down the tree that Timmy jumps from. But, of course, the tree is worth very much more than all the corn that Timmy ever could eat; so I don't see but that Timmy is going to prove too much for me, unless I can catch him. I wouldn't hurt Timmy for the world. No, sir, not for the world would I hurt Timmy. So I cannot set the traps that I usually set for mice. I must set a trap that will catch Timmy alive and unhurt."

So Farmer Brown's boy did set two or three box traps in the corncrib. He tried different kinds of bait. Each morning when he visited the corncrib he looked eagerly to see if one of the traps had been sprung. Each morning he was disappointed.

Now it wasn't altogether the smartness of Timmy, the Flying Squirrel, that kept him out of those traps. The fact is, he didn't go near them. He didn't need to. He came over there for corn and he got plenty of corn in the other end of the crib, where the traps could not be set. So he didn't need to wander around and he didn't wander around. As a rule, he didn't stay in the corncrib very long. You see, Timmy is fond of other food besides corn. Also, he likes his exercise even in the cold weater. So he would come over, get what corn he wanted and return to the Green Forest. He didn't know anything about Farmer Brown's boy and, of course, he didn't care anything about him.

Finally Farmer Brown's boy gave it up. He had to ruefully admit that he couldn't catch Timmy, the Flying Squirrel. "I don't really care, though," said he. "No, sir, I don't really care. I guess I'm quite willing to share my corn with Timmy. I would just like to catch him, that is all. If I did catch him, of could, I would let him go; so I don't know what difference it makes."

So he would come over, get what corn he wanted and return to the Green Forest

So it was that Timmy, the Flying Squirrel, was unmolested and all winter long enjoyed the corn in Farmer Brown's corncrib. He didn't forget that it was his cousin, Chatterer who had told him about that corn, and Chatterer often found a good breakfast around the corncrib very early in the morning. He did more or less scolding, but that is Chatterer's way. You see, it was rather upsetting to have his cousin able to get into the corncrib when he himself couldn't. But you may be sure he made the best of things as they were. He wasn't foolish enough to leave that corn on the ground just because he couldn't get in and get it himself. But he was unwise in that he scolded so much about it. It is always unwise to allow one's tongue to run too freely, and Chatterer is very likely to do this. He scolded so very much early in the morning over near the corncrib that he drew the attention of a certain black-coated fellow who is very smart.

"I wonder," said Blacky the Crow to himself, "what makes that noisy little scamp over to Farmer Brown's dooryard every morning? I shall have to investigate."

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

OYSTER DUMPLINGS

Select good sized oysters, and average four to a portion. Pour over them a third of a cupful of lemon juice, and season them with the salt and pepper, and keep in a cool place until wanted, roll out a rich baking powder crust and cut it into squares about four inches, brush each square with the well-beaten white of an egg, that has been diluted with a tablespoonful of water, place on each one of the squares one of the oysters and a small piece of butter, bring the four corners together and fasten with a toothpick, leaving an opening between the points, place the dumplings in a baking pan, and bake in a hot oven until a delicate brown. Remove picks before serving.

CELERIAC WITH TOMATO DRESSING

Take the celeriac of celery root, cut off the tops, and peel, cut in quarters, and cover with boiling water, and boil until tender, take one large can of tomatoes, add to it, a slice of onion, a branch of parsley, half a teaspoonful of marjoram and the same of thyme, allow to boil slowly for twenty minutes, strain and add a seasoning of salt and pepper and half a teaspoonful of sugar and a tablespoonful of chutney sauce, three or four drops of kitchen bouquet, rub together three tablespoonfuls of butter and three tablespoonfuls of flour, stir it into the tomatoes and stir until smooth and thick. Pour this over the celeriac and serve.

FRENCH NOODLES

Two cupfuls of flour, the yolks of six eggs, the whites of two eggs, half a teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of pepper, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg, sift the flour, add to it the beaten egg yolks and the whites of the eggs, slightly beaten, salt, pepper, grated nutmeg, and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Then add enough cold water to make a firm paste, flour a board, place the mixture on it, and roll very thin, roll up the paste like a jelly roll, and cut into thin strips one-third of an inch wide, drop these into flour, shake them off, drop them a few at a time into boiling salted water, or boiling broth; drain them well and add them to the soup.

APRICOT TOAST

Drain canned apricots, cut rounds of bread with a biscuit cutter, a little larger than the apricot halves, place a half on each piece of toast, pit side up, place a small piece of butter inside of each one, place them in a baking dish, add a little of the syrup to the pan, place in the oven, and bake for about ten minutes, pouring the syrup over them, that has been made in the cooking. Serve cold with cream.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the Household, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from ... weeks to ... years, prenatal care and diet for the expectant mother, conditions, symptoms, outfit for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, tonsil and adenoid trouble, bad habits, wetting, training in cleanliness, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, bitter, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, eyes and colds and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question on one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

PLAIN WATER - MILK - SUGAR FORMULA IS MOST SATISFACTORY

For the last few weeks I have been reading some of the nicest letters that have ever come to this department. There have been cards expressing sweet thoughts, letters of appreciation of what the department has done for the readers in the past year, and message after message from readers wishing me a happy and successful new year and continued good health to keep up the work of the department.

All of these things touch me deeply. Everyone likes to feel wanted and needed, and also to know that the word of advice has accomplished the miracle expected of it. All these kindly messages tell me these things and a "thank you" is too mild an expression of my appreciation for this friendly regard. I can only hope to continue to be worthy of it. Certainly such letters and messages give the New Year a happy start. (I realize it will be almost February before you read this.)

BARLEY FLOUR NOT NECESSARY IN FORMULA

Mrs. F. M. wonders if it could be a change in the kind of barley flour that is responsible for her baby's being upset. She says, "He is seven and one-half months of age, weighs seventeen pounds now and six and a half at birth. His urine stains the diapers a deep yellow and smells strongly of ammonia. He is quite cross since starting this new type of flour."

This letter unfortunately tells me very little about the child, for it may be too much cereal, plus the barley flour used in the formula, that is causing the ammonia-odored urine. It is most certainly a lack of enough fluid in the diet (water, principally) that is causing the deep-colored urine. This is nearly always the cause, but if the condition doesn't clear up with a change of formula and more water to drink, a doctor should be consulted.

I do urge readers to give me more information upon which to work when asking me any question about a baby, otherwise I simply have to guess and often in vain. It is essential that I know not only birth weight and present weight, but exactly that formula baby is getting and all the other additional foods, for too much cod liver oil and a formula rich in cream might just as easily be responsible for strongly odored urine as the excess cereals.

Mrs. F. M. wanted the feeding leaflet and the leaflet on ammoniacal urine but she failed to send that important self-addressed, stamped envelope and without that there is no way of getting the leaflets to her. Please repair this omission, Mrs. F. M., and you'll get the leaflets speedily. Barley flour is hardly necessary in the diet of a child of this age. Just boiled water, sugar and milk make an excellent formula and the cereal is fed by spoon as an additional food. Orange juice, and vegetable waters or soup, and more water in general ought to clear up the situation temporarily. By that time, you'll have the leaflets to help in improving the formula.

HOGUE TO FINISH MEXICAN SERIES

Last 'Revolution' Radio Talk to be Tomorrow

Millier Will Lecture on Art Subjects

Peggy Hamilton Tells About Perfume Tonight

The Times Forum, KHJ, 10:30 a.m. presents Arthur Millier, art critic of The Times; the first of a series of biweekly talks on art. World Wide News at 12:30; 4:50 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

The Times Forum tomorrow will complete a series of five talks on the "Mexican Revolution" presented by Fred Hogue. Mr. Hogue's final address will constitute a resume of the series. The talks, incidentally, are to appear in the near future as weekly articles in The Times Magazine.

Mr. Hogue has not only delved into the historic facts of revolutions that have taken place in nations of the world, but he has had personal contact with the martyrs of Mexico whom he has been discussing. His object was not to attract the commercial attention of American investors to Mexico, or foster any motive other than an invitation to Americans to become conversant with Mexico and realize that "the neighbor must be recognized or friction will always ensue."

TALKS ON ART

Today's announcement in The Times Forum advises you that a new series is to be undertaken by Mr. Millier, a leading etcher of the West and an authority on art.

We feel that the most direct benefit that can come from your radio receiving set will be found in your definite application of time and attention to subjects of a constructive nature, or to that type of entertainment which is best suited to your needs. The trouble with radio today is that the public is not doing its bit. Radio still is taken as an incidental proposition represented by haphazard dial twisting.

Radio is, or should be, a university. The neophyte at a modern university of knowledge is compelled to select subjects in which he proposes to specialize. The same thought and requirements should play an important part with the radio listener-in. Except in rare instances, however, it does not.

STATIONS IN DARK

Radio will be strengthened only as the analytical attention of the public is applied to it. Broadcast stations are hungry for a knowledge of your desires in the same way that the registrar of the university demands the intentions of the freshman.

Listening in on one address of a series may prove beneficial and entertaining, but too many radio followers play hookey from their classes. You who are truly interested in art are urged to follow the talks to be given by Mr. Millier. As a parting thrust, the writer asks that the radio public inject serious endeavor into their interest in this wonderful, still new art and set aside a haphazard tendency which is keeping not only them but the broadcasters in the dark.

Wife Objects to Cold Baths

After Charles M. McElhoe had an altercation with his wife, and knocked her unconscious, it was his custom to throw her into a bathtub full of cold water to revive her, Mrs. McElhoe testified in Superior Judge Keetch's court yesterday.

At another time, Mrs. McElhoe said, her husband pushed her out of the house while she was dressed only in night clothes. And when the couple went on what are referred to as "wild parties," the plaintiff said, her husband waxed wroth when she refused to submit herself to the "petting" of other men.

Mrs. Mabel Manka, sister of the plaintiff, corroborated her testimony. Mrs. McElhoe was awarded custody of her four-year-old child and $10 a month alimony.

WIFE OF PUBLISHER SUES FOR DIVORCE

Leslie E. Wheeler-Reid, Hollywood publisher, was sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Lillian P. Wheeler-Reid, in a complaint filed yesterday by Attorney W. P. McInnes. Mrs. Wheeler-Reid asserts that her husband drank liquor to excess, on one occasion had her arrested in Chicago, and continually charged her unjustly with improper conduct.

Mother of Eight Boys

"I read an ad in the newspaper and I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will recommend this medicine to any woman who is in bad shape like I was. I used to get so tired after a few hours' work that I was even afraid in my own house in the daytime. I didn't care if I lived or died. I have given birth to eight boys and I feel strong right after, since I have taken the Compound."—Mrs. Maud Meyers, 460 E. 13th Street, Dubuque, Iowa.

Physician Seeks to Regain State Medical Permit

Appealing from a decision of the State Medical Board at Sacramento, Dr. Paul S. Traxler, indicted but acquitted of the charge of murder in connection with the death of Delphine Walsh by an illegal operation, yesterday appeared before Superior Judge Gates on a writ of certiorari to compel the medical board to revoke its order voiding his license to practice medicine in California.

Attorneys for the medical board introduced a lengthy transcript of the proceedings in Sacramento, October 22, 1929, at which time the license was revoked. Judge Gates took the case under submission.

Dr. Traxler, with Roy S. Lanterman was acquitted September 5, 1929.

Goodwill Finds Jobs for Needy

The free employment office of the Goodwill Industries of Southern California reports that last year 30,647 applications for jobs were received from handicapped and destitute men and women who had been unable to find work elsewhere. Especially effective is the service of the industries at this time of the year in providing from 1200 to 1500 jobs per month to unemployed transients through the handling, sorting and baling of newspapers, magazines and rags.

CREDITORS LOSE POUND OF FLESH

Widow of Actor Granted Five Years Probation

Permission Given to Make Home in New York

Court Denounces Efforts to Coerce Defendant

Announcing that his courtroom shall not be made a collection agency for creditors who would block probation for a defendant until they can force acceptance of their own terms, Superior Judge Wood yesterday granted Mrs. Florine Walz Williams, widow of the motion-picture actor, Earle Williams, probation for five years with permission to leave California and make her home in New York City.

The action came as a climax to two days of bickering. Mrs. Williams had appeared in Judge Wood's court Monday morning for hearing on her application for probation after pleading guilty to one count of grand theft. The woman was charged with illegally borrowing money on mortgaged property. After spending some time in considering the case and listening to creditors, Judge Wood agreed to grant the woman probation provided she would deposit $10,000 in bonds to secure her asserted indebtedness. This agreement appeared to be satisfactory to all concerned.

When court convened again yesterday morning, however, the situation had changed. Albert K. Lucas, one of the complaining witnesses, announced that the bonds were not acceptable to him in settlement for the $5000 which he had loaned to Mrs. Williams.

PEACE EFFORTS FAIL

Judge Wood once more urged all of the creditors, including a Mr. Goldsmith who had appeared on the scene for the first time, to go into his chambers and try to reach a friendly settlement. Objections were raised ending in an argument which was ended by Judge Wood striking all terms of settlement from the probation and leaving the creditors only the recourse of civil suit to press their claims.

"Well, Mr. Cohen, (Milton Cohen, who with R. D. Knickerbocker is attorney for Mrs. Williams) you take the creditors that you know of in my chambers and get together on some agreement," Judge Wood suggested. "We can impound this $10,000 of stock for the benefit of everybody. This court is not going to keep this thing going day after day for the purpose of helping a number of creditors, of the kind we have in this case, see that this woman is probably thrown in jail on the theory she is not able to make these payments. Several business men have gotten themselves into this situation in a way that I think was entirely without proper caution.

"Now you want this woman, who is broken, and expect the court to put the conditions of her probation so strong that she cannot bear up under it. Now, she has $10,000 worth of stock here; if you gentlemen want to work that out equitably for all of you I will help you do it, but if it is going to be a question of refusing to take it, because perhaps you might lose some of these obligations, then the court will not make very serious efforts further."

LUCAS REFUSES

Judge Wood then spent some time in conversation with Attorney Lucas, the latter in the end refusing to accept the terms suggested by the court. The judge then turned to C. H. O'Connor, auctioneer, who also held a claim against Mrs. Williams.

"Do you care to take the same position as Mr. Lucas, Mr. O'Connor?" the court asked. "You don't care to figure any further?"

"I gave this lady the money in cold cash, money I worked hard for, and I want my money," the auctioneer replied.

"Yes, and you want your pound of flesh, too, Mr. O'Connor."

"No, I don't want my pound of flesh," O'Connor said. "I want my money . . ."

"That is what it looks like to the court."

". . . And I am going to try to get it," the auctioneer finished. "I won't consider any bonds."

"Very well," Judge Wood interposed; "the matter is ended."

TERMS ANNOUNCED

Judge Wood then announced the terms of probation.

Earlier in the hearing Judge Wood asked Mrs. Williams what she intends to do if granted probation.

"I have had an offer to go into a dress shop," she said.

"What are you going to do in the dress shop?"

"Sell dresses."

Mrs. Williams then explained that she has an offer to go to work in a New York dressmaker's shop with a salary of $35 a week plus commission. This, added to a private income of approximately $100 weekly from a trust fund left by her father, will afford the widow an income of $135 a week.

PROMOTER COURTS HER

After receiving probation, Mrs. Williams for the first time related her side of her story of misfortune. She declared that her undoing began shortly after her husband's death, when she met an old stock promoter with whom she became greatly infatuated.

Yielding to his suggestion, Mrs. Williams said, she invested $132,000 in an oil company, $35,000 of which was returned to the estate later through the efforts of Attorney Cohen.

At about this time, Mrs. Williams said, she discovered that she was to become a mother. The promoter continued to borrow money from Mrs. Williams and finally left for New York City on July 1, 1928, five days before her son Billy was born.

A month later the widow took her baby, 5-year-old daughter Joan, and invalid mother and moved to New York in search of the man who had promised to marry her, she said. Finding him, she was dazed to discover that his love had cooled and that she could not hope for aid.

FORTUNE VANISHES

Returning to Los Angeles, Mrs. Williams sought to rehabilitate her shattered fortunes. Nearly $250,000 had been dissipated since her husband's death, leaving nothing but debts.

It was then, the widow said, that she fell into the hands of money lenders.

Eventually it became necessary to sell the family home at 620 South Irving Boulevard to satisfy the creditors' claims. Everything would have been satisfactory, Mrs. Williams explained, had the man who purchased the house lived up to his agreement. Instead, he stopped payment on the check and left the State.

All these matters still are the subject of a civil suit.

Mrs. Williams indicated that she intends to leave her home at 154 North New Hampshire Boulevard, soon, and return to New York City with her mother and two children.

SUIT FILED TO ANNUL MARRIAGE

Loretta Young's Mother Brings Action Against Grant Withers

Mrs. George Belzer yesterday filed an annulment suit against Grant Withers, film actor, who Sunday married her daughter, Loretta Young, film actress, at Yuma, Ariz.

The complaint, which was filed by Attorney George Breslin, specified that Miss Young married without her parent's consent and when married was only seventeen years and twenty-two days of age. Withers, it was asserted, was 24 years of age at the time of the marriage.

The age of marriage without parental consent is sixteen years in Arizona. In California it is eighteen years.

Withers, a Warner Brothers player, will have to appear soon before Superior Judge Gates at an alimony hearing at which Mrs. Withers No. 1 will demand $300 a month for the support of her son, Robert Granville Withers.

Fair and Mild Weather Seen for City Today

No rain for Los Angeles and vicinity was predicted for today and tomorrow by meteorologists at the local United States Weather Bureau last night.

Fair weather with mild temperatures and gentle variable winds will prevail, the weather men said.

Several Coast communities south of Seal Beach reported rain during the twenty-four hour period ending at 6 p.m. yesterday, evidently from the tail end of Monday's storm that wetted the Southland generally.

Indio recorded 1.00 inch during the period, reinforcing reports from there that previous rains have assured a large display of desert wildflowers in the Coachella Valley about March 1.

RAILMAN INJURED IN FALL FROM WINDOW

A fall from a second-story window yesterday sent R. E. Dokin, of 1808 Maryland street to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, seriously injured. He suffered concussion of the brain and possible internal injury, in addition to breaking his collar bone and three ribs. Dokin, a railroad switchman, 42 years of age, was leaning out of a window at his home when he lost his balance.

POLICE SEPTET FACES CHARGES

Commissioner Accuses Group of Illegal Entry

Drake Said to Have Chided Officers Publicly

Arrest of Witness in Bribe Case Causes Crisis

An amazing insight into the methods and policies of certain members of the Police Commission in directing the activities of police officers in enforcement of the vice and liquor laws was revealed yesterday when Chief of Police Steckel was ordered to file charges of illegal entry against seven members of the department.

The picture of Commissioner Drake rushing to the scene of a raid and an arrest to make a personal investigation and then censuring the officers in the presence of persons accused of law violating was related by officers who caused the arrest of William Felix, colored, of 1373 East Twenty-third street.

Felix's bid for fame, and Commissioner Drake's asserted threat against the arresting officers "that they will be severely dealt with" arises from the discovery that the colored man is a witness against Police Officers McClanahan and Sheffield, accused of bribery.

WOMAN COMPLAINS

A complaint by Mrs. Vina Wilson, where Felix has a room, that her home has been raided twice by vice squad officers of Newton-street station without warrant brought the matter before the commission and disclosed the investigation of Commissioner Drake.

The officers named to face trial before a police board include Sergt. Adams and Policemen Hamilton, Burns, Spamach, Morgan, Flow, Investigator Reese and Mrs. Richardson, a telephone operator at the Newton-street station.

Adams, Hamilton and Burns, it was charged by Drake in placing the matter before the commission, broke in the rear door of the place on the night of the 20th inst., and Spamach, Morgan, Flow, Adams, Reese and Mrs. Richardson participated in a raid on the 24th., when the front door was torn down.

In describing the raid and arrest, the police officers, now facing dismissal, assert that Commissioner Drake intimated to them that they conducted the raids to harass Felix and as a plan to intimidate him for his testimony in the impending bribery trial. The officers deny they had any knowledge of Felix's appearance in the trial.

Sergt. Adams asserts that the raided premises and the parties searched have been under observation for some time. He pointed out that they have seen violations of the liquor law, and that they have observed the Wilson woman pouring liquor down the kitchen sink to prevent their obtaining it as evidence, and that one of their investigators purchased two pints in the house on the 24th inst.

Two officers were stationed at the rear of the house, two in front, and an investigator was given marked money and a business card before he entered the home.

The investigator came out a few moments later with the liquor and when attempts were made to enter the front door it was found locked, according to Adams.

CHILD IN HOUSE

The small latch holding the door was broken and all parties in the house, which included a 6-year-old girl, were searched. The business card was found on Mrs. Wilson, according to the officer, but the marked money could not be located.

The officers discovered that Felix is a witness in the case of the two policemen when they searched him at the Newton-street station, they said.

Commissioner Drake, notified of the raid, rushed to the scene and ordered that all participating officers be taken before him, Adams related. "We were severely upbraided and humiliated by the remarks of the commissioner," said Adams, "and since we were attempting to carry out instructions of our superiors, we are at a loss as to our position. We were trying to do our duty and to receive such a reprimand and face the threat of possible dismissal makes it difficult to keep up our morale."

Drake and Commissioner Thorpe, in ordering the filing of charges, both drew attention to the orders of the commission against raids without warrants, and declared that the officers have violated the strict orders of the commission.

CHARGES OF RAID WITHOUT WARRANT AIRED

Charges that Sergt. Robert L. Bergman and Officer M. M. Witt violated the Police Commission's order by making a raid for liquor without first obtaining a search warrant, when they entered a cellar and premises at 413 1-2 and 417 1-2 North Figueroa street on Thanksgiving Eve, were aired before the Police Commission yesterday and taken under advisement, to decide whether the acts were justified.

David D. Marshall, arrested during the raid on a liquor charge, testified against the officers.

Bergman sought to introduce records to show the character of the premises, consisting of apartments with a community basement, over a long period, President Thorpe and Commissioner Drake, however, blocked all his efforts, holding that the only thing they were interested in was whether he had violated the commission's order against raids without warrants.

Bergman declared that when they entered the address at 413 1-2 North Figueroa, it was after Marshall had agreed to sell Witt some liquor. Witt reported that Marshall had become suspicious and had placed the liquor near a sink. Bergman stated the officers outside had to act quickly to prevent the liquor from being destroyed and forced the door open when they found it locked.

Inside, Bergman testified, the officers found a group of persons in various stages of intoxication. He said that Mr. and Mrs. Emil Tank, two of the group, were the only sober persons.

In conclusion, Bergman declared that Witt was acting under his orders and should not be blamed by the commission for any asserted violation.

"I have been on the police department nine years," he said, "and will assume full responsibility for what was done."

Marital Break Denial Voiced by Schildkraut

A man and wife can live apart in Hollywood without being actually separated, maritally speaking, according to Joseph Schildkraut, stage and screen actor. A report that Schildkraut and his wife, known to the stage as Elise Bartlett, have separated was heard yesterday when it became known she has taken an apartment at the Villa Carlotta.

JOSEPH SCHILDKRAUT

Last night Schildkraut explained that he and Miss Bartlett aranged an apartment for her temporarily for a number of reasons, the first being that he is preparing for a new picture role and that she is rehearsing a new play, and secondly, because they are about ready to move into a new home on Whitley Terrace.

"The report we have come to a parting is utter nonsense," he said. "It is true Miss Bartlett took an apartment. Her new play, which opened Monday night, required much rehearsal, and inasmuch as we are getting ready to move she obtained an apartment."

ELISE BARTLETT

Schildkraut, whose new picture started only yesterday at the James Cruze Studio, said he and Miss Bartlett are moving into their new home the first of the month.

Lawyer Assails Agent of Court in Alimony Case

Mrs. Mary Maxwell, court investigator, asked questions that damaged his client's reputation, Attorney Charles McCartney, representing Mrs. Helen Bruce in an alimony matter, charged in Superior Judge Guerin's court yesterday.

"This investigator started a quarrel between Mrs. Bruce and her present husband," said Attorney McCartney. "It nearly broke up their home."

Mrs. Bruce was in court to defend her right to custody of the 3-year-old son. The father of the boy, William Hendrickson, had charged that Mrs. Bruce was not a fit mother because she neglected the child and went on "parties."

Judge Guerin ordered that Mrs. Bruce keep the child, but that the father be given every opportunity to visit him.

Lady Luck Aids Student Pilot

Soft mud yesterday saved Mais Durand, student pilot, from possibly serious injury when it reduced the impact as his plane nosed over in making a landing at Palmdale, according to his report to officials of Curtiss-Wright Flying Service on his return here from a cross-country flight.

Giving way before the weight of the motor, the ooze not only allowed Durand to escape without a scratch but prevented damage to the plane. Finding himself and every part of the ship intact after the close call, the pilot flew back to the Municipal Airport. Durand is a resident of Pasadena.

HOLLYWOOD TO HAVE UNION STAGE DEPOT

Hollywood soon is to have a centralized union stage depot, and transcontinental patrons will be able to buy tickets direct to the film capital from all parts of the country, according to an announcement just made by Col. Harry M. Baine, president of the Hollywood Boulevard Association. Col. Baine stated that plans have been completed by John Peters, stage line operator, to take over the building occupied by the Hollywood police and fire divisions, and that the association is co-operating in the plans for a national terminus.

COAST ASSURED HAWAII AIR LINE

Two Mammoth Dirigibles to Inaugurate Service

Each Craft to Carry 160, Says Head of New Company

Operation Promised by First of 1932 or Earlier

Linking of the Pacific Coast and the Hawaiian islands by airships carrying 120 passengers, besides crews of forty persons, will be an accomplished fact by the latter part of next year, or the early part of 1932.

Edward P. Parley, of New York and Chicago, chairman of the executive committee of the Pacific Zeppelin Corporation, as well as former chairman of the United States Shipping Board and ex-president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, made this announcement yesterday at the Biltmore.

Parley reported that exhaustive surveys now are being made as to engineering requirements, type of equipment that will be necessary and other essentials. It has been decided, he said, to locate the Pacific Coast base in either San Francisco or Los Angeles.

MAMMOTH CRAFTS

Immense craft, between four and five times as large as the Graf Zeppelin, will be utilized, Parley said, adding that the passenger service to Honolulu will be inaugurated with two Zeppelins.

Travel between the Coast and Honolulu will take only thirty-six hours, Parley said.

Safety is being emphasized in all of the plans of the corporation, Parley said. Thus, he declared, large ships are an assurance of safety, in that ships of great circumference may be better braced than smaller craft. Moreover, he continued, great progress has been made in the study of stresses and strains.

LARGE CRAFT SAFEST

Illustrating the strength of present-day airships, Parley cited one of the British-built dirigibles, which withstood the recent storm in England. The ship was attached to a mooring mast but came through the gale, the worst that his visited England in 100 years, unscathed, Parley said.

Parley said that the Zeppelins to be used in the Pacific service will be constructed on the Pacific Coast.

As traffic grows, Parley stated, the service will be extended to Japan, with Yokohama as the Near Western base.

The visitor explained that he is in Los Angeles between trains, so to speak, coming here from San Francisco. He is interested heavily in a number of shipping concerns, including the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company.

TRIAL FOR JEFFRIES PROVIDED

Court Rescinds Previous Order Granting Demurrer on Mail Fraud Charges

In an order received yesterday by Clerk Zimmerman of the United States District Court, United States District Judge Pollock withdrew a previous order granting a demurrer to the indictment against Elmer J. Jeffries, formerly head of the Jeffries Automatic Service Company, which handled automatic sandwich machines. Among the other defendants, all of whom are accused of using the mails to defraud, are George M. Pettet, D. L. Seymour and H. G. Danforth.

When the case first came before Judge Pollock of Kansas, sitting in Judge McCormick's court, the court sustained the demurrer. A motion to strike from the record the order sustaining the demurrer on the ground that W. B. Harrell, attorney for Jeffries, was not licensed to practice in Federal court here, was denied. Later another motion was made by Asst. U. S. Atty. Redwine. The judge upheld his contention and withdrew the order, thereby overruling the demurrer, which means that Jeffries will have to stand trial with the other defendants. The case was continued until the February term, to be set for trial.

Leo Altman of 'Times' Rallies After Operation

Leo Altman, for many years advertising manager of the Los Angeles Times Midwinter number and the Annual Preview, is recovering in the Good Samaritan Hospital from a serious operation performed Monday. Attending physicians yesterday reported he is in a satisfactory condition.

Mr. Altman, who entered the hospital Saturday, is not expected to return to his desk for a number of weeks and will be forced to remain in the hospital for at least a fortnight. Attending physicians announced yesterday that no visitors will be allowed in the sick room for a week.

Wring out a hot cloth and wrap it around the throat to get the pores well open, wipe dry and rub in plenty of Ben-Gay. Then wind the throat snugly with flannel. Relief starts at once. The stiffness and soreness quickly begin to go as soon as Ben-Gay's penetrating warmth sets up the blood to healing action. Ben-Gay will not burn or blister. Doctors have been prescribing it for 30 years to break up chest colds—and to quiet the pains and aches of nerve and muscle.

ALASKA INDIAN LAUDS CHURCH

Rev. Paul Mather Speaks to Episcopal Women

Great Work Declared Done in Region of Snow

Bishop Rowe Gives Idea of Progress Made

Once a roving member of a belligerent tribe of Alaska Indians, Rev. Paul Mather, assistant priest to Dr. Peter Rowe, Bishop of Alaska, stood yesterday in the pulpit of St. Paul's Cathedral and, in a voice that trembled with emotion, told 500 members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Los Angeles Episcopal Diocese of the educational and religious progress of his people since the light of the gospel was introduced into the land of perpetual snows.

"My people, who sat long in darkness, have seen a great light, the light of the Son of God," said Mr. Mather. "Words cannot express our gratitude to the great Episcopal Church and, especially, to the noble women of that church who, by their sacrifice and devotion, have made it possible for the emissaries of God to come among us with their religion of love."

BISHOP SPEAKS

"The Episcopal Church is visible in Alaska from the southernmost point of that territory to the bleak coastline of the Arctic Circle," said Bishop Rowe. "The church is visible in its many fine missions, schools and hospitals and we deeply appreciate the fact that these institutions have been erected and largely maintained through the good women of the church, who have proved their interest by their deeds."

Sessions of the auxiliary, which were conducted in connection with the annual convention of the executive council of the diocese, were presided over by Mrs. Herbert V. Harris. The delegates passed a resolution to support a social-service department of the diocese and requested Bishop Stevens to appoint a trained social worker to take charge.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

The convention program today will include observance of holy communion at 7:30 a.m., the annual address by Bishop Stevens at 10:30 a.m., a business session at 2 p.m., a dinner for the clergy at 5:30 p.m. at University Club and another dinner in honor of the clergymen's wives at the same hour at Windsor Tea Rooms, Brack-Shops. A mass meeting at the cathedral this evening, to which the public is invited, will be addressed by Bishop Rowe and by Paul F. Cadman, former dean of men at the University of California.

A feature of the sessions tomorrow will be the annual meeting of the diocesan assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew at the cathedral house at 7:30 p.m. Sessions of the Girls' Friendly Society and of the Daughters of the King will be conducted Friday.

MAYOR AND EX-CHIEF AID NEGRO OFFICERS' DEFENSE

Mayor Porter and former Chief of Police Davis appeared yesterday in Superior Judge Wilson's court as defense witnesses in the trial of M. B. Sheffield, Roscoe Washington and Richmond Dunn, suspended negro police officers accused of six counts of bribery.

The State charges the officers accepted "protection" money to refrain from arresting reputed Central-avenue bootleggers on Wright Act charges.

The Mayor and Davis were called to give testimony relative to the defense's contention that C. D. Hoy, vice squad officer, had been taken off of the Central-avenue district so that reputed bootleggers could be induced to testify against Sheffield, Washington and Dunn.

Mayor Porter testified he had requested Davis to remove Hoy from the vice squad after receiving such a recommendation from an investigator of the District Attorney's office, while Davis said he complied with the Mayor's wish and transferred Hoy to the robbery squad.

The State rested its case yesterday after calling a number of witnesses in support of the charges that "protection" money had been paid to the accused officers.

GUILTY PLEA ENTERED BY JACK ALLEN

Probation Then Requested in Case Involving Theft of $5000 Worth of Gasoline

Pleading guilty to three counts of receiving stolen property in connection with the asserted theft of $5000 worth of gasoline from the Western Oil and Refining Company, Jack Allen yesterday asked permission to file an application for probation in Superior Judge Fricke's court.

The request was granted and Judge Fricke set February 21 for hearing. Allen admitted a prior conviction in Missouri in 1912 of violating the White Slave Act.

Allen and Harold Parks originally were indicted by the county grand jury on charges of grand theft in connection with the asserted stealing and bootlegging of gasoline from the oil company. Allen entered his guilty plea after the court granted permission to file an amended information charging receiving stolen property. The charges against Parks were dismissed for lack of evidence.

PARTY OFF IN QUEST OF MAYA RUINS

M. F. Bramley's Yacht to Sail Today for Central America With Group

Several eastern scientists will sail from Long Beach on M. F. Bramley's steam yacht Peary this afternoon, bent on exploring the Mayan ruins discovered by Col. Lindbergh recently while flying across Southern Mexico.

The craft will put in at several west and east coast ports of Central America and after the Mayan search will be taken back home to Cleveland, O., by way of the St. Lawrence River by Mr. Bramley.

In the party will be Mr. Bramley, expected last night from the East; Mr. and Mrs. James R. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Morgan and John C. Fallister, all of Cleveland, and Dr. Inglehart of New York. Capt. C. V. Griffin will command the ship, which will carry a crew of sixteen.

Mr. Bramley came into the public eye a year ago when he bought the Peary on the strength of a dream of a submerged island off California. He sailed the yacht out here and located the island, which was a long-known bank several score miles off San Pedro, but cost estimates on its reclamation were so staggering he abandoned the idea. He incidentally will seek new islands on his coming voyage.

Built as a French fish trawler, the Peary served as a mine sweeper during the World War and carried the MacMillan-Byrd expedition into the Arctic in 1925.

RILEY WILL OPEN DRIVE HERE TODAY

Candidate for Governor Plans to Visit Every Town in Los Angeles County

State Controller Riley, Republican candidate for Governor, will arrive in Los Angeles today to open a thirty-day period of campaigning. During February Riley will visit every city, town and hamlet in the county, leaving March 1 for a swing around the other nine southern counties.

Three radio addresses, one over a State-wide network, will feature Riley's work in the county. Two addresses are scheduled over KMTR the nights of February 12 and 22 between 6:30 and 7 o'clock.

"My campaign in Los Angeles county and every other county of the State," said Riley, "will deal in policies, not personalities. I have a high personal regard for the incumbent of the Governor's office and for other candidates who will oppose me at the forthcoming election.

"However, I feel that my extensive contact with State affairs and careful observation of the financial condition of the State has equipped me to take those steps I feel are necessary to restore a balance between income and outgo."

Trial Ordered on Charges of Manslaughter

Fernando L. Quintero, 29-year-old Mexican laborer residing at 137 North Hick street, Belvedere, was ordered held for Superior Court trial on manslaughter and drunk-driving charges as a result of the death of Lillian Cardwell, 25, on the 18th inst., following his preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday. Hit-and-run charges were dismissed by the court. Quintero was unable to furnish $5000 bail.

Eye witnesses testified that Quintero's automobile struck Miss Cardwell, who resided at 607½ South Euclid avenue, as she stepped out of a street-car safety zone at Whittier Boulevard and Euclid avenue.

Police Officer Segura, who arrested Quintero, and Police Surgeon Jacobs, declared the man was drunk at the time.

Juror Guilty of Contempt

Orlando C. Lane, a juror in Superior Judge Wood's court, yesterday was adjudged in contempt for having discussed with other members of a jury the merits of a case in which Lane served as a juror.

The case was that of Jack Harris, who was tried on charges of grand theft and operating a motor vehicle without consent of the owner. Jurors reported to Judge Wood that Lane told them in the jury room he had investigated the case and probably knew more about it than his fellow-jurors did.

Lane denied any intentional wrongdoing, declaring that he became aware of the fact that he was acquainted with some of the witnesses only after he had been impaneled as a juror.

Judge Wood held Lane in contempt but delayed action on the matter to February 6. The jury acquitted Harris of the grand theft charge but disagreed on the other count.

LOCKS SACRIFICED FOR FILM CAREER

Marguerite Churchill
Above, as her hair was and, below, as is.

For the sake of her art, Marguerite Churchill, ingenue in filmland, has parted with her famous tresses, it became known yesterday. She made the heartbreaking sacrifice at the request of executives at the Fox Film studio in order that she may be cast in more sophisticated roles for talking pictures.

"It broke my heart to have my hair bobbed but one must meet the demands of motion pictures," Miss Churchill said. "I hope and trust that I will fit the niche that has been carved out for me."

Before her hair was cut it fell below her waistline. She insisted on a long bob. Executives at the studio said that Miss Churchill appeared too winsome for some of the roles that had been planned for her and that a hair bob appeared to be the only solution.

HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN PERMITTED

Jewish Federation Will Seek $1,000,000 for New Edifice Now Rising

I. Irving Lipsitch, executive secretary of the Federation of Jewish Welfare Organizations, a member of the Community Chest, announced that the Community Chest yesterday granted the federation permission to conduct a building fund campaign in behalf of the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

JAY D. JACOBS

The board of directors of the federation met yesterday, and chose Jay B. Jacobs, president of the Simon Levy Company, as general chairman of the campaign. The sum of $1,000,000 was set as the objective of the campaign, an amount deemed necessary to complete the building and to equip and furnish the new hospital.

Rising now on Fountain, Berendo and Catalina streets, the new Cedars of Lebanon Hospital will displace the present Kaspare Cohn Hospital.

Col. Sears Will Be Allied With Tax Association

Col. Jerome F. Sears, known in the field of accounting and fiscal finance, next Saturday will become associated as budget expert with the California Taxpayers' Association, it was announced yesterday. He will begin his duties by making an exhaustive survey of municipal and county budgets in all governmental divisions of the State.

Col. Sears formerly was assistant to Gen. Hubert Lord, director of the national budget. During the World War he was the finance member of the National War Claims Board.

Since leaving the Federal service the new appointee has served as director of accounting for the Civic Research Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

STEAM SHOVEL OWNER SUED FOR DAMAGES

Asserting that a steam shovel broke its moorings, ran down a hill and crashed into their home, Mary A. and Rose J. Bushnell, went before Superior Judge Jamison yesterday with a suit asking $20,350 damages of Martter & Bock, contractors, owners of the machine. According to the complaint, the women had retired for the night in their bungalow at Ebey avenue and Wheeling Way when the steam shovel, standing at the top of a hill above them, broke away and rolled into their home. Mary Bushnell was thrown out of bed and suffered injuries, she asserts.

Wife Answers Rival's Query

Irving I. Mansfield not only gambled his money away and owed all the grocers in the vicinity, but on occasion he received love notes from strange women, his wife, Mrs. Mildred B. Mansfield, testified yesterday in Superior Judge Hahn's court, where she was granted a divorce.

Mrs. Mansfield displayed a letter which began "You whom I adore," and contained the cryptic question, "What am I going to do with you, and what am I going to do without you?"

STATE COMMENCES RETRIAL OF BECKER

Fred J. Becker, former Pasadena school principal, yesterday went on trial in Superior Judge Hardy's court on two counts of committing a statutory offense against a 10-year-old boy of the suburban city. At a previous trial Becker was acquitted on three of the original five counts in the case, but the jury disagreed on the remaining two.

PANTAGES HEARING TODAY

Court Will Rule on New Plea for Release of Theater Magnate from Jail on Bail

A new effort to obtain the release from jail of Alexander Pantages, multimillionaire theater magnate convicted of a statutory offense against Eunice Pringle, dancer, will get under way at 9 o'clock this morning in Superior Judge Fricke's court. Pantages's attorneys will present formally a motion to admit Pantages to bail pending decision on his appeal. Pantages, who has been in jail since his conviction last October, is under sentence of from one to fifty years in San Quentin.

The motion is based on affidavits of four physicians who state that continued confinement of the magnate will result in probable permanent injury to his health and may culminate in death.

A previous effort to obtain Pantages's release on bail pending disposition of his appeal failed last December when Judge Fricke denied the motion of Pantages's attorneys, but ordered that he might employ his own physicians to attend him in the jail hospital.

Drs. Gustave Boehme and John Barrow yesterday examined Pantages in jail at the request of the District Attorney's office and will be in court today prepared to testify, if necessary, according to Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart.

Affidavits filed in support of Pantages's motion are those of Drs. Henry Lissner, E. C. Fishbaugh, Aaron Rosanoff and O. M. Johnson. Generally, the affidavits state that Pantages is suffering from a number of heart ailments and that his condition has grown worse since the hearing last December.

Record Field Enters Southland Team Matches

READY FOR OPENING OF COAST POLO CHAMPIONSHIPS

Here are three of the stars who will be seen in the first game of the Coast title series at Midwick this afternoon. On the left is Eric Pedley, 8-goal man of the Midwick team, and at the extreme right is another eight-goal hero, long-legged Elmer Boeseke. In the center is Arthur Perkins, who will captain the visiting Cypress Point four against Midwick's riders, who also rates at eight goals.

The Los Angeles and Hollywood Athletic Club basketball teams, old-time rivals for the Southern California A.A.U. championship, clash in their annual grudge battle at the L.A.A.C. gym tonight. The game is a natural from the ground up. The teams are both unbeaten in the 1930 A.A.U. campaign, both having won three straight league games. Hollywood has turned in victories over the Pacific Coast Club, Elks' Club and San Diego A.C.

MIDWICK QUARTET FACES CYPRESS POINT TODAY

Purple's Twenty-five Goal Four is Favored in Opener of Coast Polo Championship Play

BY FRANK ROCHE

The call of boots and saddles will echo through the Southland today. This afternoon at 2:30 Midwick Country Club horsemen, captained by Carleton Burke, that sturdy veteran of many mallet wars, gallop into action on the Purple Field against a Cypress Point four led by Arthur Perkins in the initial game of the Pacific Coast open polo championship play.

Today's contest officially christens Southern California's major polo season for the new year. It also serves to introduce to local fans Midwick's new Big Four—a twenty-five-goal team that will attempt to ride its way to fame such as the original Purple Club squad enjoyed in past years.

Midwick is sending the following players into the championship clash today as its representatives; Neil McCarthy, Eric Pedley, Elmer Boeseke and Carleton Burke. As related above, Burke will skipper the team, a position he has held for many years at Midwick. On the squad are the two ranking polo stars of the West. They are Eric Pedle, and long-legged Elmer Boeseke. Both of these players rate at eight goals under the United States Polo Association rules. Only two players in polo enjoy higher ratings, namely Tommy Hitchcock and Winston Guest. Burke carries a six-goal rating and McCarthy, the newest member of the squad, a three-goal handicap.

Opposed to Midwick the Cypress Pointers have nominated the following horsemen of note for today's mallet battle: Arthur Perkins, Selby McCreery, Capt. Walford and W. W. Crocker. This four has a rating of twenty-one goals, which means that Midwick will ride on the field a favorite to collect the winning honors. Perkins, captain of Cypress Point, is an eight-goal player. He was one of the original members of the Midwick "Big Four" and is well

The return of Shy to the Bruin cage fold, greatly increases the chances of Caddy Works's quintet to score a double victory over the Cardinals this week-end and maintain its position on top of the basketball standings in the southern division of the Pacific Coast

Southern California's annual team match championships, the largest interclub organization of its kind in the world, with thirty-two clubs and 576 golfers actively engaged each week, starts today, when three of the eight leagues tee off for the opening matches. The remaining five divisions, made up for the most part of clubs in districts outside of Los Angeles, play their first matches on Sunday, February 1.

This is a new record for the interclub team matches, which were organized a quarter of a century ago to foster a spirit of friendly competition between the various Southern California clubs.

With an eligibility list of sixty-eight low handicap golfers, the Los Angeles Country Club team, winner of the Peter Cooper Bryce trophy for the past two years, is expected to put up a stiff battle to win the title three years in a row.

Although teams are made up of eighteen men, Los Angeles' great reserve strength will be a decided asset.

WEST BIDS FOR COLLEGE MEET

Nation's College Runners to Vie for Honors

Eastern Members Approve Trip to Berkeley

BY TED VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (AP)—For the first time in its history of more than half a century, the classic championship track and field meet of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America may be staged in the Far West in 1932.

After journeying eastward year after year and capturing eight of the last nine championships, the universities of California, Southern California and Stanford have invited the I.C.A.A.A.A. to hold its fifty-sixth annual title event two years hence at the University of California oval at Berkeley, it was announced today.

The bid was backed with a guarantee of $65,000 to help defray expenses of visiting teams and was favorably received by eastern members of the association.

According to plans outlined in the invitation received through Lloyd W. Georgeson, a California alumnus, the meet would be held in the latter part of June or the first of July. At that time the Golden State will be the track and field center of the world with the Olympic Games taking place at Los Angeles shortly after.

The idea of staging the intercollegiates in the West "would not only be feasible, but for the best interests of intercollegiates and national track and field athletics," declared Gustavus T. Kirby, chairman of the I.C.A.A.A.A. advisory committee, today after discussing the matter with eastern representatives, both students and alumni.

"The expense item has been met with the generous underwriting offer of the Pacific Coast members of the association, based upon the reasonable expectancy of a large attendance," said Kirby. "Holding teams in training beyond the ordinary scholastic year is always more

Cady Receives Thirty-four Applications for Mercury Aquatic Meet Friday; Buster Crabbe Attempts to Shatter Weismuller's 500-Yard Record

A total of thirty-four entries were received by Fred Cady, L.A.A.C. swimming coach, last night, for the big indoor water carnival to be held at the Mercury club plunge Friday evening. The meet will mark the official opening of the 1930 indoor swimming season in Los Angeles and the fastest paddlers of the West will compete in an effort to lower present world records.

Coach Cady and Swimming Commissioner Morrison Egbert have arranged for many special events and the meet should be a record-breaker all the way through.

The following entries were received yesterday, the closing day of acceptance:

Special 500-yard handicap race in attempt to lower world's record—Buster Crabbe, unattached; Herb Barthels and Fred Woods, L.A.A.C.; C. H. Best, Jr., Hollywood A.C.; Dave Foster and Laurie McNultz, Venice Swimming Association.

Special match 220-yard race in attempt to lower world record—Josephine McKim, L.A.A.C.; Helen Madison, Crystal Plunge, Seattle.

LIEB RUMOR DENIED

Spaulding Says Notre Dame Mentor Has Not Been Approached With Offer to Join U.C.L.A.

"There's nothing to it," was Bill Spaulding's answer to the query last night as to the truth of a rumor to the effect that Tom Lieb, Notre Dame assistant grid mentor, is coming to U.C.L.A. as assistant to the head fooball coach.

The yarn was to the effect that Lieb would join Spaulding in the fall, being Bill's assistant in grid work and then handling the track and field team. Lieb, during the past season, was actually head coach at Notre Dame, Knute Rockne having been laid up practically all year with his injured leg.

"I don't know what started the rumor," said Spaulding over the phone. "It is true we are looking for an additional line coach. I have two men in mind, but Lieb's name never came up for consideration. I have felt that he was in line for the post at Minnesota."

"The yarn put me in rather a tough spot," said Bill. "I had to call up Harry Trotter and 'Stuzzy' Stursenegger and tell them to go right ahead with their respective track and baseball teams. First I knew of the whole matter was when I saw it in tonight's paper."

"If Lieb wants to come out here it's news to me. He would make most any university in the country a mighty fine head coach," was Spaulding's final word.

Risko boasts an excellent record among the giants of the ring. His best victory was a fifteen-round decision over Jack Sharkey in 1928 and he shares with Jack Dempsey the distinction of having had Gene Tunney in distress.

Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, failed to appear and settle his difference with the commission, but March 24 was approved for the House of Calvary Cancer Hospital charity show under the management of Edward J. LOMSKI'S HAND RAISED

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (Exclusive)—Leo Lomski, aggressive light-heavyweight boxer, may not know it, but he won a decision over James J. Braddock at the Coliseum on January 17. Until today it was generally considered that the encounter would go down as a draw. Today the Illinois Boxing Commission said there had been some fuzzy adding of the score cards and righted the wrong by figuratively holding up the arm of the absent Lomski in belated token of victory.

The commission announced the unusual procedure was not a reversal of a decision but merely the correction of a decision inadvertently given by Dave Miller, referee of the fight. A ten-day delay in announcing the correction was caused by Miller's being out of town, the commission said.

TIGERS TROUNCE DEMOCRAT TEAM

Duhm's Five Falters After Strong Start

Winners Tally Ten Points in Two Minutes

Luke Riggs Leads Scoring With 13 Digits

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Proving to all concerned that they had prior rights to the Major City basketball title, the Lincoln Tigers swept the Jefferson Democrats rudely aside, 37-19, yesterday afternoon on the Tiger court to annex the 1930 cage championship.

Through the victory Coach Pop Bates's squad showed that it has first claim on the mythical Southern California basketball title. The Tigers haven't lost a game to a prep outfit this season, their sole defeat coming from the U.C.L.A. freshmen.

Yesterday's triumph was the twenty-first win out of twenty-two starts for the Tigers.

Jefferson started out strong, holding an 8-7 lead at the end of the first quarter. Coach "Ching" Duhm had a different offense in use and for a time it had the Tigers baffled.

In the second quarter, Bates's system started to function and at the end of the half, Lincoln was on top, 18-10.

Commencing the second half, the Tigers gave a plain and fancy exhibition in goal shooting, raising their total 10 points in a little over two minutes of play.

Except for three free throws by Eddie Johnson, Jefferson failed to tally in the third period.

Bates gave his second-stringers a chance in the last quarter and they held the Democrats even, each outfit scoring 6 points.

Luke Riggs, the blond Lincoln forward, was hot yesterday, taking high-point honors with five field goals and three foul shots for 13 points. Riggs played a strong floor game as well, his passing and head work accounting for several other Tiger tallies.

Lee Guttero, Lincoln center, and Eddie Johnson of Jefferson, tied for second high-scoring honors with 9 digits apiece.

Paul Shweinfurth, the Democrats' scoring threat, failed to get anywhere, sinking but two field goals for 4 points.

In the preliminary game, the Jefferson lightweights nosed out the Lincoln babes, 31-24. "Spot" Thornton, the Democrat's tall colored center, led the scoring with 17 points. Barney Cowen, Lincoln forward, was next with 11 digits.

Nick Stuart and Sue Carol were interested spectators at the varsity game. Nick's younger brother, Bill Prada, is on the Lincoln squad and played the last quarter.

MANUAL ARTS TOILERS SUBDUE FRANKLIN

The Manual Arts basketball squad coasted through to victory yesterday afternoon against Franklin with little or no effort, the final score being 30 to 7. The game was played in the Kitefiyers' own gymnasium, but even that failed to help the Franklin basketeers.

The Toilers got off to a flying start, running up six points before Franklin tallied once. The score at the half was 13 to 6. In the second half the Manual Arts cagers pulled the trick that the U.C.L.A. Bruins played on California and held the Panthers to a single point in the last half, while they were garnering twelve digits. At no stage of the game did the home team extend the visitors.

Capt. Tom Schwartz of Manual Arts was high point man for the day with thirteen digits run up, and Hardee, the other Toiler forward, scored nine points. Nodine, Franklin forward, scored four points to lead his own scorers, Bowers annexing two digits and Agan one to complete the Panther scoring.

The Toilers have one more game on their schedule, playing Polytechnic's quintet on the Mechanics' floor Thursday afternoon. This game will be the final one in the City League and was postponed from last Friday.

In a preliminary game the Manual Arts Class B team defeated the Franklin lightweights by a score of 23 to 19.

RABBIT PUNCHES

PAUL LOWRY

A REAL OLYMPIC YEAR

THE award of the I.C.A.A.A.A. track-and-field championships to Berkeley in 1932 is the best news of the day.

In over fifty years of competition this blue-ribbon classic of the East has never come west before, and the decision is suitable recognition of the feats of western athletes in the past nine years.

During that period California has won the title three times, Southern California twice and Stanford three times.

In only one year—1934—did an eastern team, in this case Yale, slip in for a win in its pet championship. The Golden Bears walked off with the bacon in 1921, 1922 and 1923, the Trojans in 1926 and 1927 and the Sons of the Stanford Red cleaned up the past three years running.

Western athletes representing these three institutions have won these meets largely through superiative ffoits on the field rather than on the track.

It therefore will be more than interesting in 1932 to observe if eastern athletes are able to hog the track events at Berkeley as they generally do when the meets are staged in the East.

Of course, the West has some very notable track feats to its credit, but the preponderance of points has been gained in the field. California had a quarter miler in Oxy Hendrixon who won this event two years in a row. Dye and Grumbles of Southern California won the high and low hurdles, respectively, in 1926, Borah of S.C. won both the 100 and 220 in 1927 as a sophomore, Nichols of Stanford won the high hurdles in 1928, Dyer of Stanford was second in both sprints last year, and then there were a few other scattering track points picked up here and there.

With the I.C.A.A.A.A. meet going to Berkeley 1932 will be a real Olympic year, with one classic event succeeding another the finale coming in this city in August.

THE CENTURY TOURNEY

MR. WILLIAM MELLORS HENRY, retiring president of the Los Angeles Tennis Club, is rather proud of the century doubles tournament which he inaugurated at the Clinton-street emporium for racket devotees.

The first two rounds were played Sunday, and the remaining two are on the schedule for next Sunday.

The chief stipulation to entry called for a combined total of 100 years of age between the two players.

It was a terrible blow to some of the old fellows to admit their ages, but at any rate Messrs. Simpson Sinsabaugh and Tom Bundy teamed up together, and appear to be the favorites, having won their first two matches the other day.

Bundy, form r national doubles champion with Maury McLoughlin, modestly confesses to around 45, so that makes Sinsabaugh at least 55.

Both of them were stars for a great many years, and have seen tennis develop from the old Central courts in South Pasadena and other favored sectors of bygone years to the period where this section boasts in the Los Angeles Tennis Club the largest hard-court club in the world.

Sinsabaugh was a great doubles player in his day, and teamed up with Hal Braly back in 1905 to win the Pacific Coast doubles title.

Bundy came into prominence in 1910 when he won the same event as the partner of bespectacled Trow Hendrick, who was always conspicuous by the kerchief he wore about his noble brow.

Bundy won the same title for the ensuing three years paired with the red-haired Comet, Maury McLoughlin.

In 1910 Bundy and Hendrick won the all-comers' doubles title, but lost in the challenge round to Hackett and Fred Alexander.

In 1912, 1913 and 1914 Bundy and McLoughlin were the national doubles champions.

So when you see the old boys play next Sunday remember that they were real stars in their day, and still can smite the pill.

Bundy was always famous for his dinky cut strokes and Sinsabaugh for a smashing forehand drive and a weak second service.

THE ROSS CASE

ADDED evidence has arrived that a warm battle is pending between Frankie Campbell and Benny Ross of Buffalo at Hollywood Friday night.

Mr. Lee Moore, who was Jack Dempsey's shadow whenever the Manassa Mauler was in training for a championship contest, is the latest courier of fistic tidings.

Mr. Moore galloped up last evening to announce that he is the local representative of Mr. Ross, and he resents statements to the effort that the Owens person of the Dutch Meyers stable ever flattened Mr. Ross, or even came close to it.

Inasmuch as Mr. Meyers and Owens both have denied it, the statement by Mr. Moore comes under the head of cumulative evidence.

In addition Mr. Moore has some very good points to make on the issue.

It seems that Mr. Moore paid out $368 of his own money to bring Mr. Ross to the Coast, and heatedly denies that his battler is of the type Mr. Campbell has been bowling over with a punch.

"I'll guarantee you this," said Mr. Moore last night, it'll be a real fight at Hollywood Friday night. My boy is no set-up. I won't say that Campbell can't knock him out, but I won't say that he can, either. At any rate, Ross won't go out in a punch. You can bet dough on that."

PIERCE BACK WITH TROJANS

ace in the hole, for Jess Mortensen, who filled in for Bill last week, is no longer seriously bothered by his shoulder injury and can play a full game at top speed.

"I will start the same five men against California Friday night," said Barry yesterday. "There is no sense changing a winning combination, but it is nice to have Pierce ready to go again and I'll shoot him in there at some time or other."

This means that Frank Smith and Jack Gardner will play the forward positions against California, with Mortensen at center and Capt. Lehners and Wilbur Caldwell as guards.

California is very much in the race for the southern title, having lost but two games, and Friday night's encounter at the Shrine should draw a packed house similar to the one which witnessed the U.C.L.A.-S.C. tilt last Saturday. The Bears and Trojans split a two-game series in the north recently, Barry's charges winning the first and dropping the second.

Payne Favored to Annex Bout

Cecil Payne, Pacific Coast junior lightweight champion, who fights Dud Eades at Pasadena tomorrow night, is favored to win the ten-round battle.

Payne rates the nod on the strength of his victories over Goldie Hess, Bushy Graham, Pete Zivic and other stars. But Eades is far from a push-over and there are many who think that he will give Payne a harder battle than Hess did. Eades has gone into a lot of battles as a short-ender and emerged with the decision over supposedly superior boys. His record shows but six defeats in forty-two bouts.

VENICE WINS IN PRACTICE

The Venice High basketball team won a practice game in its own gymnasium yesterday from Santa Monica High's cagers by a score of 34 to 19. The Gondoliers beat the Samohi five, 24 to 22, last Friday in the regular Bay League game. Sorenson, Venice forward, was high-point man with 21 digits. In a preliminary game, the Gondolier Class B team beat the Santa Monica lightweights, 24 to 11, Smith of Venice being high-point man with 5 points scored.

Fields Bound for Bay City

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (AP)—Jackie Fields, world welterweight champion, today was headed for the Pacific Coast to start training for his fight with Young Corbett III, in San Francisco February 22.

It will be Fields's first meeting with the Coast youngster, and also his initial start against a left-hander. The bout will be an overweight affair, leaving Fields's title out of the discussion.

Bobby Jones Uses Power in Downswing

BY SOL METZGER

Power and plenty of it is what one needs in extricating a golf ball from a bad lie in a sand trap bordering a green. But you do not apply this power in the backswing. In fact, the principles of niblick play here are the same as in most shots.

Jones takes his club back slowly. At the top he is but three-quarters of the way back. His stance is open and his feet are imbedded in the sand. But coming down he hits with all the power he can command, striking the sand back of his ball and then forcing his club on through, the force of the rising (exploding sand) excavated by the follow through of his clubhead, pushing his ball up into space. Naturally one must have firm wrists to force the clubhead through the sand.

Golf is a form game. Correct your pivot and you will add yardage to your shots. Sol Metzger has prepared a free illustrated leaflet on the pivot. Send for it in care of The Times and inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

MIDWICK FOUR FAVORED TODAY

known to Southland polo fans. McCreery is a six-goaler, Walford rates five and Crocker two. Perkins, McCreery and Walford are Englishmen. Crocker is an American.

Despite the fact that the Cypress Pointers will have to give away four goals on paper to Midwick, there are many who claim that the mounts of the invading four will outspeed those of Midwick and make up the difference in ratings. The raffbirds who have watched Pedley, Boeseke, Burke and McCarthy in practice claim, however, that Cypress Point will have to show an exceptional burst of speed to outstep the Purple riders.

On Friday afternoon the second game of the championship series will be staged, Argentine's Four Horsemen of the Pampas clashing with a San Mateo team captained by W. S. "Willie" Tevis. The South Americans are heavy favorites to cop that contest and are already being billed as the opponents for next Sunday's game against George Moore's Rancho San Carlos Cardinals.

Midwick officials predict that the present tournament will outshine any mallet classic ever staged on the West Coast. Gathered at Midwick at present are six of the crack teams of the two Americas. Besides the galaxy of stars in the saddle, the fans will also have a chance to see some of the finest polo mounts in the world perform during the series.

The line-ups:

MIDWICK			CYPRESS POINT
Rating, 24		Pos.		Rating, 24
3 McCarthy		No. 1	W. W. Crocker	2
8 Pedley		No. 2	McCreery	6
6 Boeseke		No. 3	Perkins	8
6 Burke		Back	Walford	8

ROSS TAKES WORKOUT FOR CAMPBELL CLASH

Hollywood Legion Stadium fight fans are stringing with Frankie Campbell to win from Benny Ross, Buffalo heavyweight, in the main event Friday night. Both fighters worked out before a big crowd of fight fans at the Manhattan Gymnashum yesterday. Campbell looked in great shape and Ross looked impressive. He didn't do any boxing but promised to don the gloves this afternoon. Ross appeared early and didn't remain around the gym to see Campbell do his daily dozen. It was his first workout here.

Ross has come here direct from Buffalo for the Campbell shot. If he shows any class he will remain in Southern California and meet other heavyweights.

There is a new semi-wind-up. Tommy Gardner and Louis Carpentero will replace Jackie Caston and Tommy McGough. Both the latter fighters are on the sick list. Gardner has beaten Caston in the Northwest.

Frankie Diaz is favorite over Bert Lamb because Lamb is a newcomer and Diaz has made good fights at Hollywood. These boys are lightweights and Diaz is rated one of the best young Mexican fighters among the new crop.

The four-round fighters are Nifty Gonzales and John Spencer in the second spot and Mickey McLaughlin and Ralph Armando in the curtain raiser.

RECORD FIELD IN TEAM PLAY

has put Los Angeles in the same division with Flintridge, which boasts one of the strongest teams in the Southland with its 1929 rooster practically intact. Flintridge advanced to the finals last year, losing to Los Angeles, 4 to 3, after a bitter struggle for the championship.

Flintridge and Los Angeles are grouped with Annandale and Wilshire. They will clash in deciding tests on February 26 and again on March 5, Flintridge traveling to Los Angeles for the first match, and Los Angeles repaying the visit to wind up the series.

The Beverly Hills club team will be captained by Phil Porve, Jr., and numbers among its foremost players J. M. Arneill, Harlow Hurley, Maj. William Lee Karnes, George M. Lewis, Chester S. Lyday, A. J. Shafer, Everett H. Seaver, and W. C. O. Smith.

A. W. Maine captains the Flintridge team with a powerful squad led by Joe Hegeman, Bud Yoakum, W. A. Horrell, Stan Mitchell, Paul Reynolds, Dwight Hamlin, H. S. Robbins, W. E. Taverner, and W. Salisbury.

RANCHO-CALIFORNIA CLASH

California and Rancho are expected to furnish the toughest competition in group six, although Hollywood and Brentwood may furnish unexpected opposition.

Rancho's eligibility list shows forty-three names. The Pico Boulevard club has fourteen men of two handicap and under. George (Jiz) Von Elm is included with a handicap of zero, but George is also on Los Angeles' list and will probably not compete for either club this spring.

Gibson Dunlap, Southern California amateur champion, heads Rancho's list. He is a scratch man. Two handicap players include George Lance, Phil Carter, Johnny De Paolo, Leon Kellar, Ray Palmer, Harry Atwater, H. K. Bachelder, Milo Marchetti, Lee Pendergrass, Paul Jones, Dr. L. D. Rankin, Dr. C. K. Manhart, and Le Roy Von Elm, George Von Elm's brother.

California's main threats are Pay and Lester Coleman, Jack Douglas, Guy Hansen, E. R. Hurst, D. F. O'Keefe, Nick Shaefer, George Shaw, F. M. Slade, and J. F. Robertson.

Lakeside boasts a fine team and should make a good showing in competition with Midwick, Bel-Air and San Gabriel.

SAN BERNARDINO ADMITTED

George T. Cline, chairman of the team matches committee, announced yesterday that Ojai-Ventura decided to drop out of the team matches, which leaves Girard, Oakmont, and La Cumbre without a fourth member.

San Bernardino, represented by its retiring president, J. B. Claypool, was admitted into the fifth group, composed of Redlands, Mountain Meadows, Red Hill and Victoria.

A tentative schedule was drawn up for the Gate City Club as follows:

February 1—San Bernardino at Red Hill.
February 5—Redlands at San Bernardino.
February 12—San Bernardino at Mountain Meadows.
February 19—Victoria at San Bernardino.
February 26—Red Hill at San Bernardino.
March 5—San Bernardino at Redlands.
March 8—Mountain Meadows at San Bernardino.
March 12—San Bernardino at Victoria.

San Bernardino was forced to fit its schedule in at odd dates in order to complete the program of matches in time for the play-off.

The play-off will be held shortly after the season closes, the eight winners meeting on neutral courses to decide the championship.

Cline urges all team captains to get their results into the morning papers as soon as the matches are finished.

TEAM CAPTAINS

Team captains, as far as they have been reported, are as follows: Brentwood, Clarence Runkle; Bel-Air, George Holstein, Jr.; California, Fay Coleman; Fox Hills, Johnny J. Mescall; Hollywood, Stanley Hughes; Hacienda, L. A. Lewis; Long Beach, C. S. McNary; La Cumbre, H. W. Hitchcock; Mountain Meadows, H. S. Moore; Midwick, J. C. Eskimo Wins Turf Feature

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) Jan. 28. Eskimo, leading candidate of the North Way stable of Norman D. Church for the speed handicap, to be decided Sunday, showed he is fit and ready this afternoon by winning the Vitesse, a prep, over a field of five others. Eskimo, making his first start, won a head decision over Vanity, the good filly from the stable of William R. Coe of New York. Andromeda, coupled with Vanity as the Coe-Creech entry, got the show. Eskimo's victory was the third in a row for the Northway stable. North Ypres, record price winner, and Lady Vava were the other two. The colt went to the front with the rise of the barrier but gave way to Andromeda until rounding the turn for home. Here he came again to last to the end though Vanity, three times shut off, made a game bid.

STOCKTON SEEKS GAMES

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—Lewis Morsing, owner of the Sacramento baseball club today sent a letter to Harry Williams of Los Angeles, president of the Pacific Coast League, asking permission to play Thursday games in Stockton when the Senators are at home next season. For a number of years Sunday morning games have been played at Stockton.

SARPOLIS GETS CRACK AT YOUTHFUL MAT SENSA

Dr. Karl Sarpolis, the 215-pound wrestling physician from Cleveland, O., who made such an impressive showing here several weeks ago in his first wrestling bout in this section, was signed by Promoter Lou Daro yesterday to clash with Everett Marshall in the finish feature event of the big mat show planned for the Olympic next Wednesday night.

Dr. Sarpolis came to Los Angeles with the reputation of being a fast, clean, clever wrestler of great ability, and he lived up to advance notices when he held Dick Daviscourt to a one-hour draw in a match that was packed with action.

The wrestling physician was in line for the match with Marshall here after his battle with Daviscourt, but due to the fact that he had already been signed for several matches around Salt Lake City, he was not free to accept any more bouts here at that time.

Oak Bosses in Visit to Lane

J. Cal Ewing, former owner of the Oakland club, and candidate for the Coast League presidency at the coming fall meeting, and Bob Miller, present prexy of the Oaks, stopped off in Los Angeles yesterday to pay a visit to Bill Lane, Hollywood boss. Ewing and Miller announced that the Oaks had made arrangements to help back the Phoenix club in the Arizona State League during the 1930 campaign. The Acorns will turn over several of their young players to the Phoenix outfit, which is to be managed by Louie Guisto, former Oakland first sacker. The Hollywood Stars will again back the Tucson Arizona State League team, while the Angels will send their youngsters to the Bisbee club of the same circuit.

Badgers Star in Block Play

BY SOL METZGER

Those who tirade against block plays in basketball, claiming them illegal, should consider this one and others to follow. They are plays used by leading college teams. Yet in principle they are akin to the one shown yesterday.

Three years ago Wisconsin sprung this play. No. 1 was dribbling up the floor with a trailer. An opponent rushed him to bat the ball away or force him to pass. Just as the opponent swung at the bounding ball, No. 1 performed an act of legerdemain. He actually got his hand on it in such a way as to bat it backward, as he came to a full stop, and into the hands of his trailer, No. 2, who continued with the dribble.

Naturally, No. 1 was between No. 2 and the opponent who rushed him. That is blocking. But it is legal blocking. Basketball cannot bar such plays unless the rule makers can figure out a way for plays on attack to vanish in thin air if one happens to get between the ball and an opponent.

LIEB RUMOR IS DENIED

Notre Dame team last season won seven of its nine championship games while Rockne was incapacitated, was replaced today by Heartley (Hunk) Anderson. The announcement was made by the Rev. Michael Mucciare, chairman of the faculty board of athletic control.

Lieb, it is understood, was considering three offers, assistant coach to Bill Spaulding at U.C.L.A. and coaching jobs at Minnesota and Auburn. Efforts to communicate with Tom at his home here this evening were unsuccessful. Lieb has not formally resigned yet, but it is expected that he will do so when he accepts one of the offers.

Anderson, who resigned his head coaching position at St. Louis U. at the close of last season, was graduated from Notre Dame in 1922 and helped build the teams of 1924, 1925, 1926 and 1927, devoting his entire attention to the line play as Rockne's first assistant.

or less done in Olympic years and also for certain dual meets. In point of fact, the holding of the intercollegiate meet at a date later than usual has its advantages in the non-interference with examinations and the preparation therefor.

"Most important of all, however, is the fact that these intercollegiate championships would be but the preliminary step toward the Olympic Games, for the championships as usual will be undoubtedly one of the official preliminary tryouts for the Olympic Games with the final tryouts held probably the Saturday thereafter at Los Angeles."

STANFORD NOSES OUT OLYMPIC CLUB FIVE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Cal.) Jan. 28. (AP)—Clinging tenaciously to a small lead throughout the second half, Stanford's varsity basketball team nosed out the Olympic Club quintet of San Francisco, 34 to 30, here tonight.

The game was slow and marked by numerous personal fouls. McCandless, center, and Reynolds, guard, led the Cardinal attack with 9 and 8 points, respectively, while Oberberg of the Olympic Club, and Wilson, each chalked up 9 digits. Stanford led, 16 to 14, at half time.

DE PAUL BEATS NEVADA

RENO (Nev.) Jan. 28. (AP)—The strong De Paul basketball team of Chicago tonight defeated the University of Nevada quintet by 1 point, 25 to 24.

FARR DEFEATS SMITH

WILKESBARRE (Pa.) Jan. 28. (AP)—Johnny Farr of Cleveland won the decision over Steve Smith of Bridgeport, Ct., in a ten-round bout here tonight.

Ski-Jumping Stars Enter Ice Carnival

With the addition of several internationally known stars, competition for honors in the fourth annual winter sports carnival of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce promises to be stronger than ever before. The event is to be staged Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Big Pines, Los Angeles county's mountain playground.

Nineteen athletic events have been scheduled by Chairman Dan Hay of the Junior Chamber, and F. E. Wadsworth, superintendent in charge of county recreational camps, is planning to accommodate 30,000 people at the final events on Sunday. More than 20,000 were present last year.

The feature interest has settled on the big and small ski jumps, in which the noted experts will take part. Among them are Halvord Bjorngaard, from Ogden, Utah, known as the greatest stylist jumping today; A. Brodahl and E. Solern, who finished first and second in last year's affair; Fred Dorge, a noted Norwegian expert; Jack Hansen, former national champion; Sigurd Wathne, president of the Viking Club, who was decorated by the King of Norway for his brilliant jumping at Holmenkollan, Norway, and many others.

Two ice hockey games are scheduled. The S. C. Trojans meet the California Bears Saturday afternoon, and on Sunday afternoon eastern and western all-star teams will tangle. These squads are composed of former amateur players of more or less note.

weighed 124½ for the occasion while Torres scaled 125½.

YOUNG HOOVER CHEERED

During the preliminaries Dan Tobey brought everybody to their feet with the announcement that Herbert Hoover, Jr., was in the audience, an ovation being given the young man.

The semi-wind-up brought a knockout for Al Gordon of Philadelphia over Rita Funay in the third round. After being hit palpably low Funay went down from a stiff left to the stomach.

Gordon is a southpaw. He looked bad in the first two rounds and the sudden knockout was unexpected.

Don Burchard, substituting for Teddy Palacios in the special event, won from Freddie Welch in six rounds.

Johnny Jordan won from Cliff McArdle in four rounds, and Dick McDaniels copped the nod from Jess Vasquez in four rounds.

Hollywooders to Play Sheiks

"Smokey" Harris's Hollywood Millionaires battle the Oakland Sheiks at the Winter Garden Ice Palace tomorrow night. They are fighting for second place in the hockey race.

Because of erratic form and the immense lead enjoyed by the Oaks, the Millionaires have just about given up hope of getting even within shouting distance of the champions but they do believe that they have an excellent chance for second place and the play-off right which goes with it. The Oaks are in well-nigh invincible form right now but Harris is unworried.

He is well satisfied that his team is improving, despite defeat, and points out that it was only some bad breaks that kept the Millionaires from beating the Oaks in the north Saturday night. Oakland won that game, 3 to 2.

Basketball

"Mitts" Carson, captain of the Sutro & Co., five last night led his team to its first victory since the Stock Exchange basketball league season began this year. The Sutro boys won a close game from the Stock Exchange quintet, the score at the end of the game reading 18-14 in favor of Sutro.

In two other games which were played on the John Ainsworth Junior Mission courts, the K. A. Pierce defeated the J. Jorgensen five, 12-11, while the William R. Staats won from Toole Nielsen, 14-11. In the latter game, two former prep stars opposed each other, Sullenfant from Hollywood High and Leo Wepfe of Manual Arts.

LONG BEACH RINGS UP WIN OVER PASADENA

The Long Beach Polytechnic swamped the Pasadena High cagers yesterday afternoon in the final game of the first round of play in the Coast League. The final score was 36 to 17, the Jackrabbits holding a 19-to-3 lead at half-time. Holbrook and Elliott of Long Beach led the scoring with 12 and 10 points apiece, respectively. McDowell, a substitute forward, scored 9 points for Long Beach.

The line-ups:

Long Beach (36)		Pasadena (17)
Holbrook (12)	F.	McNeil (2)
Morrow (1)	F.	Peltroe (3)

SCORE BY QUARTERS

Long Beach	10	9	5	12—36
Pasadena	3	0	5	9—17

Substitutions: Long Beach: McDowell (9.) forward. Pasadena: Schrine (2.) center; Schaefer, guard.

LOYOLA HIGH CAGERS CONQUER CATHEDRAL

Loyola High's basketballers had an easy time swamping the Cathedral High quintet yesterday on the losers' court, the final score of the cage clash between the two local rivals being 32 to 10. The score at half time was 10 to 4, but the Loyola sharp shooters went wild in the second half to make a runaway of the game. O'Donnell, Loyola center, was high scorer with nine points. Line-ups:

Loyola (32)		Cathedral (8)
Michels (5)	F.	Bain
Davin (4)	F.	Herzerberger (1)
O'Donnell (9)	C.	Basus (3)
Perkins (2)	G.	Pisel

HARBOR TRAFFIC GAINS FORECAST

Admiral Line's Local Agent Makes Prediction

Expects Mexico Cruises to Open New Avenues

Next Mazatlan Expedition Set for February 3

BY WALDO DRAKE

Several brand new avenues of trade with Mexico will be opened up by Admiral Line's new feature cruises to Mazatlan, it was announced yesterday by R. B. Shutten, district passenger chief. Mr. Schutten said that 135 reservations have already been sold for the Dorothy Alexander's first trip to the west coast metropolis, on which she departs Los Angeles Harbor February 3 and returns February 15.

He also announced completion of plans for an across-Mexico tour, including many of Mexico's ancient Indian ruins, on which tourists may start from Mazatlan and return a fortnight later in time to return here on the next sailing of the Dorothy Alexander. This itinerary includes Mazatlan to Guadalajara, Mexico City, the ruins at San Juan Teotihuaca, Cuernavaca, Puebla, Oaxaca, the pyramids at Mitla, Tlacolula, Jalapa, the Atlantic port of Vera Cruz, Orizaba and then back to Mazatlan via Mexico City.

On her second cruise, the Dorothy Alexander will leave Los Angeles Harbor on February 17 and return on March 1. Three other cruises are projected for March and April. Stops at way ports will be made en route on all five cruises.

Three hunting parties will go south on the Admiral liner on the first cruise, while Commodore Vernon Coombs, veteran local yachtsman, will take his power cruiser to Mazatlan on the liner's deck and then commence a fishing expedition up the Gulf of California.

BAY CITY PARTY TO MEET LINER OREGON

San Francisco scribes and shipping men will arrive here by train today to ride home on the new French Line motor liner Oregon, here on her maiden voyage in the Pacific-European passenger and freight service. The liner will sail north at midnight tonight. Heading the party will be Drew Chidester, vice-president of General Steamship Corporation, line agents; Christen Sandahl, publisher of the San Francisco Commercial News; Albert J. Porter, editor of the Shipping Register; Edward Charleton, marine editor of the San Francisco Examiner and "Bob" Roberts, marine editor of the San Francisco Chronicle.

Shipping men and Harbor Department employees paid their last tribute yesterday to Walter D. Coombs, veteran superintendent of boat construction and repairs of the department, who died the 25th inst. after a short illness. Funeral services were conducted at the Goodrich-Halverson parlors, San Pedro, with entombment at the Angeles Abbey Mausoleum. Born in London in 1867, he came to America eleven years later, and settled in Wilmington, where he and Mrs. Coombs were married in 1887. He is survived by his widow at 457 Thirty-ninth street, San Pedro, and by two married daughters, a son and four grandchildren.

The Susan Luckenbach sailed for here from Boston yesterday to take the place of the steamer Edward Luckenbach, ashore on Block Island. Prospects are reported good for salvaging the latter.

Herbert Walmsley will arrive in Los Angeles Friday morning from San Francisco to begin his new duties as Southern California claim agent for the Dimon Intercoastal Line. Dimon Line recently opened its own offices here under the management of D. M. Dysart.

The local Navy Hydrographic Office yesterday advised all coast mariners to be on the lookout for a derelict in the vicinity of Point Piedras Blancas. The wreckage, about thirty-five feet long and two feet showing above water, was passed on the 26th inst. off Point Sierra Nevada by the United Fruit steamer Esparta.

TIBBETT WILL SEE OWN FILM

Noted Baritone Arrives in Home Town Today

Gala Welcome Planned for New Film Star

"Rogue Song" Breaking All Existing Records

Lawrence Tibbett, who arrives in Los Angeles today, plans to attend the very first performance of "The Rogue Song" that he can. According to announcement from the Chinese Theater, Tibbett will be an honored guest at today's matinee at that theater, where his first film effort is showing.

"The Rogue Song" is Tibbett's debut on the screen and according to figures released is breaking all existing records at the Chinese Theater. Inasmuch as Tibbett has not seen the completed film, the theater is anticipating even greater crowds today than usual.

Tibbett will sing in concert at the Philharmonic Auditorium on the night of February 11, under the L. E. Behymer management. This concert has been practically sold out for days, it is said.

TRYON TO START

Glenn Tryon is shortly to start work on his Universal production, "The Little Accident." Carl Laemmle, Jr., general manager of this company is negotiating for the services of one of filmland's most prominent directors to guide Tryon in this opus, it is reported on reliable authority.

CIRCLE PLANS GALA PREMIERE TONIGHT

Ramon Novarro will have his first gala premiere at the Carthay Circle Theater tonight. The attraction will be "Devil May Care," the star's first talking picture.

Novarro is supported in the musical romance by Dorothy Jordan, last seen with Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks in "The Taming of the Shrew." Marion Harris also is featured. Others in the cast are John Miljan, William Humphrey, George Davis and Clifford Bruce. Sidney Franklin directed.

Operetta Makes Successful Bid for Approval

"The New Moon," fiery musical romance, is being joyously received at the Majestic Theater, where it is now in its second week. The book concerns the French aristocracy of the eighteenth-century New Orleans with revolting bondservants, the establishment of a republic and with the triumph of love over class-consciousness.

Ferry Askam, as Robert, the fugitive French aristocrat whose dream of a democracy is realised, sings the fine songs of Sigmund Romberg. Josephine Houston, as the heroine, Marianne, acts her role and sings her songs with a finesse and vocal power that has made "Lover Come Back to Me" such a popular success, and Charley Boyle, as Alexandre, a bondservant in sympathy with Robert, with Myrtis Crimley, who plays Julie, his sweetheart, are decidedly successful in their comedy.

The cast and ensemble number close to 100. Some of the more familiar songs are "Softly as a Morning Sunrise," "One Kiss," "The Girl on the Prow" and "Stout-hearted Men."

FOLLIES WELL RECEIVED

A new company opened this week at the Follies Theater. "He Happy" is the title of the bill. There are forty young ladies in line and the ensembles, produced by Grover Frankie, are well received. "Be Happy" introduces a number of new players, including Sammie Ward, Eddie Marr, Francis Parks, Lillian Murray, Wanda Devon, William Lilling and Billy Horan.

Noted Actress Rehearses New Starring Role

Mary Boland, noted comedienne and star of "Meet the Wife," "The Cradle Snatchers," "Women Go On Forever" and "Mrs. Cook's Tour," is rehearsing the role of Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane in "Ladies of the Jury," the comedy in which she will appear at El Capitan as guest star, starting Sunday.

In addition to Miss Boland, Henry Duffy has brought three members of the original Broadway cast of "Ladies of the Jury" from New York. Hallie Manning will play her original role of Mayme Mixter, the chorus girl; Marie Hunt will be seen as Mrs. Maguire, and George Farren will play Jay J. Pressley, the foreman of the jury.

William Lloyd will have the role of Judge Fish and others are C. Henry Gordon, Edward Cullen, Frederick Trowbridge, George Guhl, Olive Cooper, Mabel Hicks, Margaret Gillespie and Donald Campbell.

Robert McWade Receives Novel Wire from East

On the opening day of "It Pays to Advertise," Robert McWade, guest star with the Henry Duffy Players at the Hollywood Playhouse, received a wire from Grant Mitchell, who created the role of the son in the New York production of the farce comedy. The noted actor sent McWade the following telegram:

"Dear Dad: I still believe it pays to advertise and I hope 'It Pays to Advertise' still pays. Best wishes. Grant Mitchell."

McWade posted the wire on the callboard of the theater, where it was read with interest by the other members of the company, including Patsy Ruth Miller, Irving Mitchell, Byron Hawkins and Marie Louise Meyers.

PARAMOUNT SIGNS STAR AGAIN

Monte Blue, Joseph Schildkraut Will Play Leads; Donald Crisp to Direct "Cooking Her Goose;" Charles Morton With Noted Comics

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Henceforth Claudette Colbert will be seen and heard exclusively in Paramount Pictures.

CLAUDETTE COLBERT

The young actress yesterday affixed her signature to a long-term contract under the terms of which she joins the ranks of Paramount featured players for several years, according to an announcement made by Jesse L. Lasky.

Miss Colbert made her screen debut in "The Hole in the Wall," one of the early all-talking pictures, following this role with the feminine lead in "The Lady Lies." Before going into pictures, Miss Colbert won an enviable position on the New York stage, beginning a few seasons ago in a small role in "The Wild Westcotts." She appeared afterward in "The Kiss in the Taxi," "The Barker," "Fast Life," "Tin Pan Alley," O'Neill's "Dynamo."

Born in Paris and educated in New York, Miss Colbert speaks English and French perfectly. Her next role, following that opposite Chevalier in "The Big Pond," will be the lead in "Young Man of Manhattan."

POPULAR ACTORS TO PLAY IN "STORM"

When Universal's "The Storm" goes into production under direction of that very excellent guide, William Wyler, it will have in the two principal male roles those two exceedingly well-liked young actors, Monte Blue and Joseph Schildkraut.

MONTE BLUE

No leading lady is yet settled on, but it is quite possible that either Barbara Leonard or Constance Howard will be the heroine. Both are being considered for the role.

"The Storm" was formerly produced by Universal as a silent picture, with House Peters starred. It will now become a talker.

Donald Crisp With R.-K.-O.

Quite cannily, like the good Scotchman that he is, Donald Crisp doesn't let either his acting or his directing talents go begging.

However, for the time being, he is to concentrate on directing. He has been hired by R.-K.-O. to direct "Cooking Her Goose."

And this isn't all. It is understood that later on R.-K.-O. will produce one or more of Rex Beach's stories, and that Crisp will probably direct one of these as well as act a part.

M.-G.-M. Chooses Morton

No matter how funny Polly Moran and Marie Dressler may be, there must be a love interest in their stories.

So Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is providing two charming young people to appear with the comediennes in their next picture. They are Anita Page and Charles Morton. Morton was signed yesterday.

ANITA PAGE

He is of the family of Mortons, noted stage folk for two or three generations back.

The name of the picture is not yet settled upon, but its tentative title is "Margin Muggs." Chuck Reisner is directing.

Phyllis Crane Signed

That pretty little ingenue, Phyllis Crane, who did so nicely in "So This Is College" for M.-G.-M., has just been signed by Warner Brothers for an important role in "Dumb Belles In Ermine," according to the announcement of Daryl Zanuck.

PHYLLIS CRANE

Phyllis first gained prominence on the screen through her outstanding performance as Betty Lee in "Coquette" with Mary Pickford.

"Dumb Belles in Ermine" is adapted from the stage farce, "Weak Sisters." This is Lynn Starling's comedy which was given a favorable reception here.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Is Lead

To Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is falling many a wonderful role these days.

Though still working in First National's "Sin Flood," young Fairbanks has already been cast by that company as leading man opposite Billie Dove in "One Night at Susie's," which John Francis Dillon will direct. The story is adapted from Frederick Hawlitt Brennan's magazine serial.

Gene Markey Goes East

Gene Markey, who is successfully writing original stories, continuity and dialogue, is eastern bound. He stops off in Chicago to visit old literary friends, and from there will go to New York to confer with Paramount heads concerning the production of one of his stories.

LENORE ULRIC TO PLAY HERE

Belasco Will Present "East of Suez" Soon

Waring's Pennsylvanians at Mason in March

Eric Snowden Has Leading Role at Music Box

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

Lenore Ulric, one of the most exotic stars of the American stage, is going to appear at the Belasco Theater in "East of Suez," a Somerset Maugham drama.

The engagement will start immediately following the close of "Journey's End," the English war play, now in its second week.

No definite date has been set inasmuch as "Journey's End" is doing excellent business and probably is in for a run.

This announcement was forthcoming yesterday from the offices of Edward Belasco and Homer Curran and sets to rest any number of rumors as to the incoming attraction.

Miss Ulric has not been seen on the Los Angeles stage since "The Bird of Paradise," at the Mason in October, 1913. Since, until entering pictures a short time ago, she has appeared under the exclusive management of David Belasco, taking part in such things as "The Son Daughter," "Kiki," "The Harem," "Tiger Rose," "Lulu Belle" and "Mima."

The cast for "East of Suez," done originally in London at His Majesty's Theater, is now being assembled.

Waring Show at Mason

A wire from New York yesterday gave the news that Fred Waring, director of Waring's Pennsylvanians, will take over the Mason Opera House for eight weeks or more beginning March 17.

A campus musical show entitled "College Daze" by Pat Ballard, Tom Waring and Charlie Henderson will be presented, in which Waring's Pennsylvanians will be featured.

It is planned to make the production into a motion picture following the engagement. Waring and his assistants will arrive here February 20 to begin rehearsals.

Shakespeare Player at Music Box

In the cast of "So To Bed," James B. Fagan's roguish comedy of the seventeenth century, at the Music Box, is a former Stratford-Upon-Avon player, by name Eric Snowden.

Snowden began his professional career with the Shakespeare players and admits being "up" in twenty-one of Master Will's plays. He came to America with Sir Herbert Tree. For two seasons he was director of the Buffalo Community Theater.

Zelma O'Neal Recuperates

Zelma O'Neal of "Follow Thru," recently at the Mason, is recuperating at the Osteopathic Hospital from an operation for appendicitis. Miss O'Neal had rather a bad time of it. She was ill during the San Francisco engagement of the show and finally, under orders from her physician, started by plane for Hollywood and the hospital. Near Palmdale the plane was forced down by a snowstorm and delayed eight hours. Now she is getting better and hopes soon to report for motion-picture work at Paramount.

Rod La Rocque Plays Villain in 'Locked Door'

"The Locked Door," opening at the United Artists' Theater Saturday, brings Rod La Rocque to the screen in a new role, that of a gentleman villain, and William Boyd, star of the original stage production of "What Price Glory?" Others featured in the all-star cast are Barbara Stanwyck, the star of "The Noose" and "Burlesque."

"New York Nights," Norman Talmadge's first talking picture now at United Artists, will be seen for the last times Friday. The star's audible film debut takes the form of a metropolitan romance with its setting in the glamorous roaring forties district of New York. The name by which this locale is popularly known is Tin Pan Alley.

Gilbert Roland is cast opposite Miss Talmadge in the role of her song-writing husband. Others in the cast are John Wray, Lilyan Tashman, Roscoe Karns and Mary Doran.

Colorful Scene of London Life in Warner Film

A slice of London life, as Barrie might call it, was literally transferred to Los Angeles streets during the filming of "The Sacred Flame," the Warner Brothers production which opens a week's engagement at Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood Friday, with Pauline Frederick in the star role.

The occasion was the filming of a number of scenes outside one of the city's largest churches, and showing guests arriving for a wedding in high society. The streets before the great church were thronged with fashionably dressed women and men, and many others in the brilliant uniforms of various British military units. English bobbies kept the crowds in check and made a pathway for the bridal party.

PALESTRINA CHOIR TO APPEAR TONIGHT

The first public appearance of the Palestrina Choir, led by Thomas Taylor Drill, will take place at the Catholic Women's Club on Menlo avenue tonight.

The choir has been organized to perpetuate the beautiful religious music of the Catholic church and has for its sponsors many prominent in the civic and church life of the community. The Bierlich Trio will assist and well-known singers will be soloists.

FIRST DUAL TALKIE ROLE SCHEDULED

Jack Mulhall Portrays Two Brothers in "Dark Streets" at R.-K.-O.

Another chapter in talking-picture history will be written tomorrow at the R.-K.-O. Theater, it is said, when Jack Mulhall is seen portraying a dual talkie role in the film production, "Dark Streets."

Mulhall plays the parts of two brothers, one a policeman and the other a gangster. While the silent screen presented many dual roles, this is the first time it has been tried in the talkies, it is declared. Lila Lee portrays the leading feminine role.

Today marks the final showing of Vina Delmar's story of youth, "Dance Hall," produced by Radio pictures. It features Olive Borden, Arthur Lake and Joseph Cawthorn.

COMEDY OF MODERN YOUTH PREVIEWED

"Down With Wimmin" Brightly Amusing; Author Has Leading Role

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

Adolescent youth with its lusty bravado and all its subversive concomitants, its tragic fervor, its unconscious humor, has a downright fling in "Down With Wimmin," by Emerson Treacy and Rex Smith, which received its premiere at Pasadena Community Playhouse Monday.

The revolt of the serio-comic moon calves against the domination of the devastating flapper is sketched quite in the mood of modern youth. The intrinsic truth about these embryo men with their pathetic idealism, their emotional complexes, their battles with the sophisticated sisters, is told with sympathy and a naivete.

"Down With Wimmin" is really curiously free from stage affectations. Its approach is casual and so natural and amusing that it is not to be classed with the ultra-collegiate tribe. It rather strikes a nice gait of its own, savoring mainly of prep school. There are some merry moments in the play and the dialogue is well spiced with humor and drollery.

Emerson Treacy of the Duffy Players, one of the co-authors, enacted a leading role with naturalness and sympathy. Ann McKay was quite the modern flapper. Ruth Nelly was prettily competent, Robert Young managed some good comedy and Wilson Whitely pleased with an amusing portrayal.

Fox Palace to Screen Drama of Negro Life

With "Untamed," starring Joan Crawford, ending its engagement today, "Hallelujah," vivid drama of negro life on the cotton plantations of the South, will return tomorrow to the Fox Palace Theater for its second run at that house.

First achieving distinction for his direction in "The Big Parade," King Vidor both wrote the story and directed the filming of "Hallelujah," which features a cast composed entirely of colored players. Daniel Haynes, principal of "Show Boat" and other New York stage productions, is seen in the leading role, Nine Mae McKinney is cast opposite.

Wide Appeal of "Sun Up" Noted

"Sun-Up," now playing at the Vine Street Theater, has a wide emotional scope, it is said, and though the theme and action are provincial, it appeals to all classes and nationalities.

Paris approved it, though Lucille La Verne and her cast spoke English. London kept it running to capacity houses for two years, although it was a complete contrast to British customs and interests. Boston and New York, with their modern civilization, felt the power of its simplicity and directness.

NEW TROUPE AT BURBANK

"Artists and Models," which is now playing at the Burbank Theater, is good burlesque entertainment. The costuming of the ensemble is colorful and the cast of the new company comprises several burlesque stars of the eastern wheels. Beatrice Franklin, new prima donna, offers pleasing selections.

MISS BAIRD PLAYS EXACTING PROGRAM

Former Occidental Girl Returns From Concertising to Win New Plaudits

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Miss Martha Baird, a well-known young pianist, gave a guest recital at Occidental College Music Hall last evening that was attended by a large, distinguished and appreciative audience. Miss Baird is an alumna of this western college and authough her recitals have been chronicled in Europe and Eastern America, this was her first appearance in Southern California I believe.

The program was conventional and demanded much of the pianist. Beginning with Bach, Scarlatti and Brahms; it included the funereal sonata by Chopin and ended with Debussy, Prokofieff and Liszt. Encores generously given, consisted of a Chopin waltz and Percy Grainger's "Shepherds Hey."

Miss Baird is a pianist of hard-won achievement. She has an equipment which many performers might envy. A certain taste and intelligence is apparent and she evidently feels deeply the emotions she endeavors to portray. Three things prevent her from being a highly enjoyable artist: a lack of innate rhythm, an underdeveloped tone sensitivity which allows her to pound, and a lack of freedom which creates dryness in her phrasing. The Bach Chorale and the Chopin B flat minor sonata were the high points of the concert-list.

The new music hall at Occidental is one of the most attractive recital rooms in this vicinity. The acoustics are excellent. It is intimate in size, although it seats several hundred and is decorated in perfect taste for the art which it serves. Occidental is to be congratulated.

Anne Cornwall to Enact Chief Feminine Role

For the chief feminine role in "Give and Take," the farce-comedy which brings Kolb and Dill to the President Sunday, Henry Duffy has engaged Anne Cornwall, well-known film actress. Miss Cornwall played Billie Moore, the heroine, in the Vine-street production of "Broadway" last year, and appeared in New York in "Oh, Look."

"Give and Take" will provide Kolb and Dill with two of the funniest roles of their careers, it is said, the former as John Bauer, the head of a California fruit cannery and the latter as Albert Flower, his foreman and lifelong friend.

"Love Parade" Held Over for Another Week

"The Love Parade" will remain at the Paramount Theater for a second week. This musical romance starring Maurice Chevalier has done such business during the first week that it was necessary to continue it.

The idol of the French stage, Chevalier, has proved the greatest attraction yet to show at the Paramount. Ernest Lubitsch directed. Victor Schertzinger, composer of "Marcheta," composed the music, while the lyrics are by Clifford Grey.

ANNOUNCING

THE world premiere of RICHARD BARTHELMESS in "SON OF THE GODS" at WARNER BROTHERS DOWNTOWN THEATER at Midnite next Saturday night.

Without exception those who have been privileged to preview this remarkable First National Vitaphone talking production, pronounce it the star's greatest characterization, eclipsing even his memorable roles in "Broken Blossoms" and "Tol'able David."

A gorgeous romance, adapted from Rex Beach's best selling novel, "Son of the Gods" is unquestionably the greatest of all Barthelmess pictures.

All seats are reserved at $1.00 and are now on sale at the Warner box offices.
